Dewey Has 'Hot' Wire For Senator

Governor Accuses Him of Discourtesy in His 'Personal Remarks' of Him

Came Thru Press

Invitation Was Indirect, He Says; Has Not Gotten Testimony

New York, March 22 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, charging Sen. Estes Kefauver with making "discourteous personal remarks," has turned down a second invitation to testify before the Senate Crime Committee.

The governor sent a bristling telegram yesterday to Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat who has led the committee in its 10 months of work. Dewey said nothing about appearing before the committee in person.

Kefauver and his colleagues had wanted to hear the governor on alleged gambling at Saratoga Springs, upstate spa and horse racing center, and about the parole of vice lord (Lucky) Luciano, released from prison and later deported.

Replied to First

Dewey had replied to the first invitation to testify by asking the committee to Albany, the state capital, where he has been ill.

Kefauver declined, and at the start of yesterday's final New York session remarked:

"I do not feel that these matters should be settled. And I think it is unfortunate they have been left in the air. Gov. Dewey has not seen fit to come down and give us the information, but we have made a practice of not summoning or commanding or requesting governors to come down."

Noting that the committee will resume Washington hearings today, Kefauver added:

"If Gov. Dewey would like to come to any of those hearings, we would, of course, be very glad to have him with us with reference to these questions and to any others that may come up."

Replies by Wire

Dewey replied by wire, saying:

"I have received through the press an indirect reply to my offer of last Monday to meet with the members of your committee here in Albany.

"I am surprised that you not only declined to extend me the courtesy of a reply, but instead used my wire to you as an excuse this morning for discourteous personal remarks.

"When I received your invitation I assumed that you wished my opinion concerning organized crime, since I spent many years of my life successfully putting top gangsters, racketeers and corrupt politicians in jail.

"I have no information concerning Saratoga prior to 1943, when I took office.

"As to the conditions in Saratoga after the reopening of racing following the war, I have directed my counsel to make a careful study of the testimony before your committee and to report to me. Immediately following the testimony of the state police officers last Friday, my counsel requested your counsel to send him a copy of the testimony and it still has not yet been received.

"As soon as that testimony is received, it will be carefully studied and a full public report will be made upon it by me. I will be only too happy to transmit that report to your committee together with my own comments as to past and future action."

Last week, state police officials testified before the committee that there had been "wide open" gambling, such as roulette, at Saratoga casinos.

After the committee's New York hearings were concluded yesterday, Kefauver told a news conference: "The Saratoga difficulty is still left hanging in the air, but we hope to get all the facts later on."

Moran Resigns New York Post

'Good Will' Giver

John P. Crane, head of New York's Uniformed Firemen's Association, tells the Senate Crime Investigating Committee of his "good will gifts." He said he gave William O'Dwyer $10,000 for his mayoralty campaign and gave O'Dwyer's friend, James Moran, gifts totalling $55,000. He also said he had contributed $3,500 to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's 1948 presidential campaign. (NEA Telephoto)

Bitterly Accuses Impelliteri of Persecuting Him

New York, March 22 (AP)—Water Commissioner James Moran, told by the mayor to quit or face suspension for allegedly taking a $55,000 "good will" gift, today resigned his lifetime $15,000-a-year post.

Moran, along with former Mayor William O'Dwyer, were named to Senate crime probers yesterday as recipients of big cash gifts from John P. Crane, president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association.

Crane said O'Dwyer got $10,000 as "evidence of support" and that Moran was given money so he'd be on "our side." Both had sworn they didn't receive such donations.

Send Resignation

Moran dispatched his resignation from his Brooklyn home a few hours before a noon deadline, set by Mayor Vincent R. Impelliteri in his quit-or-face-removal proceedings ultimatum.

In his letter, Moran bitterly accused Impelliteri of persecuting him politically ever since he was appointed to the post by his old friend, O'Dwyer, shortly before O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico.

Moran said Impelliteri has threatened to abolish the water board, "with particular emphasis upon the undersigned whose only fault has been to say yes when he meat yes and no when he meant no."

"With a stomach that can no longer digest the hypocrisies of so-called 'politicians,'" the letter added, "I hereby tender my resignation."

Crane Gave Testimony

Crane gave his testimony near the close of the sensational Senate hearings which rode rough herd on politicians and racketeers alike.

Crane lost his city firemen's job when he refused to waive immunity before testifying before a New York county grand jury which is investigating the firemen's association, but he has continued as head of the association. City employes are required to sign waivers.

O'Dwyer denied before the Senate crime investigating committee he ever got money from Crane. He said he repeated the denial before the New York county grand jury yesterday.

Crane said:

"I told the mayor at that time that I had promised him the support of the firemen and I offered him evidence of the support in the form of $10,000."

O'Dwyer, who resigned as mayor last year to become U. S. ambassador to Mexico, told newsmen:

"I was asked about that by the grand jury under oath, and I flatly denied it."

Said committee counsel Rudolph Halley: "One man is lying."

The grand jury which questioned O'Dwyer previously quizzed Crane about $135,000 of the association's funds reported missing.

Crane said the $10,000 was to

Cook to Relinquish Local Auto Agency

George B. Cook, operator of the Lincoln-Mercury agency at 301 Broadway, under the title of George B. Cook, Inc., said today that the agency is expected to be under new ownership early next month.

Details of the transfer are not expected to be completed before April 2, and the name of the new owner is not expected to be announced before that time.

The present owner, said he is now unable to devote full time to the agency because of a recent illness.

The property is owned by Mrs. Francis Flynn.

Carroll Denies Bookies Employ 'Come Back' Men

St. Louisan Is Witness Before Senate's Crime Group at Capital

Washington, March 22 (AP)—James J. Carroll, acknowledged "expert" on some phases of horse race betting, told Senate crime investigators today they are wrong if they think big bookies use "come back" men to force down track odds on long shots.

The St. Louis odds maker, who once refused to testify in his home city because TV cameras were trained on the witness chair, talked today after losing another argument over broadcasts.

It was Carroll's chance to escape a threatened contempt charge which carries a possible prison sentence of a year.

But the committee agreed that only Carroll's hands would be shown on the TV screen—a practice that developed at New York hearings where racketeer Frank Costello was the witness. Actually, except for his entry into the hearing room, the TV cameras were not trained upon Carroll

Series of Questions

John Burling, associate committee counsel, took Carroll through a series of questions about the intricacies of the betting industry.

He asked about the activities of Joe Urvanni, a "come back" man who testified previously.

Bridling, Carroll said the committee has a "probably false idea" about comback activities.

Committee members have contended that such operators act for bookies, placing large bets at the tracks at the last moment to drive down the odds on long shots which have been bet on heavily by the bookies' customers.

"That's a sort of second-degree lay-off, isn't it?" Burling asked.

"No, I don't think the question of lay-off enters into it," Carroll replied.

Receives Instructions

Burling said that as he understands it, a comeback man receives instructions to "throw a great deal of money into the machines (pari-mutuel) and distort the odds in the last 60 seconds" before a race.

"That is absolutely false," Carroll snapped.

He added that it "relieved the obligation" of the betting commissioner and also gave him certainty that he would be paid.

Burling mentioned operations he said had been carried on at

Johnston Says There Are Things in Mind Which Cannot Be Revealed

Criticism Grows

Union Leaders Blast Away at Anti-Inflation Machinery

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Mobilization leaders studied today whether to call a full-dress labor-management conference here in a final effort to get the stalled wage control machinery running again.

Industry leaders said it is apparent such a meeting—taking in representatives of unions, management, government and the public—must be called before the crippled Wage Stabilization Board can be revived as a disputes-settling agency.

Eric Johnston, economic stabilization administrator, answered questions on the issue by saying:

"We have some things in mind but we're not ready to discuss them."

Demands Reorganization

Organized labor demands that the nine-member wage board, paralyzed by the walkout of its three labor members, be reorganized to settle labor disputes as well as to fix wage ceilings. Johnston so far has failed to get either labor or management to agree on a compromise. He has proposed an 18-member board of labor, industry and public representatives having limited disputes settlement powers.

Johnston, taking to the radio tonight (CBS, 10:45 p. m., EST), was reported to be planning a strong appeal to labor and industry groups to resolve their differences and settle the disagreement.

Some officials have predicted President Truman will issue an order carrying out Johnston's compromise proposal.

Johnson returned only yesterday from a conference with Mr. Truman in Key West. The ESA administrator said he made a "full report" to the President, but gave no hint whether they had agreed on any course of action.

Bombards Program

Organized labor meantime continued to bombard the anti-inflation program with criticism. CIO Vice President Walter Reuther charged that the anti-inflation machinery was "put together with a shoestring, baling wire and old cheming gum."

Reuther addressed the final session of a two-day rally of 700 union leaders here yesterday. They were called together by the United Labor Policy Committee (ULPC), representing AFL, CIO and major independent unions.

The labor group, besides calling for firmer price controls recommended a new national wage policy.

The ULPC said policies should be written into the Defense Act when it is extended before June 30 which would:

1. "Honor all existing collective bargaining agreements." This would permit present "escalator" wage-increase clauses to run for the life of existing wage contracts.

2. "Protect basic living standards." This was interpreted to mean that the government should permit wages to advance in step with living costs.

3. "Allow for improvements in keeping with technological progress." In other words, earnings should be permitted to rise in proportion to the increase in output per worker.

4. "Permit adjustments to correct hardships, inequities and substandard wage rates."

Rosenberg Refuses To Answer Query

Enters Series of Denials to Testimony Given by Prosecution

New York, March 22 (AP)—A defendant in the atom spy trial refused to answer today when asked whether he ever had belonged to any group which discussed the Soviet Russian system.

The question was put to Julius Rosenberg, 34, an electrical engineer, by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman.

Other witnesses have testified that Rosenberg was a Communist. He is on trial with his wife, Ethel, 35, and his City College classmate, Morton Sobell, 33, a radar expert, on charges of war-time atomic espionage for Soviet Russia. If convicted, all three could be given the death penalty.

Kaufman Asks Question

Judge Kaufman broke in with his question after Rosenberg said his allegiance was to the United States and that he would fight for this country in a war with any other country. He also testified he had discussed with friends the merits of various economic and political systems.

"Did you ever belong to any group that discussed the system in Soviet Russia?" the judge asked.

"I feel at this time I must decline to answer a question that might tend to incriminate me," Rosenberg replied haltingly.

'Oho!' Says Judge

"Oho!" Judge Kaufman said, and then asked whether Rosenberg was referring to a particular group or party.

"I refer to membership in any

Sheehan Fund To Be Presented

Brief Ceremony Is Planned Friday; Veteran Died in '49

Long-awaited Veterans Administration funds to finance the house that was equipped for totally disabled veteran Harold J. Sheehan are scheduled to be turned over to the veteran's widow with brief ceremony Friday noon.

At the same time, the balance of the Sheehan Home Fund, collected by popular subscription locally will be presented to Mrs. Sheehan by Charles H. Gaffney fund chairman.

The presentations will be made at the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston. A representative of Veterans Administration, Fund Chairman Gaffney, and Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, are expected to be present.

Totally Disabled

Sheehan, a former salesman widely known in this area, was totally disabled from an injury he sustained while on active combat duty in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Theatre of Operations during World War 2. He died in December, 1949, after a house had been purchased for him and his family at 12 Washington avenue and remodeled for his use.

A committee of local residents was formed in the latter part of 1948 to assist in procuring adequate living quarters for the veteran. Gaffney was named chairman and Edward H. Remmert,

Encircling Fire Hits Americans After Trap Is Sprung

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—An American tank-infantry patrol with mine-hunting engineers today shot its way out of a Communist ambush less than three miles from the Red Korean border.

The tanks were moving up one side of the Pukhan river north of Chunchon and the infantry were plodding along the opposite bank when the Reds opened fire.

From high ground they poured machine-gun, rifle and mortar fire on all sides of the patrol.

"They let us walk into the trap and then they sprang it," said Cpl. Charley Hamilton, Virginia City, Va. "Our tanks opened up on the hillside with everything they had, but it didn't stop the Chinese.

"Enemy fire was all around us everywhere we turned. We finally scrambled across to the tanks and they kept the Chinese down on one side while we moved out."

The tanks pulled back to Chunchon, carrying the wounded.

Dig In in West

But in the west, the Reds appeared to be digging in for a desperate stand in South Korea.

Field dispatces said some 60,000 Communist troops manned western defense positions in depth for 15 miles south of the border. These included two divisions of the Chinese Third Field Army, idle since the Hungnam action in December.

East of Chunchon, occupied Wednesday without a fight, South Korean troops finished wiping out 4,400 Reds of the Red Korean 10th Division which had slipped behind allied lines in January.

Only about 300 remained of that unit, which had been hacked to pieces by U. S. planes and artillery.

Eighth Army headquarters reported 1,500 Reds killed or wounded in ground action Wednesday.

179,000 Casualties

This brought to about 179,000 the total Communist casualties since the allied offensive began Jan. 25.

Blaze in Sawdust Spreads Rapidly Over Lumberyard

Four Volunteer Companies Fight Stubborn Fire at Kerhonkson Wednesday

Fire which broke out about 1:20 p. m. Wednesday badly damaged the main building of the Edwin Schwab lumber company near Kerhonkson and destroyed 100,000 feet of hard maple intended for a government contract.

Fire companies from Kerhonkson, Stone Ridge, High Falls and Accord were unable to gain much headway against the flames, which spread rapidly after hitting sawdust in the building, a fireman said. A nearby structure containing drying kilns was saved.

Kerhonkson Fire Chief Stanley Decker was at the scene of the fire this morning and had not released any information as to the probable cause of the fire.

Couldn't Locate Source

First firemen to arrive said the fire apparently started between the walls near the center of the building. A workman said a smell of smoke was detected about an hour before the fire broke out, but attempts to locate the source were unsuccessful.

Kerhonkson firemen were summoned at 1:20 p. m. Chief Decker ordered a call for assistance from mutual aid placed through the Central fire station in Kingston

Wicks-Mailler Bribe Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The maximum prison term for anyone convicted of bribing or attempting to bribe an athlete has been increased from five to 10 years.

Signing a bill last night to double the penalty, Governor Dewey described bribery or attempted bribery of sporting events as "a shameful, evil thing."

It was introduced in the Legislature by the Republican majority leaders, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman Lee B. Mailler.

The new law does not affect the maximum $10,000 fine for bribers.

The heavier prison penalty was requested by Dewey Feb. 20, after several college basketball players in New York city were arrested on charges of accepting bribes to "dump" games.

The measure covers bribing of professional and amateur athletes, jockeys and other race track employes.

Cigarette Tax Deductions Are in 'Yes' and 'No' Stage

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The answer to whether a smoker can get away with deducting state cigarette taxes on his federal income tax return seems to be maybe yes and maybe no—with the odds resting on no.

With the Internal Revenue Bureau solidly on the no side, there seemed to be almost no question about it up to four months ago. Then the U. S. Tax Court said the answer could be yes—in states where the tax was applied a certain way.

The Tax Court's ruling, in general terms, allowed deduction of state taxes that were "separately stated" and passed on to the cigarette buyer. It gave Oklahoma's tax specific approval in this respect.

Ever since then, taxpayers in various states have been asking whether this gave them a new deduction right, but no definite answer has been forthcoming although the 1950 income tax deadline has come and gone in the interim.

The Tax Court's ruling has had no more effect thus far than to uphold Williard I. Thompson, of Oklahoma City, in taking a $39 deduction for cigarette taxes on his 1947 income tax return. Thompson, a cement finisher, argued his own case in the Tax Court.

Internal Revenue Commissioner George J. Schoeneman and his legal staff still haven't decided whether the bureau will "acquiesce" in the ruling or appeal it to a U. C. Circuit Court in a try at getting the Tax Court reversed.

Every two weeks the bureau lists cases in which it has or has

Collazo Loses Plea

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Oscar Collazo today lost his plea for a new trial and will be sentenced to death April 6 for his part in the Nov. 1 shooting in front of President Truman's Blair House residence. In denying a defense motion for a new trial, U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough banged his hand on the bench for emphasis and said: "If ever a human being on the face of the earth had a fair trial, this defendant did."

AFL Asks Crane Resign Office

President Gives Him Until Friday Noon or Be Ousted

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The AFL International Association of Fire Fighters today demanded the resignation as a vice president of John P. Crane, who figured in the Senate crime investigation.

Crane testified before the committee in New York yesterday that he had made a political contribution to former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York in October, 1949.

He said the money was given to O'Dwyer as evidence of the firemen's support for O'Dwyer's reelection.

O'Dwyer previously had denied to the committee that he had received such a contribution. The ex-mayor also said he had repeated the denial to a New York grand jury yesterday.

Redmond Sends Wire

President John P. Redmond of the International Association of Fire Fighters gave Crane until noon tomorrow to resign as vice president in charge of the New York city district.

Redmond said in a telegram to Crane:

"Your actions have been detrimental to the best interests of our association and the fire fighters everywhere.

"If I do not have your resignation prior to the time mentioned, I shall proceed in accordance with the constitution and by-laws to suspend you from office."

House Committee Sets Aside Its Probe Into Film Affairs

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today put aside its budding Communist-in-Hollywood investigation until after Easter, when it expects to unearth more facts about infiltration of the film colony.

In a drama-packed hearing yesterday, handsome Larry Parks, star of the movie "The Jolson Story," admitted he joined the Communist party 10 years ago in an idealistic search that "didn't work out." He quit the party in 1945, he said, when his interest "just petered out." Beyond that, he had little to tell.

But two other film figures faced possible contempt citations for refusal to answer questions about communism in an uproarous finale to the all-day session.

They were Academy Award winner Gale Sondergaard and actor Howard Da Silva.

Da Silva was partially successful in out-shouting members and drowning out the pounding of the chairman's gavel with criticism of the committee.

Miss Sondergaard, whose husband, Herbert Biberman, recently completed a jail term for contempt of the committee in 1947, was more sedate but equally adamant in her refusal to be "tied in" with groups the committee asked her about.

Chairman Wood (D.-Ga.) said it was "probable" the committee would consider contempt charges against the pair.

Committee members, however, had mostly approval for the affable and smiling Parks, who said he thought his career was "ruined" by his testimony.

"I hope he has the best box office he has ever had," Rep. Potter (R.-Mich.) said of the Kansas-born actor who told the committee "The only loyalty I know is to America."

Cook Faces New Trial

El Centro, Calif., March 22 (AP)—William E. Cook, Jr., has one chance of beating his 300-year murder sentence—quick death in California's gas chamber. The 300-year sentence was meted out yesterday in Oklahoma City by Federal Judge Stephen S. Chandler, who found the 23-year-old killer did not have "sufficient mental capacity to commit a crime warranting the death penalty." Immediately District Attorney Don Bitler here announced the Justice Department in Washington had authorized Cook's removal to California to face murder and kidnaping charges.

No Hearing Planned

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today the Senate Crime Investigating Committee will hold no hearing tomorrow, in observance of Good Friday. The committee plans to resume its sessions Saturday morning.

John Burling, associate committee counsel, took Carroll through a series of questions about the intricacies of the betting industry.

He asked about the activities of Joe Urvanni, a "come back" man who testified previously.

Bridling, Carroll said the committee has a "probably false idea" about comback activities.

Committee members have contended that such operators act for bookies, placing large bets at the tracks at the last moment to drive down the odds on long shots which have been bet on heavily by the bookies' customers.

"That's a sort of second-degree lay-off, isn't it?" Burling asked.

"No, I don't think the question of lay-off enters into it," Carroll replied.

Receives Instructions

Burling said that as he understands it, a comeback man receives instructions to "throw a great deal of money into the machines (pari-mutuel) and distort the odds in the last 60 seconds" before a race.

"That is absolutely false," Carroll snapped.

He added that it "relieved the obligation" of the betting commissioner and also gave him certainty that he would be paid.

Burling mentioned operations he said had been carried on at

Johnston Says There Are Things in Mind Which Cannot Be Revealed

Criticism Grows

Union Leaders Blast Away at Anti-Inflation Machinery

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Mobilization leaders studied today whether to call a full-dress labor-management conference here in a final effort to get the stalled wage control machinery running again.

Industry leaders said it is apparent such a meeting—taking in representatives of unions, management, government and the public—must be called before the crippled Wage Stabilization Board can be revived as a disputes-settling agency.

Eric Johnston, economic stabilization administrator, answered questions on the issue by saying:

Demands Reorganization

Organized labor demands that the nine-member wage board, paralyzed by the walkout of its three labor members, be reorganized to settle labor disputes as well as to fix wage ceilings. Johnston so far has failed to get either labor or management to agree on a compromise. He has proposed an 18-member board of labor, industry and public representatives having limited disputes settlement powers.

Johnston, taking to the radio tonight (CBS, 10:45 p. m., EST), was reported to be planning a strong appeal to labor and industry groups to resolve their differences and settle the disagreement.

Some officials have predicted President Truman will issue an order carrying out Johnston's compromise proposal.

Johnson returned only yesterday from a conference with Mr. Truman in Key West. The ESA administrator said he made a "full report" to the President, but gave no hint whether they had agreed on any course of action.

Bombards Program

Organized labor meantime continued to bombard the anti-inflation program with criticism. CIO Vice President Walter Reuther charged that the anti-inflation machinery was "put together with a shoestring, baling wire and old cheming gum."

Reuther addressed the final session of a two-day rally of 700 union leaders here yesterday. They were called together by the United Labor Policy Committee (ULPC), representing AFL, CIO and major independent unions.

The labor group, besides calling for firmer price controls recommended a new national wage policy.

The ULPC said policies should be written into the Defense Act when it is extended before June 30 which would:

1. "Honor all existing collective bargaining agreements." This would permit present "escalator" wage-increase clauses to run for the life of existing wage contracts.

2. "Protect basic living standards." This was interpreted to mean that the government should permit wages to advance in step with living costs.

3. "Allow for improvements in keeping with technological progress." In other words, earnings should be permitted to rise in proportion to the increase in output per worker.

4. "Permit adjustments to correct hardships, inequities and substandard wage rates."

Tank-Infantry Patrol Shoots Way Out of Red Chinese Trap

Enters Series of Denials to Testimony Given by Prosecution

New York, March 22 (AP)—A defendant in the atom spy trial refused to answer today when asked whether he ever had belonged to any group which discussed the Soviet Russian system.

The question was put to Julius Rosenberg, 34, an electrical engineer, by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman.

Other witnesses have testified that Rosenberg was a Communist. He is on trial with his wife, Ethel, 35, and his City College classmate, Morton Sobell, 33, a radar expert, on charges of war-time atomic espionage for Soviet Russia. If convicted, all three could be given the death penalty.

Kaufman Asks Question

Judge Kaufman broke in with his question after Rosenberg said his allegiance was to the United States and that he would fight for this country in a war with any other country. He also testified he had discussed with friends the merits of various economic and political systems.

"Did you ever belong to any group that discussed the system in Soviet Russia?" the judge asked.

"I feel at this time I must decline to answer a question that might tend to incriminate me," Rosenberg replied haltingly.

Encircling Fire Hits Americans After Trap Is Sprung

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—An American tank-infantry patrol with mine-hunting engineers today shot its way out of a Communist ambush less than three miles from the Red Korean border.

The tanks were moving up one side of the Pukhan river north of Chunchon and the infantry were plodding along the opposite bank when the Reds opened fire.

From high ground they poured machine-gun, rifle and mortar fire on all sides of the patrol.

"They let us walk into the trap and then they sprang it," said Cpl. Charley Hamilton, Virginia City, Va. "Our tanks opened up on the hillside with everything they had, but it didn't stop the Chinese.

"Enemy fire was all around us everywhere we turned. We finally scrambled across to the tanks and they kept the Chinese down on one side while we moved out."

The tanks pulled back to Chunchon, carrying the wounded.

Dig In in West

But in the west, the Reds appeared to be digging in for a desperate stand in South Korea.

Field dispatces said some 60,000 Communist troops manned western defense positions in depth for 15 miles south of the border. These included two divisions of the Chinese Third Field Army, idle since the Hungnam action in December.

East of Chunchon, occupied Wednesday without a fight, South Korean troops finished wiping out 4,400 Reds of the Red Korean 10th Division which had slipped behind allied lines in January.

Only about 300 remained of that unit, which had been hacked to pieces by U. S. planes and artillery.

Eighth Army headquarters reported 1,500 Reds killed or wounded in ground action Wednesday.

179,000 Casualties

This brought to about 179,000 the total Communist casualties since the allied offensive began Jan. 25.

South Korean troops were eight and one-half miles south of the Parallel in eastern Korea.

Four Volunteer Companies Fight Stubborn Fire at Kerhonkson Wednesday

Fire which broke out about 1:20 p. m. Wednesday badly damaged the main building of the Edwin Schwab lumber company near Kerhonkson and destroyed 100,000 feet of hard maple intended for a government contract.

Fire companies from Kerhonkson, Stone Ridge, High Falls and Accord were unable to gain much headway against the flames, which spread rapidly after hitting sawdust in the building, a fireman said. A nearby structure containing drying kilns was saved.

Kerhonkson Fire Chief Stanley Decker was at the scene of the fire this morning and had not released any information as to the probable cause of the fire.

Couldn't Locate Source

First firemen to arrive said the fire apparently started between the walls near the center of the building. A workman said a smell of smoke was detected about an hour before the fire broke out, but attempts to locate the source were unsuccessful.

Kerhonkson firemen were summoned at 1:20 p. m. Chief Decker ordered a call for assistance from mutual aid placed through the Central fire station in Kingston

Wicks-Mailler Bribe Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The maximum prison term for anyone convicted of bribing or attempting to bribe an athlete has been increased from five to 10 years.

Signing a bill last night to double the penalty, Governor Dewey described bribery or attempted bribery of sporting events as "a shameful, evil thing."

It was introduced in the Legislature by the Republican majority leaders, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman Lee B. Mailler.

The new law does not affect the maximum $10,000 fine for bribers.

The heavier prison penalty was requested by Dewey Feb. 20, after several college basketball players in New York city were arrested on charges of accepting bribes to "dump" games.

The measure covers bribing of professional and amateur athletes, jockeys and other race track employes.

AFL Asks Crane Resign Office

President Gives Him Until Friday Noon or Be Ousted

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The AFL International Association of Fire Fighters today demanded the resignation as a vice president of John P. Crane, who figured in the Senate crime investigation.

Crane testified before the committee in New York yesterday that he had made a political contribution to former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York in October, 1949.

He said the money was given to O'Dwyer as evidence of the firemen's support for O'Dwyer's re-election.

O'Dwyer previously had denied to the committee that he had received such a contribution. The ex-mayor also said he had repeated the denial to a New York grand jury yesterday.

Redmond Sends Wire

President John P. Redmond of the International Association of Fire Fighters gave Crane until noon tomorrow to resign as vice president in charge of the New York city district.

Redmond said in a telegram to Crane:

"Your actions have been detrimental to the best interests of our association and the fire fighters everywhere.

"If I do not have your resignation prior to the time mentioned, I shall proceed in accordance with the constitution and by-laws to suspend you from office."

Sheehan Fund To Be Presented

Brief Ceremony Is Planned Friday; Veteran Died in '49

Long-awaited Veterans Administration funds to finance the house that was equipped for totally disabled veteran Harold J. Sheehan are scheduled to be turned over to the veteran's widow with brief ceremony Friday noon.

At the same time, the balance of the Sheehan Home Fund, collected by popular subscription locally will be presented to Mrs. Sheehan by Charles H. Gaffney fund chairman.

The presentations will be made at the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston. A representative of Veterans Administration, Fund Chairman Gaffney, and Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, are expected to be present.

Totally Disabled

Sheehan, a former salesman widely known in this area, was totally disabled from an injury he sustained while on active combat duty in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Theatre of Operations during World War 2. He died in December, 1949, after a house had been purchased for him and his family at 12 Washington avenue and remodeled for his use.

A committee of local residents was formed in the latter part of 1948 to assist in procuring adequate living quarters for the veteran. Gaffney was named chairman and Edward H. Remmert,

Cigarette Tax Deductions Are in 'Yes' and 'No' Stage

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The answer to whether a smoker can get away with deducting state cigarette taxes on his federal income tax return seems to be maybe yes and maybe no—with the odds resting on no.

With the Internal Revenue Bureau solidly on the no side, there seemed to be almost no question about it up to four months ago. Then the U. S. Tax Court said the answer could be yes—in states where the tax was applied a certain way.

The Tax Court's ruling, in general terms, allowed deduction of state taxes that were "separately stated" and passed on to the cigarette buyer. It gave Oklahoma's tax specific approval in this respect.

Ever since then, taxpayers in various states have been asking whether this gave them a new deduction right, but no definite answer has been forthcoming although the 1950 income tax deadline has come and gone in the interim.

The Tax Court's ruling has had no more effect thus far than to uphold Williard I. Thompson, of Oklahoma City, in taking a $39 deduction for cigarette taxes on his 1947 income tax return. Thompson, a cement finisher, argued his own case in the Tax Court.

Internal Revenue Commissioner George J. Schoeneman and his legal staff still haven't decided whether the bureau will "acquiesce" in the ruling or appeal it to a U. C. Circuit Court in a try at getting the Tax Court reversed.

Every two weeks the bureau lists cases in which it has or has

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Oscar Collazo today lost his plea for a new trial and will be sentenced to death April 6 for his part in the Nov. 1 shooting in front of President Truman's Blair House residence. Alan Goldsborough banged his hand on the bench for emphasis and said: "If ever a human being on the face of the earth had a fair trial, this defendant did."

House Committee Sets Aside Its Probe Into Film Affairs

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today put aside its budding Communist-in-Hollywood investigation until after Easter, when it expects to unearth more facts about infiltration of the film colony.

In a drama-packed hearing yesterday, handsome Larry Parks, star of the movie "The Jolson Story," admitted he joined the Communist party 10 years ago in an idealistic search that "didn't work out." He quit the party in 1945, he said, when his interest "just petered out." Beyond that, he had little to tell.

But two other film figures faced possible contempt citations for refusal to answer questions about communism in an uproarous finale to the all-day session.

They were Academy Award winner Gale Sondergaard and actor Howard Da Silva.

Da Silva was partially successful in out-shouting members and drowning out the pounding of the chairman's gavel with criticism of the committee.

Miss Sondergaard, whose husband, Herbert Biberman, recently completed a jail term for contempt of the committee in 1947, was more sedate but equally adamant in her refusal to be "tied in" with groups the committee asked her about.

Chairman Wood (D.-Ga.) said it was "probable" the committee would consider contempt charges against the pair.

Committee members, however, had mostly approval for the affable and smiling Parks, who said he thought his career was "ruined" by his testimony.

"I hope he has the best box office he has ever had," Rep. Potter (R.-Mich.) said of the Kansas-born actor who told the committee "The only loyalty I know is to America."

Cook Faces New Trial

El Centro, Calif., March 22 (AP)—William E. Cook, Jr., has one chance of beating his 300-year murder sentence—quick death in California's gas chamber. The 300-year sentence was meted out yesterday in Oklahoma City by Federal Judge Stephen S. Immediately District Attorney Don Bitler here announced the Justice Department in Washington had authorized Cook's removal to California to face murder and kidnaping charges.

Moran Resigns New York Post

'Good Will' Giver

John P. Crane, head of New York's Uniformed Firemen's Association, tells the Senate Crime Investigating Committee of his "good will gifts." He said he gave William O'Dwyer $10,000 for his mayoralty campaign and gave O'Dwyer's friend, James Moran, gifts totalling $55,000. He also said he had contributed $3,500 to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's 1948 presidential campaign. (NEA Telephoto)

Bitterly Accuses Impelliteri of Persecuting Him

New York, March 22 (AP)—Water Commissioner James Moran, told by the mayor to quit or face suspension for allegedly taking a $55,000 "good will" gift, today resigned his lifetime $15,000-a-year post.

Moran, along with former Mayor William O'Dwyer, were named to Senate crime probers yesterday as recipients of big cash gifts from John P. Crane, president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association.

Crane said O'Dwyer got $10,000 as "evidence of support" and that Moran was given money so he'd be on "our side." Both had sworn they didn't receive such donations.

Send Resignation

Moran dispatched his resignation from his Brooklyn home a few hours before a noon deadline, set by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri in his quit-or-face-removal proceedings ultimatum.

In his letter, Moran bitterly accused Impellitteri of persecuting him politically ever since he was appointed to the post by his old friend, O'Dwyer, shortly before O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico.

Moran said Impellitteri has threatened to abolish the water board, "with particular emphasis upon the undersigned whose only fault has been to say yes when he meat yes and no when he meant no."

"With a stomach that can no longer digest the hypocrisies of so-called 'politicians,'" the letter added, "I hereby tender my resignation."

Crane Gave Testimony

Crane gave his testimony near the close of the sensational Senate hearings which rode rough herd on politicians and racketeers alike.

Crane lost his city firemen's job when he refused to waive immunity before testifying before a New York county grand jury which is investigating the firemen's association, but he has continued as head of the association. City employes are required to sign waivers.

O'Dwyer denied before the Senate crime investigating committee he ever got money from Crane. He said he repeated the denial before the New York county grand jury yesterday.

Crane said:

"I told the mayor at that time that I had promised him the support of the firemen and I offered him evidence of the support in the form of $10,000."

O'Dwyer, who resigned as mayor last year to become U. S. ambassador to Mexico, told newsmen:

"I was asked about that by the grand jury under oath, and I flatly denied it."

Said committee counsel Rudolph Halley: "One man is lying."

The grand jury which questioned O'Dwyer previously quizzed Crane about $135,000 of the association's funds reported missing.

Crane said the $10,000 was to

George B. Cook, operator of the Lincoln-Mercury agency at 301 Broadway, under the title of George B. Cook, Inc., said today that the agency is expected to be under new ownership early next month.

Details of the transfer are not expected to be completed before April 2, and the name of the new owner is not expected to be announced before that time.

The present owner, said he is now unable to devote full time to the agency because of a recent illness.

The property is owned by Mrs. Francis Flynn.

St. Louisan Is Witness Before Senate's Crime Group at Capital

Washington, March 22 (AP)—James J. Carroll, acknowledged "expert" on some phases of horse race betting, told Senate crime investigators today they are wrong if they think big bookies use "come back" men to force down track odds on long shots.

The St. Louis odds maker, who once refused to testify in his home city because TV cameras were trained on the witness chair, talked today after losing another argument over broadcasts.

It was Carroll's chance to escape a threatened contempt charge which carries a possible prison sentence of a year.

But the committee agreed that only Carroll's hands would be shown on the TV screen—a practice that developed at New York hearings where racketeer Frank Costello was the witness. Actually, except for his entry into the hearing room, the TV cameras were not trained upon Carroll

Sheehan Fund To Be Presented

Brief Ceremony Is Planned Friday; Veteran Died in '49

Long-awaited Veterans Administration funds to finance the house that was equipped for totally disabled veteran Harold J. Sheehan are scheduled to be turned over to the veteran's widow with brief ceremony Friday noon.

At the same time, the balance of the Sheehan Home Fund, collected by popular subscription locally will be presented to Mrs. Sheehan by Charles H. Gaffney fund chairman.

The presentations will be made at the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston. A representative of Veterans Administration, Fund Chairman Gaffney, and Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, are expected to be present.

Totally Disabled

Sheehan, a former salesman widely known in this area, was totally disabled from an injury he sustained while on active combat duty in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Theatre of Operations during World War 2. He died in December, 1949, after a house had been purchased for him and his family at 12 Washington avenue and remodeled for his use.

Cigarette Tax Deductions Are in 'Yes' and 'No' Stage

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The answer to whether a smoker can get away with deducting state cigarette taxes on his federal income tax return seems to be maybe yes and maybe no—with the odds resting on no.

With the Internal Revenue Bureau solidly on the no side, there seemed to be almost no question about it up to four months ago. Then the U. S. Tax Court said the answer could be yes—in states where the tax was applied a certain way.

The Tax Court's ruling, in general terms, allowed deduction of state taxes that were "separately stated" and passed on to the cigarette buyer. It gave Oklahoma's tax specific approval in this respect.

Ever since then, taxpayers in various states have been asking whether this gave them a new deduction right, but no definite answer has been forthcoming although the 1950 income tax deadline has come and gone in the interim.

The Tax Court's ruling has had no more effect thus far than to uphold Williard I. Thompson, of Oklahoma City, in taking a $39 deduction for cigarette taxes on his 1947 income tax return. Thompson, a cement finisher, argued his own case in the Tax Court.

Internal Revenue Commissioner George J. Schoeneman and his legal staff still haven't decided whether the bureau will "acquiesce" in the ruling or appeal it to a U. C. Circuit Court in a try at getting the Tax Court reversed.

Every two weeks the bureau lists cases in which it has or has

Dewey Has 'Hot' Wire For Senator

Came Thru Press

Invitation Was Indirect, He Says; Has Not Gotten Testimony

New York, March 22 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, charging Sen. Estes Kefauver with making "discourteous personal remarks," has turned down a second invitation to testify before the Senate Crime Committee.

The governor sent a bristling telegram yesterday to Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat who has led the committee in its 10 months of work. Dewey said nothing about appearing before the committee in person.

Kefauver and his colleagues had wanted to hear the governor on alleged gambling at Saratoga Springs, upstate spa and horse racing center, and about the parole of vice lord (Lucky) Luciano, released from prison and later deported.

Replied to First

Dewey had replied to the first invitation to testify by asking the committee to Albany, the state capital, where he has been ill.

Kefauver declined, and at the start of yesterday's final New York session remarked:

"I do not feel that these matters should be settled. And I think it is unfortunate they have been left in the air. Gov. Dewey has not seen fit to come down and give us the information, but we have made a practice of not summoning or commanding or requesting governors to come down."

Noting that the committee will resume Washington hearings today, Kefauver added:

"If Gov. Dewey would like to come to any of those hearings, we would, of course, be very glad to have him with us with reference to these questions and to any others that may come up."

Replies by Wire

Dewey replied by wire, saying:

"I have received through the press an indirect reply to my offer of last Monday to meet with the members of your committee here in Albany.

"I am surprised that you not only declined to extend me the courtesy of a reply, but instead used my wire to you as an excuse this morning for discourteous personal remarks.

"When I received your invitation I assumed that you wished my opinion concerning organized crime, since I spent many years of my life successfully putting top gangsters, racketeers and corrupt politicians in jail.

"I have no information concerning Saratoga prior to 1943, when I took office.

"As to the conditions in Saratoga after the reopening of racing following the war, I have directed my counsel to make a careful study of the testimony before your committee and to report to me. Immediately following the testimony of the state police officers last Friday, my counsel requested your counsel to send him a copy of the testimony and it still has not yet been received.

"As soon as that testimony is received, it will be carefully studied and a full public report will be made upon it by me. I will be only too happy to transmit that report to your committee together with my own comments as to past and future action."

Last week, state police officials testified before the committee that there had been "wide open" gambling, such as roulette, at Saratoga casinos.

After the committee's New York hearings were concluded yesterday, Kefauver told a news conference: "The Saratoga difficulty is still left hanging in the air, but we hope to get all the facts later on."

Collazo Loses Plea

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Oscar Collazo today lost his plea for a new trial and will be sentenced to death April 6 for his part in the Nov. 1 shooting in front of President Truman's Blair House residence. In denying a defense motion for a new trial, U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough banged his hand on the bench for emphasis and said: "If ever a human being on the face of the earth had a fair trial, this defendant did."

Total debt $254,906,499,475.96. Decrease under previous day $49,131,215.23. Gold assets $21,856,821,757.07.

Newkirk to Make Bid for 1952 State Bowling Feature

Mayor Will Go to Elmira April 20 to Back Efforts of Local Interests

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today that he would go to Elmira April 20 in support of efforts by the Kingston Bowling Association, Chamber of Commerce and local business men to obtain the state men's bowling tournament for Kingston in 1952.

The mayor in 1950 invited the New York State Men's Bowling Association to come to this city next year and invitations were extended by the local bowling asso-

AFL Asks Crane Resign Office

President Gives Him Until Friday Noon or Be Ousted

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The AFL International Association of Fire Fighters today demanded the resignation as a vice president of John P. Crane, who figured in the Senate crime investigation.

Crane testified before the committee in New York yesterday that he had made a political contribution to former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York in October, 1949.

He said the money was given to O'Dwyer as evidence of the firemen's support for O'Dwyer's reelection.

O'Dwyer previously had denied to the committee that he had received such a contribution. The ex-mayor also said he had repeated the denial to a New York grand jury yesterday.

Redmond Sends Wire

President John P. Redmond of the International Association of Fire Fighters gave Crane until noon tomorrow to resign as vice president in charge of the New York city district.

Redmond said in a telegram to Crane:

"Your actions have been detrimental to the best interests of our association and the fire fighters everywhere.

"If I do not have your resignation prior to the time mentioned, I shall proceed in accordance with the constitution and by-laws to suspend you from office."

House Committee Sets Aside Its Probe Into Film Affairs

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today put aside its budding Communist-in-Hollywood investigation until after Easter, when it expects to unearth more facts about infiltration of the film colony.

In a drama-packed hearing yesterday, handsome Larry Parks, star of the movie "The Jolson Story," admitted he joined the Communist party 10 years ago in an idealistic search that "didn't work out." He quit the party in 1945, he said, when his interest "just petered out." Beyond that, he had little to tell.

But two other film figures faced possible contempt citations for refusal to answer questions about communism in an uproarous finale to the all-day session.

They were Academy Award winner Gale Sondergaard and actor Howard Da Silva.

Da Silva was partially successful in out-shouting members and drowning out the pounding of the chairman's gavel with criticism of the committee.

Miss Sondergaard, whose husband, Herbert Biberman, recently completed a jail term for contempt of the committee in 1947, was more sedate but equally adamant in her refusal to be "tied in" with groups the committee asked her about.

Chairman Wood (D.-Ga.) said it was "probable" the committee would consider contempt charges against the pair.

Committee members, however, had mostly approval for the affable and smiling Parks, who said he thought his career was "ruined" by his testimony.

"I hope he has the best box office he has ever had," Rep. Potter (R.-Mich.) said of the Kansas-born actor who told the committee "The only loyalty I know is to America."

IRAN'S SEIZURE OF OIL FIELDS

It would be idle to pretend that Iran's action in taking over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. is not a setback for the West. But its affect is not likely to be as immediate as some statesmen fear.

Under British management a high percentage of the oil produced was shipped out to Europe and the United States. This country got about forty per cent of total output. Some was allotted to Iran for its own use.

With the fields and refineries nationalized, the Iranian government may wish to set aside a larger share of production for use within the country. But it cannot possibly utilize the full output of Anglo-Iranian.

The government unquestionably will want to dispose of the big surplus beyond its own needs. It will be greatly interested in the revenue to be gained. But who is to buy and how is the oil to be transported to market?

Iran has no tanker fleet of its own and thus cannot carry the oil to European and other overseas markets. Without a substantial foreign loan, it could not acquire such a fleet even in a few years' time.

The thought occurring naturally to most of us is: Why can't she sell to Russia? Everybody knows Russia would welcome more oil, would love nothing better than to dominate the whole oil-rich Middle East.

Undoubtedly Iran can sell some oil to the Soviet Union. But again, the limit is transport. Iran has few railroad tank cars. And no pipeline runs from Anglo-Iran's refineries northward to Russia's borders. Engineers are emphatic in saying none could be built in less than two or three years. The U. S., with steel plentiful, required three years to build a 1,000-mile line across the flat Arabian desert.

These are hard facts from which there is no escape. No matter what may be the wishes of Iran's government, it must face them.

Consequently, for the immediate future the prospects are good that the oil will continue to go to present customers. Britain and the U. S. have the tanker fleet to take it from Iran's shores, and it goes without saying that they still want the oil.

Britain is, of course, gravely upset at Iran's expropriation of the oil properties and is protesting the action is illegal. Yet it is hard to see what she can do about it. In the end, some practical settlement which accepts the fact of Iranian control would seem to be indicated.

If that arrangement is sensible enough, it may yet be possible to keep the bulk of this oil out of Russian hands indefinitely. If it is not, then Iran's seizure of British properties may have to be viewed as the point where the West's fortunes in the Middle East took a serious downturn.

SUGGESTED NEW PARTY

The working alliance in Congress between the conservative Republicans and the Dixiecrats will lead to a marriage if Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota has his way. He proposes that the Republicans, who generally hold their nominating convention before the Democrats, should wait till later in 1952. He supposes that the Democrats will nominate a Fair Dealer, President Truman or some one else, and that the Dixiecrats will bolt as they did in 1948. Then, he proposes the Republicans should nominate whom the Southerners would approve, perhaps Senator Harry S. Byrd of Virginia, and the coalition should start out under a new name. "The Freedom Party" is Mundt's suggestion.

Mundt is trying to make it easier for the Dixiecrats to join a party whose name has long been anathema in the South. Change the name, he says, and the break will not be hard. On the other hand, he forgets that many voters elsewhere have a tradition of voting the Republican ticket, no matter what stand it takes. If they do not find the Republican name on the ballot, there is no telling how they might vote.

A less theoretical objection is that election laws in many states are so set up that a new party finds it almost impossible to get on the ballot in the short period between nominating time and election day. The Wallace Progressives could not get on in all the states, despite their sizable number of supporters and their relatively early start. With the conventions only 15 or 16 months away, the formers of a new party would be wiser to start now. June or July, 1952, might be too late.

Nearly one-third of the marriages in the twenty-to-thirty-year group collapse, according to statisticians. It seems it's about time we grew to forty quicker or, more seriously, merely grew up.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CHURCHILL ON RUSSIA

In a recent discussion in this column of Roosevelt's idea in 1943 of using the four powers, the United States, Russia, Great Britain and China, to police the world, an idea which culminated in the ill-fated Security Council of the United Nations, I expressed some wonder as to what Winston Churchill might have to say about it.

On October 21, 1942, Winston Churchill wrote to his foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, expressing grave doubts as to the wisdom of such a four-power solution of the problems which face the world. This was, of course, a year before the Teheran conference, and anticipated Roosevelt's "Four Policemen" idea. They undoubtedly had talked about it.

In this letter from Churchill to Eden, in gallant prose, he shows that a year before Teheran, he feared all that happened there. And that makes it so shocking that Churchill went along with Roosevelt in the ugly betrayals that occurred at Teheran. Perhaps in subsequent volumes of his memoirs, Churchill will explain to us why he did it or how it happened. He may even tell us of the pressures put upon him by Roosevelt, who was bent on appeasing Russia whatever the cost to ourselves or to humanity. It is a pity that so far as we know, Roosevelt left no memoranda to aid our understanding of his motives or designs.

This is what Winston Churchill wrote:

(Note to Editors: Kindly run as one paragraph, which is the way Churchill wrote it.)

"I must admit that my thoughts rest primarily in Europe—the revival of the glory of Europe, the parent continent of the modern nations and of civilization. It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient states of Europe. Hard as it is to say now, I trust that the European family may act unitedly as one under a council of Europe. I look forward to a United States of Europe in which the barriers between the nations will be greatly minimized and unrestricted travel will be possible. I hope to see the economy of Europe studied as a whole. I hope to see a council consisting of perhaps ten units, including the former great powers, with several confederations—Scandinavian, Danubian, Balkan, etc.—which would possess an international police and be charged with keeping Prussia disarmed. Of course we shall have to work with the Americans in many ways, and in the greatest ways, but Europe is our prime care, and we certainly do not wish to be shut up with the Russians and the Chinese when Swedes, Norwegians, Danes, Dutch, Belgians, Frenchmen, Spaniards, Poles, Czechs, and Turks will have their burning questions, their desire for our aid, and their very great power of making their voices heard. . . ."

When our present difficulties are discussed and criticism is made of Roosevelt's policies, the defense often is that hindsight is better than foresight. It is even suggested that now in 1951, anyone can recognize the mistakes and that Roosevelt himself would recognize them. Of course, we know nothing about what Roosevelt might have done; we only know what he did do, and much of it, in the field of international action, was very bad indeed and has actually continued the war to this day.

But none of this discussion has anything to do with hindsight, for Winston Churchill in October, 1942, already described precisely such dangers as we now encounter. "It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient state of Europe."

In 1942, he foresaw this danger. Yet in 1943, he agreed at Teheran for Russia to do precisely what he feared. In 1945, he joined with Roosevelt at Yalta in making Soviet Russia the master of both Europe and Asia. How is this to be explained? How can it be justified?

Of course, Churchill is still preparing his memoirs and he is probably revising them as the world situation permits the inclusion of material that might have been withheld because of the stress of events.

At any rate, it is clear from this letter that Churchill in 1942 knew the situation; was frightened by it, but in 1943 and in 1945, he did exactly what he felt should not have been done. The pressure on him from Roosevelt, who was appeasing Stalin, must have been enormous. But why was Roosevelt so anxious to appease Stalin?

That Body of Yours

SALT, OVERWEIGHT, BUZZING EARS

Notwithstanding all that physicians treating cases of overweight tell their patients against liquids, many of these patients continue to drink water, tea, coffee, soft and hard drinks because liquids have no fuel value (or very little). As fat tissue holds water or other liquids in the same manner as a sponge, this excess water is just so much extra weight on the body. When a football player in a game or a wrestler in a bout loses 10 pounds of weight, he may not be losing much fat tissue—only water.

A professional wrestler losing 10 to 15 pounds in a bout may have that same 10 to 15 pounds back in his body the next night, just 24 hours afterwards. Fat tissue does not come off the body that easily or rapidly.

Too much table salt in the diet also will increase water in the tissues, as each grain of salt holds 70 times its own weight of water in the tissues. When we sprinkle salt on our food, we never think of how one or two sprinkles of salt may be adding weight, yet all the salt needed by the body tissues is less than a half teaspoonful in 24 hours.

Fortunately, the tissues of those who are not overweight or do not have excess fat do not absorb and hold water, as the other tissues, muscles and nerves and take in the amount of water and salt needed by these tissues to do their regular work in the body.

Because physicians are advising against the overuse of salt as it increases weight and, by holding too much water in the tissues is believed to raise blood pressure, there are now various salt substitutes on the market. And because some of these salt substitutes cause stomach and intestinal symptoms, the following information is important. Bread, salad dressings, cheese, salt butter and milk contain hidden salt, and the great majority of us need and can eat these foods. But for those who are overweight or those who suffer from buzzing ears, the Journal of Living suggests bland foods (eggs, potatoes, cottage cheese, macaroni) seasoned with onions, green peppers, mushrooms, chives, which help reduce salt intake.

'No, Thanks, I Have Plenty!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Berlin—Here are three pictures I have received of Berlin — the most controversial city in the world—during the last three decades.

BERLIN IN 1923 was a city of despair. People waited in the alley behind the Hotel Adlon ready to pounce on garbage cans immediately they were placed outside the hotel's kitchen. Inside the hotel women waited, willing to sell their souls for a cup of coffee that cost one million marks one day, a million and a half the next and two million the day following. Inflation ran riot at the time, with braggadocio foreigners burning marks to light cigarettes and the workingman's wages lagging miles behind the daily depreciation of the printing-press money in which he was paid. . . . I interviewed President Friedrich Ebert, the onetime saddle maker who, after the World War 1 armistice, suddenly had found himself at the helm of the new German Weimar Republic. The Kaiser and the Prussians of Potsdam were gone, leaving a group of sincere but inexperienced Social Democrats to take their place. The result was chaos, desperation and despair.

BERLIN IN 1936 was entirely different. The Allies had failed to help the struggling Weimar Republic until too late—until the German people, in their desperation, had turned to a swashbuckling dictator who promised them the moon and who, by 1936, had occupied the Ruhr, built up the German army and, if he couldn't produce the moon, was well on his way toward producing the rest of Europe. . . . While the Allies gouged the German people to pay reparations, Wall Street bankers poured loans into German industry and German industrialists in turn placed their bets on the swashbuckler who promised them the moon. . . . So, from starving Germany in 1923 we went to the opposite extreme of rearming Hitler in 1936—and Berlin was cocky, confident and supreme.

BERLIN IN 1951 is still a city of ruins. Though other German cities have made great progress in getting back to normal, parts of Berlin still are like no man's land. In the Russian zone are piles of neatly stacked bricks and beside them neat piles of scrap iron, for the Russians have taken the ruins apart chiefly for the purpose of shipping the scrap iron back to Moscow. . . . You pass long lines of gaunt walls and skeletonized buildings—some blasted by British incendiary bombs which set fire to the buildings, some blasted by American explosive bombs which knocked down the walls of the buildings. Take your pick; the Berliners didn't like either. . . . Over near Unter Der Linden, Hitler's dugout—a huge block of concrete—is now turned upside down and near it what was once the Reichschancellery is now razed to the ground with almost every brick carted away by the Russians. Across their zone, in the American sector, the Reichstag is gutted but still standing and the Tiergarten, where nurses pushed baby carriages and couples strolled arm-in-arm among its trees in 1936, now is without one tree standing—a waste as barren as the New Jersey swamps between Newark and the Hudson tunnels. Never has man wrought such destruction!

McCloy Has Difficult Job

The biggest problem facing the United States and the world today is how to avoid the mistakes of both 1923 and 1936—how to draw a line midway between crushing Germany as in 1923 and rebuilding the German military and their lust for power as in 1936.

The man who has the difficult job of guiding Germany on this delicate course is John J. McCloy, a former New York Republican lawyer who served as assistant secretary of war under Henry L. Stimson. He has some of Stimson's passion for making the world a little better. Some Americans think McCloy has been coddling the Germans. The Germans, on the other hand, think he has been too tough. When I put some of these ideas up to him, McCloy's reaction was extremely frank.

"On Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays," he said, "I think we are doing a good job. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday I think we're not. Twenty-five years from now you'll be able to tell whether we've really done our work well. I realize," McCloy continued, "that a lot of people claim we are relinquishing too much power to the Germans but whom are we relinquishing it to?—To the men who have spent their lives in jail or in exile because they dared to oppose Hitler—to the men who have their roots deep in the principles of the Weimar republic. We are not relinquishing any allied powers to the Nazis. Of course you may read in your paper about some dogcatcher or minor official who is a former Nazi, but you won't find any former Nazis at the top.

"If we are to build a firm foundation," McCloy concluded, "we have to give these men gradual power. Some time or other, these men and the government they are building will have to stand up and take the big test. We know that. We don't know whether the test will be communism or Nazism, but we know that test is coming. Then we'll know how well we have built."

Tough Hurdles Ahead

My own impression is that McCloy has done a better job than could be expected in encouraging democracy for the German people but he still has some extremely tough hurdles to overcome with German officialdom and industrialists.

McCloy has an American resident stationed in every country of the American zone whose job it is to mingle with the German people, hold town meetings every two weeks, listen to their gripes, and encourage them to debate government problems. This is something the German people never enjoyed before and many of them are pleased but flabbergasted. These town meetings have been so successful that the Bonn government isn't too happy. It feels the Americans are getting a greater hold on the people than their leaders. McCloy himself has traveled all over the American zone participating in these meetings and letting the Germans fire questions at him. He feels that, if he can get their gripes out in the open and have a chance to answer them, he will have won an important part of the battle for a German democracy.

Converting Bonn officialdom to democracy, however, is a tougher problem. McCloy still hasn't persuaded them to revamp the German civil service system, which makes every German bureaucrat a petty Quasi-dictator and which tolerates arrests and jailing without warrants, nor has he been able to persuade the Germans to revamp their school system which gives free public schooling only through the tenth grade. Furthermore, the Bonn government appears veering toward the side of the big German industrialists—the same men who refinanced and rearmed Hitler. This is McCloy's biggest problem. For, if this drift continues, history might repeat all over again.

American Moral Force Is Being Used to Convince Peron About Freedom of Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22—America's moral force—the strongest influence that can be brought to bear to convince the Peron government in Argentina how vital freedom of the press is to the international standing of any nation—is being exerted to recover for "La Prensa," leading newspaper of Buenos Aires, the right to resume publication.

What Assistant Secretary Miller said recently has now been reaffirmed by the secretary of state, Dean Acheson — namely, that the closing of "La Prensa" has had such an adverse impact on American public opinion that the United States government now is limited in its ability to cooperate with the Argentine government.

These are the polite and restrained phrases of diplomacy, but they convey a world of meaning. They are notice that the United States is not just fighting communism in Europe and Asia and shutting its eyes to fascism, or totalitarianism in Latin America.

Once freedom of the press is abolished, the way is opened to the elimination of other liberties and soon a situation is developed which creates international danger. A nation that cares little for the preservation of internal liberties becomes unscrupulous next in international relations. That's the tragic course which dictatorship usually follows.

It is interesting to recall in this connection—for Argentina is a Catholic country—a pronouncement made in November 1944 by the Catholic bishops of the United States. They discussed this very subject—when what seems to be an internal matter becomes a matter of external or international concern. The words of that pronouncement of a little more than six years ago fit the Argentine situation as explicitly as if they had been written today:

"The international organization must never violate the rightful sovereignty of nations. Sovereignty is a right which comes from the juridical personality of a nation and which the international organization must safeguard and defend. However, national sovereignty may not be interpreted as absolving a nation from its obligations in the international community. Moreover even within the state, national sovereignty is limited by the innate rights of men and families. Since civil authority does not confer these God-given rights, it may not violate them.

"The ideology of a nation in its internal life is a concern of the international community. To reject this principle is tantamount to maintaining that the violation of the innate rights of men in a country by its own government has no relation to world peace. Just at this moment, in the interest of world peace, our nation is exerting itself to root out some ideologies which violate human rights in the countries we are liberating. We hold that if there is to be a genuine and lasting world peace, the international organization should demand as a condition of membership that every nation guarantee in law and respect in fact the innate rights of men, families, and minority groups in their civil and religious life.

"Surely our generation should know that tyranny in any nation menaces world peace. A nation which refuses to accord to its own people the full enjoyment of innate human rights cannot be relied upon to cooperate in the international community for the maintenance of a peace which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation will pursue its own selfish international policies, while paying lip service to international cooperation."

The foregoing is a doctrine which, if it had been widely understood prior to 1939, might have prompted an international organization to examine the behavior of the Hitler government—then regarded, unfortunately, by too many countries as just an internal affair. But there was no strong international institution available at that time to take up the fight.

Today the United Nations, backed by world opinion, can examine the Argentine situation. Certainly a concerted step to withdraw ambassadors, as was done in the case of Spain, might well be considered as a means of impressing the Argentine dictator that the world is alert to this flagrant violation of civil rights as traditionally exercised in the free world.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If you receive a subpoena from a committee of the United States Congress ordering you to produce all your books, letters, telegrams and other documents relating to a subject of inquiry, remember that it is up to you to protect yourself against a crooked and tricky process having the color of legality. Oh, there are some terrible scoundrels in this business. They hire scalawag investigators who are actually private detectives and presumably not above blackmail by means of information filched from your papers. The so-called Buchanan committee of the lower House was used as a cat's-paw by a bunch of whispering, wiretapping political conspirators in New York to hound a few small and apparently harmless and high-minded patriotic societies. This rotten committee of Congress—and I repeat that it was a rotten committee—hasn't had the nerve to say a word of retort to my charges, because it was guilty. Its own record contains a charge by one of the victims that it published to the world, in its own official report, hundreds of items of private correspondence which were stolen from the files of one of the victims. Such perversion and degradation of the congressional right to acquire information for the guidance of Congress in legislating for our good, makes it necessary for the citizen to protect himself at all times.

If the deputy marshal or a committee investigator gives you a subpoena demanding "all books and papers" and so forth, don't be scared. There are plenty of betrayals of confidence to justify your assumption that you will get a dirty deal, whether at the hands of some low character on the committee or some investigator or a lawyer hired to serve as the committee's counsel. The variations are infinite. The committee's lawyer may be a double-crossing sneak who will sell you out to your enemies. The investigators may be undercover agents of your enemies. Not all committee counsel nor investigators are crooks, but you can't tell by their looks and once you have trustingly complied with such a subjoena you may be just out of luck.

Am I advising you to violate a congressional subpoena? I am not that stupid.

If some disreputable bum with a bill-fold containing "credentials" from a congressional committee comes to your home or office with a subpoena demanding your documents, and starts to get rough, remember that he is only running a bluff. The bum may get photographs made of all your stuff before the committee even gets a look at it. In any case, the odds are that he will stash away copies of everything in his own files that may embarrass or damage you in the future. These committee detective jobs are temporary, you know.

When the showdown comes, make the committee specify exactly what books, papers and documents it demands. The federal courts also are lending themselves to this dirty business nowadays through the so-called "examination" before trial. Blackmailers are invited to start insincere suits and then, by court subpoena, to make you produce papers having no conceivable relation to the issues. That is a topic for another time.

IRAN'S SEIZURE OF OIL FIELDS

It would be idle to pretend that Iran's action in taking over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. is not a setback for the West. But its affect is not likely to be as immediate as some statesmen fear.

Under British management a high percentage of the oil produced was shipped out to Europe and the United States. This country got about forty per cent of total output. Some was allotted to Iran for its own use.

With the fields and refineries nationalized, the Iranian government may wish to set aside a larger share of production for use within the country. But it cannot possibly utilize the full output of Anglo-Iranian.

The government unquestionably will want to dispose of the big surplus beyond its own needs. It will be greatly interested in the revenue to be gained. But who is to buy and how is the oil to be transported to market?

Iran has no tanker fleet of its own and thus cannot carry the oil to European and other overseas markets. Without a substantial foreign loan, it could not acquire such a fleet even in a few years' time.

The thought occurring naturally to most of us is: Why can't she sell to Russia? Everybody knows Russia would welcome more oil, would love nothing better than to dominate the whole oil-rich Middle East.

Undoubtedly Iran can sell some oil to the Soviet Union. But again, the limit is transport. Iran has few railroad tank cars. And no pipeline runs from Anglo-Iran's refineries northward to Russia's borders. Engineers are emphatic in saying none could be built in less than two or three years. The U. S., with steel plentiful, required three years to build a 1,000-mile line across the flat Arabian desert.

These are hard facts from which there is no escape. No matter what may be the wishes of Iran's government, it must face them.

Consequently, for the immediate future the prospects are good that the oil will continue to go to present customers. Britain and the U. S. have the tanker fleet to take it from Iran's shores, and it goes without saying that they still want the oil.

Britain is, of course, gravely upset at Iran's expropriation of the oil properties and is protesting the action is illegal. Yet it is hard to see what she can do about it. In the end, some practical settlement which accepts the fact of Iranian control would seem to be indicated.

If that arrangement is sensible enough, it may yet be possible to keep the bulk of this oil out of Russian hands indefinitely. If it is not, then Iran's seizure of British properties may have to be viewed as the point where the West's fortunes in the Middle East took a serious downturn.

SUGGESTED NEW PARTY

The working alliance in Congress between the conservative Republicans and the Dixiecrats will lead to a marriage if Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota has his way. He proposes that the Republicans, who generally hold their nominating convention before the Democrats, should wait till later in 1952. He supposes that the Democrats will nominate a Fair Dealer, President Truman or some one else, and that the Dixiecrats will bolt as they did in 1948. Then, he proposes the Republicans should nominate whom the Southerners would approve, perhaps Senator Harry S. Byrd of Virginia, and the coalition should start out under a new name. "The Freedom Party" is Mundt's suggestion.

Mundt is trying to make it easier for the Dixiecrats to join a party whose name has long been anathema in the South. Change the name, he says, and the break will not be hard. On the other hand, he forgets that many voters elsewhere have a tradition of voting the Republican ticket, no matter what stand it takes. If they do not find the Republican name on the ballot, there is no telling how they might vote.

A less theoretical objection is that election laws in many states are so set up that a new party finds it almost impossible to get on the ballot in the short period between nominating time and election day. The Wallace Progressives could not get on in all the states, despite their sizable number of supporters and their relatively early start. With the conventions only 15 or 16 months away, the formers of a new party would be wiser to start now. June or July, 1952, might be too late.

Nearly one-third of the marriages in the twenty-to-thirty-year group collapse, according to statisticians. It seems it's about time we grew to forty quicker or, more seriously, merely grew up.

'These Days'

CHURCHILL ON RUSSIA

In a recent discussion in this column of Roosevelt's idea in 1943 of using the four powers, the United States, Russia, Great Britain and China, to police the world, an idea which culminated in the ill-fated Security Council of the United Nations, I expressed some wonder as to what Winston Churchill might have to say about it.

On October 21, 1942, Winston Churchill wrote to his foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, expressing grave doubts as to the wisdom of such a four-power solution of the problems which face the world. This was, of course, a year before the Teheran conference, and anticipated Roosevelt's "Four Policemen" idea. They undoubtedly had talked about it.

In this letter from Churchill to Eden, in gallant prose, he shows that a year before Teheran, he feared all that happened there. And that makes it so shocking that Churchill went along with Roosevelt in the ugly betrayals that occurred at Teheran. Perhaps in subsequent volumes of his memoirs, Churchill will explain to us why he did it or how it happened. He may even tell us of the pressures put upon him by Roosevelt, who was bent on appeasing Russia whatever the cost to ourselves or to humanity. It is a pity that so far as we know, Roosevelt left no memoranda to aid our understanding of his motives or designs.

This is what Winston Churchill wrote:

(Note to Editors: Kindly run as one paragraph, which is the way Churchill wrote it.)

"I must admit that my thoughts rest primarily in Europe—the revival of the glory of Europe, the parent continent of the modern nations and of civilization. It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient states of Europe. Hard as it is to say now, I trust that the European family may act unitedly as one under a council of Europe. I look forward to a United States of Europe in which the barriers between the nations will be greatly minimized and unrestricted travel will be possible. I hope to see the economy of Europe studied as a whole. I hope to see a council consisting of perhaps ten units, including the former great powers, with several confederations—Scandinavian, Danubian, Balkan, etc.—which would possess an international police and be charged with keeping Prussia disarmed. Of course we shall have to work with the Americans in many ways, and in the greatest ways, but Europe is our prime care, and we certainly do not wish to be shut up with the Russians and the Chinese when Swedes, Norwegians, Danes, Dutch, Belgians, Frenchmen, Spaniards, Poles, Czechs, and Turks will have their burning questions, their desire for our aid, and their very great power of making their voices heard. . . ."

When our present difficulties are discussed and criticism is made of Roosevelt's policies, the defense often is that hindsight is better than foresight. It is even suggested that now in 1951, anyone can recognize the mistakes and that Roosevelt himself would recognize them. Of course, we know nothing about what Roosevelt might have done; we only know what he did do, and much of it, in the field of international action, was very bad indeed and has actually continued the war to this day.

But none of this discussion has anything to do with hindsight, for Winston Churchill in October, 1942, already described precisely such dangers as we now encounter. "It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient state of Europe."

In 1942, he foresaw this danger. Yet in 1943, he agreed at Teheran for Russia to do precisely what he feared. In 1945, he joined with Roosevelt at Yalta in making Soviet Russia the master of both Europe and Asia. How is this to be explained? How can it be justified?

Of course, Churchill is still preparing his memoirs and he is probably revising them as the world situation permits the inclusion of material that might have been withheld because of the stress of events.

At any rate, it is clear from this letter that Churchill in 1942 knew the situation; was frightened by it, but in 1943 and in 1945, he did exactly what he felt should not have been done. The pressure on him from Roosevelt, who was appeasing Stalin, must have been enormous. But why was Roosevelt so anxious to appease Stalin?

That Body of Yours

SALT, OVERWEIGHT, BUZZING EARS

Notwithstanding all that physicians treating cases of overweight tell their patients against liquids, many of these patients continue to drink water, tea, coffee, soft and hard drinks because liquids have no fuel value (or very little). As fat tissue holds water or other liquids in the same manner as a sponge, this excess water is just so much extra weight on the body. When a football player in a game or a wrestler in a bout loses 10 pounds of weight, he may not be losing much fat tissue—only water.

A professional wrestler losing 10 to 15 pounds in a bout may have that same 10 to 15 pounds back in his body the next night, just 24 hours afterwards. Fat tissue does not come off the body that easily or rapidly.

Too much table salt in the diet also will increase water in the tissues, as each grain of salt holds 70 times its own weight of water in the tissues. When we sprinkle salt on our food, we never think of how one or two sprinkles of salt may be adding weight, yet all the salt needed by the body tissues is less than a half teaspoonful in 24 hours.

Fortunately, the tissues of those who are not ovreweight or do not have excess fat do not absorb and hold water, as the other tissues, muscles and nerves and take in the amount of water and salt needed by these tissues to do their regular work in the body.

Because physicians are advising against the overuse of salt as it increases weight and, by holding too much water in the tissues is believed to raise blood pressure, there are now various salt substitutes on the market. And because some of these salt substitutes cause stomach and intestinal symptoms, the following information is important. Bread, salad dressings, cheese, salt butter and milk contain hidden salt, and the great majority of us need and can eat these foods. But for those who are overweight or those who suffer from buzzing ears, the Journal of Living suggests bland foods (eggs, potatoes, cottage cheese, macaroni) seasoned with onions, green peppers, mushrooms, chives, which help reduce salt intake.

'No, Thanks, I Have Plenty!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Berlin—Here are three pictures I have received of Berlin—the most controversial city in the world—during the last three decades.

BERLIN IN 1923 was a city of despair. People waited in the alley behind the Hotel Adlon ready to pounce on garbage cans immediately they were placed outside the hotel's kitchen. Inside the hotel women waited, willing to sell their souls for a cup of coffee that cost one million marks one day, a million and a half the next and two million the day following. Inflation ran riot at the time, with braggadocio foreigners burning marks to light cigarettes and the workingman's wages lagging miles behind the daily depreciation of the printing-press money in which he was paid. . . . I interviewed President Friedrich Ebert, the onetime saddle maker who, after the World War 1 armistice, suddenly had found himself at the helm of the new German Weimar Republic. The Kaiser and the Prussians of Potsdam were gone, leaving a group of sincere but inexperienced Social Democrats to take their place. The result was chaos, desperation and despair.

BERLIN IN 1936 was entirely different. The Allies had failed to help the struggling Weimar Republic until too late—until the German people, in their desperation, had turned to a swashbuckling dictator who promised them the moon and who, by 1936, had occupied the Ruhr, built up the German army and, if he couldn't produce the moon, was well on his way toward producing the rest of Europe. . . . While the Allies gouged the German people to pay reparations, Wall Street bankers poured loans into German industry and German industrialists in turn placed their bets on the swashbuckler who promised them the moon. . . . So, from starving Germany in 1923 we went to the opposite extreme of rearming Hitler in 1936—and Berlin was cocky, confident and supreme.

BERLIN IN 1951 is still a city of ruins. Though other German cities have made great progress in getting back to normal, parts of Berlin still are like no man's land. In the Russian zone are piles of neatly stacked bricks and beside them neat piles of scrap iron, for the Russians have taken the ruins apart chiefly for the purpose of shipping the scrap iron back to Moscow. . . . You pass long lines of gaunt walls and skeletonized buildings—some blasted by British incendiary bombs which set fire to the buildings, some blasted by American explosive bombs which knocked down the walls of the buildings. Take your pick; the Berliners didn't like either. . . . Over near Unter Der Linden, Hitler's dugout—a huge block of concrete—is now turned upside down and near it what was once the Reichschancellery is now razed to the ground with almost every brick carted away by the Russians. Across their zone, in the American sector, the Reichstag is gutted but still standing and the Tiergarten, where nurses pushed baby carriages and couples strolled arm-in-arm among its trees in 1936, now is without one tree standing—a waste as barren as the New Jersey swamps between Newark and the Hudson tunnels. Never has man wrought such destruction!

McCloy Has Difficult Job

The biggest problem facing the United States and the world today is how to avoid the mistakes of both 1923 and 1936—how to draw a line midway between crushing Germany as in 1923 and rebuilding the German military and their lust for power as in 1936.

The man who has the difficult job of guiding Germany on this delicate course is John J. McCloy, a former New York Republican lawyer who served as assistant secretary of war under Henry L. Stimson. He has some of Stimson's passion for making the world a little better. Some Americans think McCloy has been coddling the Germans. The Germans, on the other hand, think he has been too tough. When I put some of these ideas up to him, McCloy's reaction was extremely frank.

"On Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays," he said, "I think we are doing a good job. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday I think we're not. Twenty-five years from now you'll be able to tell whether we've really done our work well. I realize," McCloy continued, "that a lot of people claim we are relinquishing too much power to the Germans but whom are we relinquishing it to?—To the men who have spent their lives in jail or in exile because they dared to oppose Hitler—to the men who have their roots deep in the principles of the Weimar republic. We are not relinquishing any allied powers to the Nazis. Of course you may read in your paper about some dogcatcher or minor official who is a former Nazi, but you won't find any former Nazis at the top.

"If we are to build a firm foundation," McCloy concluded, "we have to give these men gradual power. Some time or other, these men and the government they are building will have to stand up and take the big test. We know that. We don't know whether the test will be communism or Nazism, but we know that test is coming. Then we'll know how well we have built."

Tough Hurdles Ahead

My own impression is that McCloy has done a better job than could be expected in encouraging democracy for the German people but he still has some extremely tough hurdles to overcome with German officialdom and industrialists.

McCloy has an American resident stationed in every country of the American zone whose job it is to mingle with the German people, hold town meetings every two weeks, listen to their gripes, and encourage them to debate government problems. This is something the German people never enjoyed before and many of them are pleased but flabbergasted. These town meetings have been so successful that the Bonn government isn't too happy. It feels the Americans are getting a greater hold on the people than their leaders. McCloy himself has traveled all over the American zone participating in these meetings and letting the Germans fire questions at him. He feels that, if he can get their gripes out in the open and have a chance to answer them, he will have won an important part of the battle for a German democracy.

Converting Bonn officialdom to democracy, however, is a tougher problem. McCloy still hasn't persuaded them to revamp the German civil service system, which makes every German bureaucrat a petty Quasi-dictator and which tolerates arrests and jailing without warrants, nor has he been able to persuade the Germans to revamp their school system which gives free public schooling only through the tenth grade. Furthermore, the Bonn government appears veering toward the side of the big German industrialists—the same men who refinanced and rearmed Hitler. This is McCloy's biggest problem. For, if this drift continues, history might repeat all over again.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22—America's moral force—the strongest influence that can be brought to bear to convince the Peron government in Argentina how vital freedom of the press is to the international standing of any nation—is being exerted to recover for "La Prensa," leading newspaper of Buenos Aires, the right to resume publication.

What Assistant Secretary Miller said recently has now been reaffirmed by the secretary of state, Dean Acheson — namely, that the closing of "La Prensa" has had such an adverse impact on American public opinion that the United States government now is limited in its ability to cooperate with the Argentine government.

These are the polite and restrained phrases of diplomacy, but they convey a world of meaning. They are notice that the United States is not just fighting communism in Europe and Asia and shutting its eyes to fascism or totalitarianism in Latin America.

Once freedom of the press is abolished, the way is opened to the elimination of other liberties and soon a situation is developed which creates international danger. A nation that cares little for the preservation of internal liberties becomes unscrupulous next in international relations. That's the tragic course which dictatorship usually follows.

It is interesting to recall in this connection—for Argentina is a Catholic country—a pronouncement made in November 1944 by the Catholic bishops of the United States. They discussed this very subject—when what seems to be an internal matter becomes a matter of external or international concern. The words of that pronouncement of a little more than six years ago fit the Argentine situation as explicitly as if they had been written today:

"The international organization must never violate the rightful sovereignty of nations. Sovereignty is a right which comes from the juridical personality of a nation and which the international organization must safeguard and defend. However, national sovereignty may not be interpreted as absolving a nation from its obligations in the international community. Moreover even within the state, national sovereignty is limited by the innate rights of men and families. Since civil authority does not confer these God-given rights, it may not violate them.

"The ideology of a nation in its internal life is a concern of the international community. To reject this principle is tantamount to maintaining that the violation of the innate rights of men in a country by its own government has no relation to world peace. Just at this moment, in the interest of world peace, our nation is exerting itself to root out some ideologies which violate human rights in the countries we are liberating. We hold that if there is to be a genuine and lasting world peace, the international organization should demand as a condition of membership that every nation guarantee in law and respect in fact the innate rights of men, families, and minority groups in their civil and religious life.

"Surely our generation should know that tyranny in any nation menaces world peace. A nation which refuses to accord to its own people the full enjoyment of innate human rights cannot be relied upon to cooperate in the international community for the maintenance of a peace which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation will pursue its own selfish international policies, while paying lip service to international cooperation."

The foregoing is a doctrine which, if it had been widely understood prior to 1939, might have prompted an international organization to examine the behavior of the Hitler government—then regarded, unfortunately, by too many countries as just an internal affair. But there was no strong international institution available at that time to take up the fight.

Today the United Nations, backed by world opinion, can examine the Argentine situation. Certainly a concerted step to withdraw ambassadors, as was done in the case of Spain, might well be considered as a means of impressing the Argentine dictator that the world is alert to this flagrant violation of civil rights as traditionally exercised in the free world.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If you receive a subpoena from a committee of the United States Congress ordering you to produce all your books, letters, telegrams and other documents relating to a subject of inquiry, remember that it is up to you to protect yourself against a crooked and tricky process having the color of legality. Oh, there are some terrible scoundrels in this business. They hire scalawag investigators who are actually private detectives and presumably not above blackmail by means of information filched from your papers. The so-called Buchanan committee of the lower House was used as a cat's-paw by a bunch of whispering, wiretapping political conspirators in New York to hound a few small and apparently harmless and high-minded patriotic societies. This rotten committee of Congress—and I repeat that it was a rotten committee—hasn't had the nerve to say a word of retort to my charges, because it was guilty. Its own record contains a charge by one of the victims that it published to the world, in its own official report, hundreds of items of private correspondence which were stolen from the files of one of the victims. Such perversion and degradation of the congressional right to acquire information for the guidance of Congress in legislating for our good, makes it necessary for the citizen to protect himself at all times.

If the deputy marshal or a committee investigator gives you a subpoena demanding "all books and papers" and so forth, don't be scared. There are plenty of betrayals of confidence to justify your assumption that you will get a dirty deal, whether at the hands of some low character on the committee or some investigator or a lawyer hired to serve as the committee's counsel. The variations are infinite. The committee's lawyer may be a double-crossing sneak who will sell you out to your enemies. The investigators may be undercover agents of your enemies. Not all committee counsel nor investigators are crooks, but you can't tell by their looks and once you have trustingly complied with such a subjoena you may be just out of luck.

Am I advising you to violate a congressional subpoena? I am not that stupid.

If some disreputable bum with a bill-foid containing "credentials" from a congressional committee comes to your home or office with a subpoena demanding your documents, and starts to get rough, remember that he is only running a bluff. The bum may get photographs made of all your stuff before the committee even gets a look at it. In any case, the odds are that he will stash away copies of everything in his own files that may embarrass or damage you in the future. These committee detective jobs are temporary, you know.

When the showdown comes, make the committee specify exactly what books, papers and documents it demands. The federal courts also are lending themselves to this dirty business nowadays through the so-called "examination" before trial. Blackmailers are invited to start insincere suits and then, by court subpoena, to make you produce papers having no conceivable relation to the issues. That is a topic for another time.

Questions — Answers

Q—Is there such an animal as a flying squirrel?

A—Yes, but it does not actually fly. It has a membrane of skin between the front and hind legs, with the aid of which it can glide through the air for considerable distance.

Q—What is a pidgin English?

A—The word "pidgin" is a Chinese corruption of the word "business." Pidgin English was developed many years ago as a sort of trade language between foreigners and the Chinese. It uses English words, usually corrupted in pronunciation, arranged somewhat in the Chinese fashion.

A—The American Canoe Association was organized August 3, 1880 at Crosbyside Park, Lake George, New York.

Q—What is the symbol of federal authority in Congress?

A—The mace, a big silver shaft topped by a globe supporting an eagle with outspread wings. It rests on a green marble pedestal at the front of the House when it is in session.

Q—Does America produce enough tannin for its leather industry?

A—No. America imports two-thirds of the tannin used in making domestic leather.

IRAN'S SEIZURE OF OIL FIELDS

It would be idle to pretend that Iran's action in taking over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. is not a setback for the West. But its affect is not likely to be as immediate as some statesmen fear.

Under British management a high percentage of the oil produced was shipped out to Europe and the United States. This country got about forty per cent of total output. Some was allotted to Iran for its own use.

With the fields and refineries nationalized, the Iranian government may wish to set aside a larger share of production for use within the country. But it cannot possibly utilize the full output of Anglo-Iranian.

The government unquestionably will want to dispose of the big surplus beyond its own needs. It will be greatly interested in the revenue to be gained. But who is to buy and how is the oil to be transported to market?

Iran has no tanker fleet of its own and thus cannot carry the oil to European and other overseas markets. Without a substantial foreign loan, it could not acquire such a fleet even in a few years' time.

The thought occurring naturally to most of us is: Why can't she sell to Russia? Everybody knows Russia would welcome more oil, would love nothing better than to dominate the whole oil-rich Middle East.

Undoubtedly Iran can sell some oil to the Soviet Union. But again, the limit is transport. Iran has few railroad tank cars. And no pipeline runs from Anglo-Iran's refineries northward to Russia's borders. Engineers are emphatic in saying none could be built in less than two or three years. The U. S., with steel plentiful, required three years to build a 1,000-mile line across the flat Arabian desert.

These are hard facts from which there is no escape. No matter what may be the wishes of Iran's government, it must face them.

Consequently, for the immediate future the prospects are good that the oil will continue to go to present customers. Britain and the U. S. have the tanker fleet to take it from Iran's shores, and it goes without saying that they still want the oil.

Britain is, of course, gravely upset at Iran's expropriation of the oil properties and is protesting the action is illegal. Yet it is hard to see what she can do about it. In the end, some practical settlement which accepts the fact of Iranian control would seem to be indicated.

If that arrangement is sensible enough, it may yet be possible to keep the bulk of this oil out of Russian hands indefinitely. If it is not, then Iran's seizure of British properties may have to be viewed as the point where the West's fortunes in the Middle East took a serious downturn.

SUGGESTED NEW PARTY

The working alliance in Congress between the conservative Republicans and the Dixiecrats will lead to a marriage if Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota has his way. He proposes that the Republicans, who generally hold their nominating convention before the Democrats, should wait till later in 1952. He supposes that the Democrats will nominate a Fair Dealer, President Truman or some one else, and that the Dixiecrats will bolt as they did in 1948. Then, he proposes the Republicans should nominate whom the Southerners would approve, perhaps Senator Harry S. Byrd of Virginia, and the coalition should start out under a new name. "The Freedom Party" is Mundt's suggestion.

Mundt is trying to make it easier for the Dixiecrats to join a party whose name has long been anathema in the South. Change the name, he says, and the break will not be hard. On the other hand, he forgets that many voters elsewhere have a tradition of voting the Republican ticket, no matter what stand it takes. If they do not find the Republican name on the ballot, there is no telling how they might vote.

A less theoretical objection is that election laws in many states are so set up that a new party finds it almost impossible to get on the ballot in the short period between nominating time and election day. The Wallace Progressives could not get on in all the states, despite their sizable number of supporters and their relatively early start. With the conventions only 15 or 16 months away, the formers of a new party would be wiser to start now. June or July, 1952, might be too late.

Nearly one-third of the marriages in the twenty-to-thirty-year group collapse, according to statisticians. It seems it's about time we grew to forty quicker or, more seriously, merely grew up.

'These Days'

CHURCHILL ON RUSSIA

In a recent discussion in this column of Roosevelt's idea in 1943 of using the four powers, the United States, Russia, Great Britain and China, to police the world, an idea which culminated in the ill-fated Security Council of the United Nations, I expressed some wonder as to what Winston Churchill might have to say about it.

On October 21, 1942, Winston Churchill wrote to his foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, expressing grave doubts as to the wisdom of such a four-power solution of the problems which face the world. This was, of course, a year before the Teheran conference, and anticipated Roosevelt's "Four Policemen" idea. They undoubtedly had talked about it.

In this letter from Churchill to Eden, in gallant prose, he shows that a year before Teheran, he feared all that happened there. And that makes it so shocking that Churchill went along with Roosevelt in the ugly betrayals that occurred at Teheran. Perhaps in subsequent volumes of his memoirs, Churchill will explain to us why he did it or how it happened. He may even tell us of the pressures put upon him by Roosevelt, who was bent on appeasing Russia whatever the cost to ourselves or to humanity. It is a pity that so far as we know, Roosevelt left no memoranda to aid our understanding of his motives or designs.

This is what Winston Churchill wrote:

(Note to Editors: Kindly run as one paragraph, which is the way Churchill wrote it.)

"I must admit that my thoughts rest primarily in Europe—the revival of the glory of Europe, the parent continent of the modern nations and of civilization. It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient states of Europe. Hard as it is to say now, I trust that the European family may act unitedly as one under a council of Europe. I look forward to a United States of Europe in which the barriers between the nations will be greatly minimized and unrestricted travel will be possible. I hope to see the economy of Europe studied as a whole. I hope to see a council consisting of perhaps ten units, including the former great powers, with several confederations—Scandinavian, Danubian, Balkan, etc.—which would possess an international police and be charged with keeping Prussia disarmed. Of course we shall have to work with the Americans in many ways, and in the greatest ways, but Europe is our prime care, and we certainly do not wish to be shut up with the Russians and the Chinese when Swedes, Norwegians, Danes, Dutch, Belgians, Frenchmen, Spaniards, Poles, Czechs, and Turks will have their burning questions, their desire for our aid, and their very great power of making their voices heard. . . ."

When our present difficulties are discussed and criticism is made of Roosevelt's policies, the defense often is that hindsight is better than foresight. It is even suggested that now in 1951, anyone can recognize the mistakes and that Roosevelt himself would recognize them. Of course, we know nothing about what Roosevelt might have done; we only know what he did do, and much of it, in the field of international action, was very bad indeed and has actually continued the war to this day.

But none of this discussion has anything to do with hindsight, for Winston Churchill in October, 1942, already described precisely such dangers as we now encounter. "It would be a measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient state of Europe."

In 1942, he foresaw this danger. Yet in 1943, he agreed at Teheran for Russia to do precisely what he feared. In 1945, he joined with Roosevelt at Yalta in making Soviet Russia the master of both Europe and Asia. How is this to be explained? How can it be justified?

Of course, Churchill is still preparing his memoirs and he is probably revising them as the world situation permits the inclusion of material that might have been withheld because of the stress of events.

At any rate, it is clear from this letter that Churchill in 1942 knew the situation; was frightened by it, but in 1943 and in 1945, he did exactly what he felt should not have been done. The pressure on him from Roosevelt, who was appeasing Stalin, must have been enormous. But why was Roosevelt so anxious to appease Stalin?

That Body of Yours

SALT, OVERWEIGHT, BUZZING EARS

Notwithstanding all that physicians treating cases of overweight tell their patients against liquids, many of these patients continue to drink water, tea, coffee, soft and hard drinks because liquids have no fuel value (or very little). As fat tissue holds water or other liquids in the same manner as a sponge, this excess water is just so much extra weight on the body. When a football player in a game or a wrestler in a bout loses 10 pounds of weight, he may not be losing much fat tissue—only water.

A professional wrestler losing 10 to 15 pounds in a bout may have that same 10 to 15 pounds back in his body the next night, just 24 hours afterwards. Fat tissue does not come off the body that easily or rapidly.

Too much table salt in the diet also will increase water in the tissues, as each grain of salt holds 70 times its own weight of water in the tissues. When we sprinkle salt on our food, we never think of how one or two sprinkles of salt may be adding weight, yet all the salt needed by the body tissues is less than a half teaspoonful in 24 hours.

Fortunately, the tissues of those who are not ovreweight or do not have excess fat do not absorb and hold water, as the other tissues, muscles and nerves and take in the amount of water and salt needed by these tissues to do their regular work in the body.

Because physicians are advising against the overuse of salt as it increases weight and, by holding too much water in the tissues is believed to raise blood pressure, there are now various salt substitutes on the market. And because some of these salt substitutes cause stomach and intestinal symptoms, the following information is important. Bread, salad dressings, cheese, salt butter and milk contain hidden salt, and the great majority of us need and can eat these foods. But for those who are overweight or those who suffer from buzzing ears, the Journal of Living suggests bland foods (eggs, potatoes, cottage cheese, macaroni) seasoned with onions, green peppers, mushrooms, chives, which help reduce salt intake.

'No, Thanks, I Have Plenty!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Berlin—Here are three pictures I have received of Berlin—the most controversial city in the world—during the last three decades.

BERLIN IN 1923 was a city of despair. People waited in the alley behind the Hotel Adlon ready to pounce on garbage cans immediately they were placed outside the hotel's kitchen. Inside the hotel women waited, willing to sell their souls for a cup of coffee that cost one million marks one day, a million and a half the next and two million the day following. Inflation ran riot at the time, with braggadocio foreigners burning marks to light cigarettes and the workingman's wages lagging miles behind the daily depreciation of the printing-press money in which he was paid. . . . I interviewed President Friedrich Ebert, the onetime saddle maker who, after the World War 1 armistice, suddenly had found himself at the helm of the new German Weimar Republic. The Kaiser and the Prussians of Potsdam were gone, leaving a group of sincere but inexperienced Social Democrats to take their place. The result was chaos, desperation and despair.

BERLIN IN 1936 was entirely different. The Allies had failed to help the struggling Weimar Republic until too late—until the German people, in their desperation, had turned to a swashbuckling dictator who promised them the moon and who, by 1936, had occupied the Ruhr, built up the German army and, if he couldn't produce the moon, was well on his way toward producing the rest of Europe. . . . While the Allies gouged the German people to pay reparations, Wall Street bankers poured loans into German industry and German industrialists in turn placed their bets on the swashbuckler who promised them the moon. . . . So, from starving Germany in 1923 we went to the opposite extreme of rearming Hitler in 1936—and Berlin was cocky, confident and supreme.

BERLIN IN 1951 is still a city of ruins. Though other German cities have made great progress in getting back to normal, parts of Berlin still are like no man's land. In the Russian zone are piles of neatly stacked bricks and beside them neat piles of scrap iron, for the Russians have taken the ruins apart chiefly for the purpose of shipping the scrap iron back to Moscow. . . . You pass long lines of gaunt walls and skeletonized buildings—some blasted by British incendiary bombs which set fire to the buildings, some blasted by American explosive bombs which knocked down the walls of the buildings. Take your pick; the Berliners didn't like either. . . . Over near Unter Der Linden, Hitler's dugout—a huge block of concrete—is now turned upside down and near it what was once the Reichschancellery is now razed to the ground with almost every brick carted away by the Russians. Across their zone, in the American sector, the Reichstag is gutted but still standing and the Tiergarten, where nurses pushed baby carriages and couples strolled arm-in-arm among its trees in 1936, now is without one tree standing—a waste as barren as the New Jersey swamps between Newark and the Hudson tunnels. Never has man wrought such destruction!

McCloy Has Difficult Job

The biggest problem facing the United States and the world today is how to avoid the mistakes of both 1923 and 1936—how to draw a line midway between crushing Germany as in 1923 and rebuilding the German military and their lust for power as in 1936.

The man who has the difficult job of guiding Germany on this delicate course is John J. McCloy, a former New York Republican lawyer who served as assistant secretary of war under Henry L. Stimson. He has some of Stimson's passion for making the world a little better. Some Americans think McCloy has been coddling the Germans. The Germans, on the other hand, think he has been too tough. When I put some of these ideas up to him, McCloy's reaction was extremely frank.

"On Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays," he said, "I think we are doing a good job. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday I think we're not. Twenty-five years from now you'll be able to tell whether we've really done our work well. I realize," McCloy continued, "that a lot of people claim we are relinquishing too much power to the Germans but whom are we relinquishing it to?—To the men who have spent their lives in jail or in exile because they dared to oppose Hitler—to the men who have their roots deep in the principles of the Weimar republic. We are not relinquishing any allied powers to the Nazis. Of course you may read in your paper about some dogcatcher or minor official who is a former Nazi, but you won't find any former Nazis at the top.

"If we are to build a firm foundation," McCloy concluded, "we have to give these men gradual power. Some time or other, these men and the government they are building will have to stand up and take the big test. We know that. We don't know whether the test will be communism or Nazism, but we know that test is coming. Then we'll know how well we have built."

Tough Hurdles Ahead

My own impression is that McCloy has done a better job than could be expected in encouraging democracy for the German people but he still has some extremely tough hurdles to overcome with German officialdom and industrialists.

McCloy has an American resident stationed in every country of the American zone whose job it is to mingle with the German people, hold town meetings every two weeks, listen to their gripes, and encourage them to debate government problems. This is something the German people never enjoyed before and many of them are pleased but flabbergasted. These town meetings have been so successful that the Bonn government isn't too happy. It feels the Americans are getting a greater hold on the people than their leaders. McCloy himself has traveled all over the American zone participating in these meetings and letting the Germans fire questions at him. He feels that, if he can get their gripes out in the open and have a chance to answer them, he will have won an important part of the battle for a German democracy.

Converting Bonn officialdom to democracy, however, is a tougher problem. McCloy still hasn't persuaded them to revamp the German civil service system, which makes every German bureaucrat a petty Quasi-dictator and which tolerates arrests and jailing without warrants, nor has he been able to persuade the Germans to revamp their school system which gives free public schooling only through the tenth grade. Furthermore, the Bonn government appears veering toward the side of the big German industrialists—the same men who refinanced and rearmed Hitler. This is McCloy's biggest problem. For, if this drift continues, history might repeat all over again.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

March 22, 1931—The Rev. John P. Neumann, of St. Peter's Church, spoke at the annual Knights of Columbus communion breakfast.

Dr. L. E. Sanford, local health officer, said the city's outbreak of smallpox was under control.

A recital was given at St. John's Church by Robert Williams, organist; Murial Obenaus, violinist, and Robert Cole, cellist.

March 22, 1941 — James R. Young, I.N.S., correspondent in Japan for 13 years, as a local Hi-Y speaker, said he saw no threat of trouble for the United States in Japan or Axis sources.

The local American Legion Post issued a statement spiking rumors of "favoritism" in local selective service.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22—America's moral force—the strongest influence that can be brought to bear to convince the Peron government in Argentina how vital freedom of the press is to the international standing of any nation—is being exerted to recover for "La Prensa," leading newspaper of Buenos Aires, the right to resume publication.

What Assistant Secretary Miller said recently has now been reaffirmed by the secretary of state, Dean Acheson — namely, that the closing of "La Prensa" has had such an adverse impact on American public opinion that the United States government now is limited in its ability to cooperate with the Argentine government.

These are the polite and restrained phrases of diplomacy, but they convey a world of meaning. They are notice that the United States is not just fighting communism in Europe and Asia and shutting its eyes to fascism, or totalitarianism in Latin America.

Once freedom of the press is abolished, the way is opened to the elimination of other liberties and soon a situation is developed which creates international danger. A nation that cares little for the preservation of internal liberties becomes unscrupulous next in international relations. That's the tragic course which dictatorship usually follows.

It is interesting to recall in this connection—for Argentina is a Catholic country—a pronouncement made in November 1944 by the Catholic bishops of the United States. They discussed this very subject—when what seems to be an internal matter becomes a matter of external or international concern. The words of that pronouncement of a little more than six years ago fit the Argentine situation as explicitly as if they had been written today:

"The international organization must never violate the rightful sovereignty of nations. Sovereignty is a right which comes from the juridical personality of a nation and which the international organization must safeguard and defend. However, national sovereignty may not be interpreted as absolving a nation from its obligations in the international community. Moreover even within the state, national sovereignty is limited by the innate rights of men and families. Since civil authority does not confer these God-given rights, it may not violate them.

"The ideology of a nation in its internal life is a concern of the international community. To reject this principle is tantamount to maintaining that the violation of the innate rights of men in a country by its own government has no relation to world peace. Just at this moment, in the interest of world peace, our nation is exerting itself to root out some ideologies which violate human rights in the countries we are liberating. We hold that if there is to be a genuine and lasting world peace, the international organization should demand as a condition of membership that every nation guarantee in law and respect in fact the innate rights of men, families, and minority groups in their civil and religious life.

"Surely our generation should know that tyranny in any nation menaces world peace. A nation which refuses to accord to its own people the full enjoyment of innate human rights cannot be relied upon to cooperate in the international community for the maintenance of a peace which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation which is based on the recognition of national freedom. Such a nation will pursue its own selfish international policies, while paying lip service to international cooperation."

The foregoing is a doctrine which, if it had been widely understood prior to 1939, might have prompted an international organization to examine the behavior of the Hitler government—then regarded, unfortunately, by too many countries as just an internal affair. But there was no strong international institution available at that time to take up the fight.

Today the United Nations, backed by world opinion, can examine the Argentine situation. Certainly a concerted step to withdraw ambassadors, as was done in the case of Spain, might well be considered as a means of impressing the Argentine dictator that the world is alert to this flagrant violation of civil rights as traditionally exercised in the free world.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If you receive a subpoena from a committee of the United States Congress ordering you to produce all your books, letters, telegrams and other documents relating to a subject of inquiry, remember that it is up to you to protect yourself against a crooked and tricky process having the color of legality. Oh, there are some terrible scoundrels in this business. They hire scalawag investigators who are actually private detectives and presumably not above blackmail by means of information filched from your papers. The so-called Buchanan committee of the lower House was used as a cat's-paw by a bunch of whispering, wiretapping political conspirators in New York to hound a few small and apparently harmless and high-minded patriotic societies. This rotten committee of Congress—and I repeat that it was a rotten committee—hasn't had the nerve to say a word of retort to my charges, because it was guilty. Its own record contains a charge by one of the victims that it published to the world, in its own official report, hundreds of items of private correspondence which were stolen from the files of one of the victims. Such perversion and degradation of the congressional right to acquire information for the guidance of Congress in legislating for our good, makes it necessary for the citizen to protect himself at all times.

If the deputy marshal or a committee investigator gives you a subpoena demanding "all books and papers" and so forth, don't be scared. There are plenty of betrayals of confidence to justify your assumption that you will get a dirty deal, whether at the hands of some low character on the committee or some investigator or a lawyer hired to serve as the committee's counsel. The variations are infinite. The committee's lawyer may be a double-crossing sneak who will sell you out to your enemies. The investigators may be undercover agents of your enemies. Not all committee counsel nor investigators are crooks, but you can't tell by their looks and once you have trustingly complied with such a subjoena you may be just out of luck.

Am I advising you to violate a congressional subpoena? I am not that stupid.

If some disreputable bum with a bill-fold containing "credentials" from a congressional committee comes to your home or office with a subpoena demanding your documents, and starts to get rough, remember that he is only running a bluff. The bum may get photographs made of all your stuff before the committee even gets a look at it. In any case, the odds are that he will stash away copies of everything in his own files that may embarrass or damage you in the future. These committee detective jobs are temporary, you know.

When the showdown comes, make the committee specify exactly what books, papers and documents it demands. The federal courts also are lending themselves to this dirty business nowadays through the so-called "examination" before trial. Blackmailers are invited to start insincere suits and then, by court subpoena, to make you produce papers having no conceivable relation to the issues. That is a topic for another time.

These facts concerning the

Q—Is there such an animal as a flying squirrel?

A—Yes, but it does not actually fly. It has a membrane of skin between the front and hind legs, with the aid of which it can glide through the air for considerable distance.

Q—What is a pidgin English?

A—The word "pidgin" is a Chinese corruption of the word "business." Pidgin English was developed many years ago as a sort of trade language between foreigners and the Chinese. It uses English words, usually corrupted in pronunciation, arranged somewhat in the Chinese fashion.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, March 22 — Orville Winchell, Kingston resident who died Sunday afternoon, was a native of this section, his boyhood home having been the present Robert Story house, built by his grandfather, Elder Jacob Winchell, pastor of the Olive and Hurley Baptist Church about 100 years ago. Orville, whose wife, the former Evaline Bogart, preceded him in death by only a few weeks, had been a farmer at Flatbush and other places before moving to Kingston. He was a member of the board of the local Old School Baptist Church of which his ancestor, Lemuel Winchell, first storekeeper in this town, was one of the founders in 1799.

Communion services for all three of the churches of the Ashokan Methodist charge will be held Maundy Thursday, March 22, in the Glenford Church at 7:30 p. m.

A local reader has figured up a total of 190 persons in Shokan this winter, a population which, of course, is greatly augmented when members of the summer colony arrive from the city in June. Not being so well acquainted down in Ashokan, he did not determine the number of year 'round residents of the lower village but reckoned the total a little smaller, and the number of city folk considerably less than in this part of the twin villages.

Bernard Casablanca of Washington Heights spent the weekend here and did some work on the interior of his village center bungalow. Bernard has the metal lathing completed on the partitions for the first floor which will have three good-sized rooms and a bath.

Doubtless some of the readers will remember Margaret Burgher and Ella McGibbon who resided in the old village as young women. Ella was the daughter of Dominie McGibbon who moved to the Reformed parsonage from New Kingston. The girls became the first and second wives, respectively of Olney Smith, a farmer at Dunraven, near Margaretville, who on this past March 4 celebrated his 95th birthday. Olney Smith was born on the farm which he owns; he still drives a Model T. Ford—plans to operate his sawmill this spring, and only last fall he took a ride on the ski lift up the Belleayre Trail at Highmount.

The morning school bus of the Pine Hill line which leaves the corner store shortly after 7:30 for Kingston is generally filled to capacity before reaching town. It takes the old road through Glenford.

The Allen Stoutenburgh place in the Ohayo Mountain area has been sold to Hanus Schimmerling, famous New York composer who also is choir leader and arranger of music at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The new owner will move to northern Hurley next month and the Stoutenburgh family plan to make their home in the town of Woodstock.

Mrs. Floyd Barringer of Samsonville spent Sunday with her mother, Bertha E. Constable.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Malaspina, who on March 11 became the parents of a daughter, Mary Lee, are new residents of Shokan as of last year. Their home is the former Frank Barringer place or Golden VanBenschoten residence of earlier years.

Having a birthday March 21 is Edward G. West, war veteran and Olive Legion Post commander. A civil engineer with the state conservation department, he is married to the former Ruth Riseley of Allaben . . . Birthdays falling on Thursday of this week include those of Mrs. Albert J. Didier and Duane Winnie. The former Lillian Longyear was born and brought up in Shokan and has made her home in Flushing for many years. She has three grown children. Duane, youngest of three sons of Seymour and Vivia Winnie, was brought up at Ashokan, attended Kingston High School and is now in the army.

Wm. J. Loos of Inwood, L. I., has had a well driven on his summer home property along the east side of the Ridge road. Allen Stoutenburgh, currently driving a well for Bernard Casablanca in the village center, is having boulder trouble at a depth of 14 feet.

Ransom DeSilva, lifelong resident of the Millbrook Valley, died Feb. 22, at Margaretville in his 80th year. He was the father of Grant DeSilva, Boiceville resident and former Ashokan general storekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bender are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Bonnie Lee. The baby is a great-grandchild of Bertha Shimer who earlier in the winter came to reside at the Margaret Rainey home here.

Velma Personeus, who joined the army air forces several weeks ago, is getting along well at Camp Lee, Va., where she is supplementing her K.H.S. course in typing and stenography.

Big maple operators up the line are anticipating a price of $5-$7 a gallon for syrup this spring. They base their prediction on results thus far in a rather unsatisfactory season, together with the likelihood of there being no frost in the ground, come April.

Strawberries contain a larger percentage of water than does milk.

Congress knows that it is common practice to entice information out of witnesses who are accused of no offense whatever, under a pledge of secrecy, and slip it to blackguards of the pro-Communist, pro-Roosevelt press and notorious columnists who thus fake up reputations as great reporters. The rogue senators and congressmen who do this receive favorable publicity as their price for abusing their powers and degrading the prestige of Congress. Although, as I say, this is common knowledge among members of both Houses and among Washington newspaper people, the citizens do not know how disgraceful the situation really is.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, March 22 — Orville Winchell, Kingston resident who died Sunday afternoon, was a native of this section, his boyhood home having been the present Robert Story house, built by his grandfather, Elder Jacob Winchell, pastor of the Olive and Hurley Baptist Church about 100 years ago. Orville, whose wife, the former Evaline Bogart, preceded him in death by only a few weeks, had been a farmer at Flatbush and other places before moving to Kingston. He was a member of the board of the local Old School Baptist Church of which his ancestor, Lemuel Winchell, first storekeeper in this town, was one of the founders in 1799.

Communion services for all three of the churches of the Ashokan Methodist charge will be held Maundy Thursday, March 22, in the Glenford Church at 7:30 p. m.

A local reader has figured up a total of 190 persons in Shokan this winter, a population which, of course, is greatly augmented when members of the summer colony arrive from the city in June. Not being so well acquainted down in Ashokan, he did not determine the number of year 'round residents of the lower village but reckoned the total a little smaller, and the number of city folk considerably less than in this part of the twin villages.

Bernard Casablanca of Washington Heights spent the weekend here and did some work on the interior of his village center bungalow. Bernard has the metal lathing completed on the partitions for the first floor which will have three good-sized rooms and a bath.

Doubtless some of the readers will remember Margaret Burgher and Ella McGibbon who resided in the old village as young women. Ella was the daughter of Dominie McGibbon who moved to the Reformed parsonage from New Kingston. The girls became the first and second wives, respectively of Olney Smith, a farmer at Dunraven, near Margaretville, who on this past March 4 celebrated his 95th birthday. Olney Smith was born on the farm which he owns; he still drives a Model T. Ford—plans to operate his sawmill this spring, and only last fall he took a ride on the ski lift up the Belleayre Trail at Highmount.

The morning school bus of the Pine Hill line which leaves the corner store shortly after 7:30 for Kingston is generally filled to capacity before reaching town. It takes the old road through Glenford.

The Allen Stoutenburgh place in the Ohayo Mountain area has been sold to Hanus Schimmerling, famous New York composer who also is choir leader and arranger of music at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The new owner will move to northern Hurley next month and the Stoutenburgh family plan to make their home in the town of Woodstock.

Mrs. Floyd Barringer of Samsonville spent Sunday with her mother, Bertha E. Constable.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Malaspina, who on March 11 became the parents of a daughter, Mary Lee, are new residents of Shokan as of last year. Their home is the former Frank Barringer place or Golden VanBenschoten residence of earlier years.

Having a birthday March 21 is Edward G. West, war veteran and Olive Legion Post commander. A civil engineer with the state conservation department, he is married to the former Ruth Riseley of Allaben . . . Birthdays falling on Thursday of this week include those of Mrs. Albert J. Didier and Duane Winnie. The former Lillian Longyear was born and brought up in Shokan and has made her home in Flushing for many years. She has three grown children. Duane, youngest of three sons of Seymour and Vivia Winnie, was brought up at Ashokan, attended Kingston High School and is now in the army.

Wm. J. Loos of Inwood, L. I., has had a well driven on his summer home property along the east side of the Ridge road. Allen Stoutenburgh, currently driving a well for Bernard Casablanca in the village center, is having boulder trouble at a depth of 14 feet.

Ransom DeSilva, lifelong resident of the Millbrook Valley, died Feb. 22, at Margaretville in his 80th year. He was the father of Grant DeSilva, Boiceville resident and former Ashokan general storekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bender are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Bonnie Lee. The baby is a great-grandchild of Bertha Shimer who earlier in the winter came to reside at the Margaret Rainey home here.

Velma Personeus, who joined the army air forces several weeks ago, is getting along well at Camp Lee, Va., where she is supplementing her K.H.S. course in typing and stenography.

Big maple operators up the line are anticipating a price of $5-$7 a gallon for syrup this spring. They base their prediction on results thus far in a rather unsatisfactory season, together with the likelihood of there being no frost in the ground, come April.

Strawberries contain a larger percentage of water than does milk.

As Pegler Sees It

powers and practices of congressional committees and the mistreatment of citizens for the political benefit of such characters as Isidore Lipschutz and Arthur J. Goldsmith, the Kapok Dragon of the Waldorf Tower, and their societies and leagues for or against this or that are well known to Congress. Congress knows that it is common practice to entice information out of witnesses who are accused of no offense whatever, under a pledge of secrecy, and slip it to blackguards of the pro-Communist, pro-Roosevelt press and notorious columnists who thus fake up reputations as great reporters. The rogue senators and congressmen who do this receive favorable publicity as their price for abusing their powers and degrading the prestige of Congress. Although, as I say, this is common knowledge among members of both Houses and among Washington newspaper people, the citizens do not know how disgraceful the situation really is.

KRUMVILLE

Krumville, March 22 — Miss Edith Jacobsen who is attending school in White Plains is spending the Easter recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arne Jacobsen.

The children of the local school were treated to an egg hunt by the Parent-Teacher Association on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ernest Rickert and daughter Diana and Mrs. Burton Connaughton and daughter Merle were Kingston shoppers Saturday.

New swings and playground equipment are being set on the school grounds.

Mrs. Arne Jacobsen entertained several ladies of the community on Tuesday evening.

The local school closed Wednesday for the Easter holiday vacation. It will reopen on Monday, April 2.

Uptown Ministers Unite Good Friday For Noon Services

Congregations and pastors of six of the uptown Protestant churches will unite Good Friday for the traditional three-hour service of the cross in the sanctuary of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

A group of women of the chancel choir will sing the Seven Last Words in the setting of J. S. Wessell, composer.

The united committee announces that the schedule for this year's meditations will be as follows:

12 noon — "Father Forgive Them," the Rev. William J. McVey, First Presbyterian Church.

12:30 p. m.—"This Day Thou Shalt Be With Me," the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, host church.

12:55 p. m.—"Woman Behold Thy Son," the Rev. Donald E. Brown, First Baptist Church.

1:20 p. m.—"Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me," the Rev. Dr. Burton F. Tarr, district superintendent of the Methodist Church.

1:45 p. m.—"I Thirst," the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, Old First Reformed Church.

2:10 p. m.—"It Is Finished," the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, St. James Methodist Church.

2:35 p. m.—"Father into Thy Hands," the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, Reformed Church of the Comforter.

In announcing this service to the affiliates of the churches, the committee points out that the service is so conducted as to allow worshippers to come as they please and leave when they must. The service will be continuous from noon until 3 p. m.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, March 21—Special Easter services will be held in the Reformed Church Sunday at 9:45 a. m. with the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, pastor, in charge. The sacrament of communion will be observed. Special music has been arranged.

A special Lenten service will be held in the Ulster Park Church tonight at 7:30. Members of the congregation of the Union Center Community Church have been invited to participate. The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter in Kingston, will preach. There will be special organ music and singing by the choir.

The consistory of the church will hold its annual fellowship supper in the Grange Hall, March 28, at 6 p. m. All members of the community are cordially invited. A special entertainment feature has been planned.

Ulster Grange, 969, will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8. A good attendance is desired as the third and fourth degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates. Plans will be made for the Grange visit to Clintondale Grange on April 2.

Have a Grand Union Backed-By-Bond tenderized ham at room temperature. Wipe with damp cloth. Cut off rind and leave long thin points radiating from shank of ham. From tips of these points cut through the fat in straight lines to other end of ham. As ham bakes these lines will make an attractive ridged effect. Place fat side of ham up in shallow baking pan. Allow 20-25 minutes per pound of ham. Bake in slow oven 300°. Meantime, open a can of Ocean Spray whole berry cranberry sauce. Melt. Strain liquid from same into a bowl. Save the whole berries. Add ⅓ cup each water and vinegar and ⅔ cup sugar to cranberry liquid; also add 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon ground cloves. Baste ham with this mixture 2 or 3 times. Remove from oven about 30 minutes before serving. Arrange and attach whole cranberries with toothpicks to top of ridges. Return to oven and baste with remaining juice.

Have a Grand Union Backed-By-Bond tenderized ham at room temperature. Wipe with damp cloth. Cut off rind and leave long thin points radiating from shank of ham. From tips of these points cut through the fat in straight lines to other end of ham. As ham bakes these lines will make an attractive ridged effect. Place fat side of ham up in shallow baking pan. Allow 20-25 minutes per pound of ham. Bake in slow oven 300°. Meantime, open a can of Ocean Spray whole berry cranberry sauce. Melt. Strain liquid from same into a bowl. Save the whole berries. Add ½ cup each water and vinegar and ½ cup sugar to cranberry liquid; also add 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon ground cloves. Baste ham with this mixture 2 or 3 times. Remove from oven about 30 minutes before serving. Arrange and attach whole cranberries with toothpicks to top of ridges. Return to oven and baste with remaining juice.

Happy Easter Eating to All!

Uptown Ministers Unite Good Friday For Noon Services

Congregations and pastors of six of the uptown Protestant churches will unite Good Friday for the traditional three-hour service of the cross in the sanctuary of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

A group of women of the chancel choir will sing the Seven Last Words in the setting of J. S. Wessell, composer.

The united committee announces that the schedule for this year's meditations will be as follows:

12:30 p. m.—"This Day Thou Shalt Be With Me," the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, host church.

12:55 p. m.—"Woman Behold Thy Son," the Rev. Donald E. Brown, First Baptist Church.

1:20 p. m.—"Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me," the Rev. Dr. Burton F. Tarr, district superintendent of the Methodist Church.

1:45 p. m.—"I Thirst," the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, Old First Reformed Church.

2:10 p. m.—"It Is Finished," the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, St. James Methodist Church.

2:35 p. m.—"Father into Thy Hands," the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, Reformed Church of the Comforter.

In announcing this service to the affiliates of the churches, the committee points out that the service is so conducted as to allow worshippers to come as they please and leave when they must. The service will be continuous from noon until 3 p. m.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, March 21—Special Easter services will be held in the Reformed Church Sunday at 9:45 a. m. with the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, pastor, in charge. The sacrament of communion will be observed. Special music has been arranged.

A special Lenten service will be held in the Ulster Park Church tonight at 7:30. Members of the congregation of the Union Center Community Church have been invited to participate. The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter in Kingston, will preach. There will be special organ music and singing by the choir.

The consistory of the church will hold its annual fellowship supper in the Grange Hall, March 28, at 6 p. m. All members of the community are cordially invited. A special entertainment feature has been planned.

Ulster Grange, 969, will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8. A good attendance is desired as the third and fourth degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates. Plans will be made for the Grange visit to Clintondale Grange on April 2.

Mrs. Victor Cannon has returned to her home, Cannon's Landing, after a four month visit to France and Spain.

Mrs. J. M. Pennington of Kingston was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Winfield Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Herring returned home Saturday after spending six weeks in Florida.

Commissioner and Mrs. C. C.

A card party will be held in the town auditorium in Port Ewen March 27 under the auspices of the Town of Esopus Nursing Committee. Proceeds will be used to re-stock the loan closet.

The Ulster Park School, District 2, closed today for the spring recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Figge have moved into their new home.

Mrs. Earle O. Terwilliger and son, Robert have returned from a trip to Alabama where they visited Earle Terwilliger, Jr., who is stationed in that state.

Funds Bill Vetoed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey has vetoed a bill which would have permitted a county to deposit funds in a bank in which the county treasurer was a stockholder or officer. Dewey said yesterday he could see no justification for making an exception to the "common law rule" that no public official may be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the governmental unit which he serves. The bill would have required approval of the state comptroller and the county board of supervisors before such deposits could be made. Dewey said the bill would, in effect, require the comptroller to pass upon the "moral character" of the treasurer, and the condition of the bank.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Business Group Dines, Talks

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Business Association luncheon at Deanie's on Wednesday was well attended by members.

During the meeting considerable discussion took place concerning the new Woodstock road sign on Route 28 in Hurley. Some of the members felt that the sign had been placed too high above the level of the road for good visibility. It was proposed that the sign be moved nearer Kingston and a new sign be placed near the intersection of Route 375 and Route 28, directing visitors to Woodstock. Another sign directing people to Woodstock will be placed in the Mt. Tremper area.

The association has arranged for a parking lot with the cooperation with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company and the New York Telephone Company, with an entrance between Fred Stern's new building and Joseph Riela's barber shop. This space will accommodate approximately 50 cars.

Another parking site is under consideration for the same nummer of cars.

The secretary of the association has been instructed to inform all members that they have been requested to give individual donations to the American Red Cross drive, and to give as much as they possibly can.

Edgar Bowman gave a short talk on the importance of the credit bureau and its salient phases as concerned with delinquent accounts, which have been greatly reduced. Members have been instructed that information given by the credit bureau on delinquent accounts is strictly confidential.

It was decided at the meeting that the Woodstock stores would no longer close in respect to residents of the village who have died. Flowers and condolences will be sent from the association.

A motion was made that Supervisor Kenneth Wilson be contacted in order that black-top road work in the village not be done during the busy summer months.

New Gallery Coming

Woodstock, March 22 — Fanny Ganso, of the Ganso Gallery of 125 East 57th street, New York, has announced that there is to be a Ganso Gallery in Woodstock this summer. Details concerning location of the gallery, participating artists and dates of exhibitions will be announced later.

Egg Hunt Slated

Woodstock, March 22—The annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by Joseph Forno will be held on the Woodstock green following church services on Sunday morning, between 12:30 and 1 p. m. The eggs for the hunt are being donated by Lawrence Shultis and the eggs will be colored as in past years by Mrs. Joseph Forno and her daughter Kathy.

One-Man Show

Woodstock, March 22 — Mollie Higgins Smith will run a series of one-man shows of paintings at the new restaurant which is to be opened shortly by Willis Wilber and Emile Howland in the new Fred Stern building. A number of the artists have exhibited in Mrs. Smith's previous gallery in the Cousin's building.

Varsity Has Game

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Varsity will play a team comprised of members of the Kingston High School team, on Friday night at the Woodstock court.

Basketball Dinner

Woodstock, March 22 — There will be a basketball dinner at Deanie's on Tuesday, April 17, at 7 p. m.

Van Wagenen Leads Victory Over Pine Hill

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Varsity basketball team was victorious over Pine Hill last Tuesday night 73 to 60. High scorer for Woodstock was Paul Van Wagenen with 21 points. High scorer for Pine Hill was Kelly with 20.

Woodstock (73)—Waterous, rf 7; N. Foster, lf 8; Paul Van Wagenen, lf 21; Fritz Schroder, c 17; Don West, rg 12; Joseph Holdridge, lg 8.

Data for Woodstock Promotional Map Needed by Monday

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Business Association is requesting all of its members to furnish the group with full, detailed and complete information concerning their exact trade styles, addresses, telephone numbers and nature of their business to be included in the promotional map being prepared at the Association's expense. The map will be distributed in large numbers throughout this state and others promoting the many cultural and recreational activites which Woodstock has to offer. The map was suggested some months ago and is now ready to go to the printers so that it will be finished in time to distribute it prior to the coming summer season.

President William Hand said, "We will list each of our members, and in addition of course the promotional piece, which the map really is, will contain many interesting items telling the recipient what Woodstock has to offer. We hope that every member will send in the requested information promptly and more particularly, that anyone in business in Woodstock, who is not yet a member, but who plans to join the association will do so before next Monday, March 26, when the forms close—and thus his name and business interests will receive wide publicity. Obviously, new maps would not be printed until next year after this current issue goes to press, so we hope all who intend to join will contact the association at the earliest moment—in any event before next Monday."

The map will be something of a souvenier mailing piece and will be obtainable in limited quantities from the association office.

Ladies Plan Sale

Woodstock, March 22—The ladies of the Woodstock Methodist Church are holding a food sale on Saturday, March 24, at the Woodstock Dairies beginning at 10 a. m.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 22—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary on Wednesday.

Warren Graver, who broke his leg recently, has had a reoccurance of an attack of the flu. His sister Sheron Ann has also been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case of Wittenberg, returned Sunday from a week's trip to Florida.

A shower was given for Miss Ann Wohlfarht at the Dutch Reformed Church recreation room on Tuesday night. About 28 guests, relatives and friends attended. Miss Wohlfarht will be married on Saturday to Earl Pekley of Dalton, Mass. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson France.

Captain George Hart, who left early in March for Fort Hood, Texas, is now attending a course at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George Berk entertained for dinner last Sunday night Dr. and Mrs. Edward Gurland and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bowman.

Mrs. Austin Mecklem is in New York for a short visit.

Woodstock, March 22 — Mrs. William Shirey is building a home on the Bearsville road and expects to reside there about June 1.

Lt. Charles Cleveland, son of Mrs. Orestes Cleveland, who is with the 309 Fighter Squadron of the American Air Force in Manston, England, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scherpenberg, of Shady, left Sunday by car for Seattle and will continue from there to Juneau, Alaska by plane. Mr. Scherpenberg is a meterologist and will be engaged in that line of work while in Alaska for two years.

Houston Richards will direct the next production of the Coach House Players of Kingston, "Alarm Clock" which was performed during the 1920's. Other Woodstockers participating in the production will be Mrs. Katherine Burgevin and George Hard. The play is a take-off on New York night life and what happens to a country family in the city during the roaring '20s.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bears will spend next week-end in Woodstock.

Miss Alice Cullnane and Miss Alice Coulter will spend the Easter week-end as the guests of Mrs. Arthur F. Wyman.

James Grant Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Miller and Peter Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cooper, Woodstock, students at Blair Acadamy, Blairstown, N. J., have returned home for the spring vacation. Both students are members of the sophomore class.

Still Is Gravely Ill

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22 (AP)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg became 67 years old today still gravely ill at his home here. The Michigan Republican, who has undergone a series of major operations in the last 17 months and suffered a setback Feb. 26, was reported slightly improved. However his personal physician, Dr. A. B. Smith, said "the senator's condition is about the same. The remission of symptoms has extended throughout the day." Vandenberg, an expert on foreign policy, will complete 23 years in the Senate March 31.

A Real Hair-Brush

A new clothes brush of wool fibers firmly bonded with a plastic (neoprene) rapidly picks up lint, powder, dog or cat hairs, etc. It also perks up suede shoes and handbags, riding them of dust and helping to attain a new appearance.

Restaurant Price Charts Are Ready

Copies of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 11, which covers all restaurants, are available at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce office. A small supply has been received from the district office of Price Stabilization in New York.

In making this announcement today Lawrence J. MacAvery, chamber president, stated that CPR-11 requires the filing of a statement on or before April 30 by all restaurants which will enable them to set ceiling prices based on the year of operation before July 1, 1950. The information asked for by the Office of Price Stabilization is outlined in the regulation.

Big Four Try Again

Paris, March 22 (AP)—Discouraged but unwilling to talk about quitting, the Big Four deputies try again today to break the deadlock over wording of an agenda for the proposed foreign ministers meeting. Yesterday's session was a complete loss as far as results were concerned, a western spokesman said. Soviet Deputy Andrei Gromyko spent two hours and ten minutes repeating arguments he has used many times in the past.

Funds Bill Vetoed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey has vetoed a bill which would have permitted a county to deposit funds in a bank in which the county treasurer was a stockholder or officer. Dewey said yesterday he could see no justification for making an exception to the "common law rule" that no public official may be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the governmental unit which he serves. The bill would have required approval of the state comptroller and the county board of supervisors before such deposits could be made. Dewey said the bill would, in effect, require the comptroller to pass upon the "moral character" of the treasurer, and the condition of the bank.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Business Group Dines, Talks

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Business Association luncheon at Deanie's on Wednesday was well attended by members.

During the meeting considerable discussion took place concerning the new Woodstock road sign on Route 28 in Hurley. Some of the members felt that the sign had been placed too high above the level of the road for good visibility. It was proposed that the sign be moved nearer Kingston and a new sign be placed near the intersection of Route 375 and Route 28, directing visitors to Woodstock. Another sign directing people to Woodstock will be placed in the Mt. Tremper area.

The association has arranged for a parking lot with the cooperation with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company and the New York Telephone Company, with an entrance between Fred Stern's new building and Joseph Riela's barber shop. This space will accommodate approximately 50 cars.

Another parking site is under consideration for the same nummer of cars.

The secretary of the association has been instructed to inform all members that they have been requested to give individual donations to the American Red Cross drive, and to give as much as they possibly can.

Edgar Bowman gave a short talk on the importance of the credit bureau and its salient phases as concerned with delinquent accounts, which have been greatly reduced. Members have been instructed that information given by the credit bureau on delinquent accounts is strictly confidential.

It was decided at the meeting that the Woodstock stores would no longer close in respect to residents of the village who have died. Flowers and condolences will be sent from the association.

A motion was made that Supervisor Kenneth Wilson be contacted in order that black-top road work in the village not be done during the busy summer months.

New Gallery Coming

Woodstock, March 22 — Fanny Ganso, of the Ganso Gallery of 125 East 57th street, New York, has announced that there is to be a Ganso Gallery in Woodstock this summer. Details concerning location of the gallery, participating artists and dates of exhibitions will be announced later.

Egg Hunt Slated

Woodstock, March 22—The annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by Joseph Forno will be held on the Woodstock green following church services on Sunday morning, between 12:30 and 1 p. m. The eggs for the hunt are being donated by Lawrence Shultis and the eggs will be colored as in past years by Mrs. Joseph Forno and her daughter Kathy.

One-Man Show

Woodstock, March 22 — Mollie Higgins Smith will run a series of one-man shows of paintings at the new restaurant which is to be opened shortly by Willis Wilber and Emile Howland in the new Fred Stern building. A number of the artists have exhibited in Mrs. Smith's previous gallery in the Cousin's building.

Varsity Has Game

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Varsity will play a team comprised of members of the Kingston High School team, on Friday night at the Woodstock court.

Basketball Dinner

Woodstock, March 22 — There will be a basketball dinner at Deanie's on Tuesday, April 17, at 7 p. m.

Van Wagenen Leads Victory Over Pine Hill

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Varsity basketball team was victorious over Pine Hill last Tuesday night 73 to 60. High scorer for Woodstock was Paul Van Wagenen with 21 points. High scorer for Pine Hill was Kelly with 20.

Woodstock (73)—Waterous, rf 7; N. Foster, lf 8; Paul Van Wagenen, lf 21; Fritz Schroder, c 17; Don West, rg 12; Joseph Holdridge, lg 8.

Data for Woodstock Promotional Map Needed by Monday

Woodstock, March 22 — The Woodstock Business Association is requesting all of its members to furnish the group with full, detailed and complete information concerning their exact trade styles, addresses, telephone numbers and nature of their business to be included in the promotional map being prepared at the Association's expense. The map will be distributed in large numbers throughout this state and others promoting the many cultural and recreational activites which Woodstock has to offer. The map was suggested some months ago and is now ready to go to the printers so that it will be finished in time to distribute it prior to the coming summer season.

President William Hand said, "We will list each of our members, and in addition of course the promotional piece, which the map really is, will contain many interesting items telling the recipient what Woodstock has to offer. We hope that every member will send in the requested information promptly and more particularly, that anyone in business in Woodstock, who is not yet a member, but who plans to join the association will do so before next Monday, March 26, when the forms close—and thus his name and business interests will receive wide publicity. Obviously, new maps would not be printed until next year after this current issue goes to press, so we hope all who intend to join will contact the association at the earliest moment—in any event before next Monday."

The map will be something of a souvenier mailing piece and will be obtainable in limited quantities from the association office.

Ladies Plan Sale

Woodstock, March 22—The ladies of the Woodstock Methodist Church are holding a food sale on Saturday, March 24, at the Woodstock Dairies beginning at 10 a. m.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 22—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary on Wednesday.

Warren Graver, who broke his leg recently, has had a reoccurance of an attack of the flu. His sister Sheron Ann has also been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case of Wittenberg, returned Sunday from a week's trip to Florida.

A shower was given for Miss Ann Wohlfarht at the Dutch Reformed Church recreation room on Tuesday night. About 28 guests, relatives and friends attended. Miss Wohlfarht will be married on Saturday to Earl Pekley of Dalton, Mass. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson France.

Captain George Hart, who left early in March for Fort Hood, Texas, is now attending a course at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George Berk entertained for dinner last Sunday night Dr. and Mrs. Edward Gurland and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bowman.

Mrs. Austin Mecklem is in New York for a short visit.

Woodstock, March 22 — Mrs. William Shirey is building a home on the Bearsville road and expects to reside there about June 1.

Lt. Charles Cleveland, son of Mrs. Orestes Cleveland, who is with the 309 Fighter Squadron of the American Air Force in Manston, England, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scherpenberg, of Shady, left Sunday by car for Seattle and will continue from there to Juneau, Alaska by plane. Mr. Scherpenberg is a meterologist and will be engaged in that line of work while in Alaska for two years.

Houston Richards will direct the next production of the Coach House Players of Kingston, "Alarm Clock" which was performed during the 1920's. Other Woodstockers participating in the production will be Mrs. Katherine Burgevin and George Hard. The play is a take-off on New York night life and what happens to a country family in the city during the roaring '20s.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bears will spend next week-end in Woodstock.

Miss Alice Cullnane and Miss Alice Coulter will spend the Easter week-end as the guests of Mrs. Arthur F. Wyman.

Proclamation

March 23rd, 1951, being Good Friday, I would ask the Citizens of Kingston to give emphasis to the great spiritual truth of that day.

Throughout the Christian Nations of the world, people will gather in their houses of worship to commemorate the death of Christ. His supreme sacrifice is a constant reminder to us that no greater love hath any man than this, that He laid down His life for His friends.

We must gird ourselves closely with this truth in order to stand strong against the forces ready to destroy Christianity throughout the world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I call upon each one to attend his House of God and to pray that the message of Christ may become the cornerstone of our faith and living.

Berlanti Firm Is Lowest Bidder on Paltz-Trail Road

The Berlanti Construction Co., Inc., of Harrison, was low bidder at $289,678.65 for construction of about four miles of the road leading from New Paltz to the Minnewaska Trail, it was announced today.

Four bids were received on the project at Albany yesterday by Bertram D. Tallamy, New York state superintendent of public works. It will make the route more direct between New Paltz and Lake Minnewaska.

The dirt road from the Mohonk gate house, near New Paltz to U. S. Route 44, will be improved. The new road will have an 18-foot pavement of asphalt concrete constructed of six inches of gravel and a ten-inch foundation course of field or quarry stone.

The new road starts about 500 feet east of the Lake Mohonk entrance and swings to the south on a new location through the lands of C. K. Woodbridge and the Smiley Brothers' property. It will turn west through the J. W. Egan property and cross the Libertyville road at right angles near the Egan pig yard continuing through Smileys' woods and fields to the sharp turn in the existing road 1,500 feet east of the stream between the Smiley and Jenkins properties.

It will then follow along the line of the present road for three-quarters of a mile and then swing to the west on an easy curve through the Jenkins apple orchard north of the old barn.

Following the old road again for 1,700 feet it will then cut through the oak woods about 150 feet north of the Botsakos entrance road and continue on a fill over the old road past the Peck woods.

At the Maria Brandes property the new line will turn southwest on new location for a mile and a half past the deserted house and through the Brandes, the State Conservation Department, the Warren Deyo and the Myer properties, to an intersection with the Gardiner-Minnewaska State Highway, Route 44. This last mile and a half will, in general, follow the line of an old abandoned roadway now overgrown with oak and sumac and used only by deer and deer hunters.

A new 12-foot span concrete culvert will be built at the stream crossing between the Smiley and Jenkins properties.

Traffic will be maintained during construction. The work will be under the direction of J. S. Bixby, district engineer of the department's Poughkeepsie office.

Shaw Estate Appraised

London, March 22 (AP) — Playwright George Bernard Shaw, a pioneer British Socialist who hated taxes, left an estate valued at $1,028,254.22 (£367,233) but reckoned after debts and taxes at $330,840, his will and an accounting disclosed today. The 14-page document directed that part of the money be used for promoting a 40-letter alphabet which was one of the Irish wit's pet projects. Shaw died last November in his little cottage at Ayot St. Lawrence at the age of 94.

THING OVER LONDON—This elongated object, now a familiar sight to Londoners, will be the symbol of the coming Festival of Britain when completed. Called the "Skylon," the thing will glow at night and will appear to hang in mid-air over the festival site on the south bank of the Thames.

THE GREAT BULL MARKETS

Proclamation

March 23rd, 1951, being Good Friday, I would ask the Citizens of Kingston to give emphasis to the great spiritual truth of that day.

Throughout the Christian Nations of the world, people will gather in their houses of worship to commemorate the death of Christ. His supreme sacrifice is a constant reminder to us that no greater love hath any man than this, that He laid down His life for His friends.

We must gird ourselves closely with this truth in order to stand strong against the forces ready to destroy Christianity throughout the world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I call upon each one to attend his House of God and to pray that the message of Christ may become the cornerstone of our faith and living.

Berlanti Firm Is Lowest Bidder on Paltz-Trail Road

The Berlanti Construction Co., Inc., of Harrison, was low bidder at $289,678.65 for construction of about four miles of the road leading from New Paltz to the Minnewaska Trail, it was announced today.

Four bids were received on the project at Albany yesterday by Bertram D. Tallamy, New York state superintendent of public works. It will make the route more direct between New Paltz and Lake Minnewaska.

The dirt road from the Mohonk gate house, near New Paltz to U. S. Route 44, will be improved. The new road will have an 18-foot pavement of asphalt concrete constructed of six inches of gravel and a ten-inch foundation course of field or quarry stone.

The new road starts about 500 feet east of the Lake Mohonk entrance and swings to the south on a new location through the lands of C. K. Woodbridge and the Smiley Brothers' property. It will turn west through the J. W. Egan property and cross the Libertyville road at right angles near the Egan pig yard continuing through Smileys' woods and fields to the sharp turn in the existing road 1,500 feet east of the stream between the Smiley and Jenkins properties.

It will then follow along the line of the present road for three-quarters of a mile and then swing to the west on an easy curve through the Jenkins apple orchard north of the old barn.

Following the old road again for 1,700 feet it will then cut through the oak woods about 150 feet north of the Botsakos entrance road and continue on a fill over the old road past the Peck woods.

At the Maria Brandes property the new line will turn southwest on new location for a mile and a half past the deserted house and through the Brandes, the State Conservation Department, the Warren Deyo and the Myer properties, to an intersection with the Gardiner-Minnewaska State Highway, Route 44. This last mile and a half will, in general, follow the line of an old abandoned roadway now overgrown with oak and sumac and used only by deer and deer hunters.

A new 12-foot span concrete culvert will be built at the stream crossing between the Smiley and Jenkins properties.

Traffic will be maintained during construction. The work will be under the direction of J. S. Bixby, district engineer of the department's Poughkeepsie office.

Shaw Estate Appraised

London, March 22 (AP) — Playwright George Bernard Shaw, a pioneer British Socialist who hated taxes, left an estate valued at $1,028,254.22 (£367,233) but reckoned after debts and taxes at $330,840, his will and an accounting disclosed today. The 14-page document directed that part of the money be used for promoting a 40-letter alphabet which was one of the Irish wit's pet projects. Shaw died last November in his little cottage at Ayot St. Lawrence at the age of 94.

THING OVER LONDON—This elongated object, now a familiar sight to Londoners, will be the symbol of the coming Festival of Britain when completed. Called the "Skylon," the thing will glow at night and will appear to hang in mid-air over the festival site on the south bank of the Thames.

Hiss Gives Self Up to Begin His Prison Sentence

New York, March 22 (AP)—Alger Hiss, one-time bright young star of President Roosevelt's New Deal, surrendered today to begin serving a five-year prison term for perjury.

The 46-year-old former high State Department official—his appeals to the higher courts rejected—gave himself up to Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Hiss was convicted Jan. 21, 1950 on two counts of perjury. The conviction, in effect, branded him a liar and traitor who betrayed his country by turning over government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, admitted courier of a Communist spy ring.

Surrenders to Marshal

The courtroom proceeding lasted less than half a minute. David Sweeney, court clerk, called out Hiss' name and the lanky, convicted perjurer surrendered himself into the custody of Chief U. S. Deputy Marshal Tom Farley.

Hiss arrived at the courthouse at 9:30 a. m. (E.S.T.), 40 minutes before he was scheduled to give himself up to begin serving his jail sentence.

He wore a tan suit, white shirt and a darker tan tie. His lawyers accompanied him.

Asked if he had any statement to make, the ex-diplomat smiled and said:

"I have nothing to add to the statement which I issued when the Supreme Court denied certiorari."

The U. S. Supreme Court last week refused to review the conviction. Hiss said then through his attorney that he would not contest the verdict further. But he stoutly maintained his innocence and expressed the belief that in time his name would be cleared.

Local Death Record

Robert Anthony Valli of West Park died Wednesday at his home. He is survived by his parents, George and Rose Marveggi Valli; and two sisters, Joan and Gloria Valli. The funeral will be held from the home of his parents Saturday at 10:30 a. m., thence to the Sacred Heart Church, Esopus, where the blessing will be given at 11 a. m. A requiem Mass will be offered at the Sacred Heart Church Monday at 9 a. m. for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Kingston.

John Deyo, formerly of Kingston, died this week at his home, 58 Lafayette street in Saugerties. Mr. Deyo, who had owned and operated garages in Cairo and Kingston, was the son of the late Joackin and Marsha Burger Deyo. He was born December 9, 1878. Surviving are his wife, Edith Yager Deyo; four brothers, Ira, Accord; Mose, Cairo; Warren, Kingston and Mervin, Kerhonkson; three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Hubert, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Fannie Sheldon, Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Mary Heer, Poughkeepsie. Funeral services will be held from the Deane and Deane Chapel in Catskill Friday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will follow in the Jefferson Rural Cemetery, Catskill. The Rev. John Van Heest will officiate. Mr. Deyo was a member of the Catskill Lodge, 1340, B.P.O.E., which will hold a service in the chapel tonight at 8 o'clock. Friends may call at the funeral chapel tonight.

Surveys Are Planned

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics is planning regular surveys of wages in New York city and 39 other major American cities. This was disclosed today when the House Appropriations Committee made public testimony by Ewan Clague, BLS commissioner, on requests for money to run his agency during the year that starts July 1. Clague explained that the bureau for many years has collected wage information by industries.

DIED

VALLI — Robert Anthony, on Wednesday, March 21, 1951, son of George and Rose Marveggi Valli, brother of Joan and Gloria Valli.

Funeral will be held from the home of his parents, West Park, N. Y., Saturday morning, March 24, 1951, at 10:30 o'clock, thence to Sacred Heart Church, Esopus, N. Y., where the blessing will be at 11 a. m. A requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a. m. for the repose of his soul on Monday morning, March 26, 1951. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

James E. Welch Dies; Was Local Policeman 37 Years

JAMES E. WELCH

James E. Welch, of 424 Hasbrouck avenue, who retired from the local police force last November after serving 37 years as a patrolman, died at his home early this afternoon. Police headquarters was notified of his death at about 1 p. m.

The officer, who wore shield No. 1 for many years was appointed to the force on Dec. 30, 1913. His retirement was effective last Nov. 30.

For several years Officer Welch did traffic duty at the intersection near St. Mary's school, at other corners in the city near schools and at the busy intersection at Broadway and Pine Grove avenue.

Former Marine Engineer

Before his appointment to the department in 1913, Officer Welch had been a marine engineer employed by the Cornell Steamboat Company. He was also known as a baseball player for the old Rondout A.C.

The late patrolman served under four police chiefs: J. Allan Wood, Charles Phinney, Ernest A. Boss and Raymond VanBuren. His work on traffic duty for the past several years made him one of the best known officers in the local force and he was especially well known among the hundreds of school children whose trips to and from school were safeguarded by him for many years.

Patrolman George Loughran, who had served for some time as a special officer, was named to fill the department vacancy left by the retirement of Officer Welch.

Patrolmen Welch and Robert F. Healey were honored in December 1938, by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association for their completion of 25 years of service.

Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Radio Facsimile Used at Columbia

New York, March 22 (AP)—Complete newspapers are being transmitted each day this week via a radio facsimile network.

The transmissions are being made over an experimental network operated by 15 students at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism.

Dean Carl W. Ackerman said the operation—covering parts of New York state, New Jersey and Pennsylvania — is "the first facsimile network in the history of broadcasting."

For five hours each day the students transmit the newspapers, complete with weather maps, cartoon strips, fashion notes and sports features.

The "faxpages" are addressed specifically to 10,000 delegates attending a farm and home week conference at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Relayed over four frequency-modulation stations, the pages are broadcast at the rate of one every three minutes.

Between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. (EST), the students send 80 8-by-11½-inch pages, equal to about 20 pages of a standard-sized newspaper.

'Table' Popularity

London, March 22 (AP)—Tablecloths may make Milwaukee more famous — at least in Britain. A Conservative member of Parliament gave notice today that on April 16 he will ask the chairman of the House of Commons Kitchen Committee: "Why certain tablecloths in the House of Commons dining room bear the legend 'Milwaukee University Club.'"

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, J.O.U.A.M., will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A full attendance is anticipated. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the business session.

Barefoot Boy in Trouble

Hollywood, (AP) — William Spaeth's specialty is walking barefoot across a bed of hot coals. It isn't difficult, he says, if you have tough feet and the coals are set up right. This time somebody crossed him up. Spaeth says you should use small bits of charcoal sprinkled on a bed of sand. As you step, the embers sink into the sand with no damage to the foot. From a hospital bed where he was recovering from second and third degree burns to his soles, Spaeth said that at a rehearsal for his act, somebody used kingsize coals. They didn't sink.

Members of Parliament have a special jail, situated in the Clock Tower of the House of Parliament.

"ROOM" WITH A VIEW—"Close that window," says John Muldowney, Tufts College student, as he arises in his cross-ventilated "bedroom" on the front lawn of a fraternity house on Professor Row, Medford, Mass. Muldowney, president of the college's inter-fraternity council, returned home late at night to find that pranksters had moved the entire contents of his room out onto the lawn. So he zipped himself into a sleeping bag and turned in.

Anastasia's Brother Is Denied Citizenship

New York, March 22 (AP)—Citizenship was denied today, at least temporarily, to Gerardo Anastasia, 38, a Brooklyn longshoreman, and a brother of Anthony Anastasia who was questioned by the Senate Crime Committee this week.

Federal Judge Albert Inch postposened signing Gerardo Anastasia's final citizenship application until April 24.

In the interim, it was announced, the U. S. attorney's Brooklyn office will investigate the two sponsors who had signed the application.

More Vital Than Sugar

Santiago, Chile, March 22 (AP)—In a democracy, newspapers are more important than sugar, says President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla. Chile's cabinet thinks so, too. Yesterday it supported the president's decision to rank newsprint as a more essential import than sugar. A refinery strike has caused a shortage of sugar. It was proposed that part of the dollar exchange set aside for purchase of newsprint be used to import sugar. President Gonzalez objected.

The length of the northern boundary of the United States, excluding Alaska, is 3,987 miles.

Americans are expected to consume 8,000,000 tons of sugar in 1951.

Big Gambling Take

Washington, March 22 (AP) — James J. Carroll told Senate crime investigators today a $20,000,000 a year gambling operation in East St. Louis, Ill., produced around $750,000 gross profit in 1949.

Carroll, for many years a St. Louis odds maker with a national reputation, said the East St. Louis operation was carried on by John Mooney and Michael Grady.

He acknowledged he had been associated with Mooney and Grady and said he got $110,000 in one year for "advice" and "financing." Carroll did not say what year that was. His lawyer had declared earlier that Carroll is now retired from the betting business.

Under questioning, Carroll denied he had ever received police protection or had discussed protection with police officials.

Plan to Salvage Ships in Pacific

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters are negotiating to salvage 410,000 tons of ships sunk around Pacific islands during World War Two.

Most of the hulks lie on the bottom at Palau, Saipan and Truk—one time Japanese island fortresses.

MacArthur's headquarters said private salvage corporations in Japan will be invited to submit bids April 6.

Yonkers Man Is Now Ambassador To Argentina

Washington, March 22 (AP) — Ellsworth Bunker of Yonkers, N. Y., was sworn in today as American ambassador to Argentina.

The former chairman of the board of the National Sugar Refining Co. replaces Stanton Griffis who recently became U. S. ambassador to Spain.

The tall, slim New Yorker goes to Argentina at a time when relations between the two countries are somewhat strained over the closing of the Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa.

The United States has taken the position that relations between the two countries will turn on what happens to La Prensa.

Bunker supplied a touch of humor to the usually dry swearing in ceremony at the State Department. Asked by photographers to say something while his picture was being taken, Bunker said with a smile:

"So help me God."

A lifelong business man, Bunker is delaying his departure to Argentina in order to confer with Argentine Foreign Minister Hipolito Jesus Paz and Argentine Ambassador Jeronimo Remorino.

Paz arrived here with Remorino yesterday to attend the inter-American conference opening on Monday at the Pan American Union.

Bunker told reporters he plans to see Paz and Remorino this afternoon. And he hopes to talk with them again before leaving.

He plans to sail from New York April 5 aboard the Moore-McCormack liner Argentina.

The new ambassador was reluctant to comment about his mission to Argentina. He said merely he had not been brought up to date sufficiently on the Argentine problems as yet to make any statement.

The oath of office was administered by John F. Simmons, State Department protocol officer, in the presence of Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., and other State Department officials.

Railroads Reject Union's Proposal

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The nation's railroads today rejected a union proposal for settlement of their two-year-old dispute with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

D. P. Loomis, representing the carriers, announced the railroads' decision to the Senate Labor Committee at a public hearing.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), the committee chairman, had called on the carriers earlier to accept the settlement proposal put forth by the trainmen.

Murray had said he was hopeful that if the carriers and the trainmen could get together, it would lead also to a settlement of differences between the railroads and three other operating unions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 22 (AP)—Air lines soared out ahead of a rising stock market today in fairly active trading.

Air lines spread across the tape in large blocks at the opening and then continued more active than the rest of the market with gains running to nearly a dollar a share.

This is the third day of their intensified popularity.

Bright earnings prospects is one of the prime reasons ascribed for the higher movement.

Elsewhere in the market the advance carried to nearly $2 a share, but for the most part the gains were measured at under a dollar.

Oils stepped out with substantial mark-ups in the wake of the air lines. Higher prices under relaxed federal controls was suggested as one cause for the enthusiasm.

Chemicals and aircrafts trailed along, and there were a few individual issues worth mentioning.

Sears Roebuck showed the most activity in the merchandising group with a fractional advance. The company showed net profits amounting to $6.08 for the year ended Jan. 31 as against $4.58 a share the previous 12 months.

Avco was heavily traded for a time, once in a block of 7,700 shares, at prices unchanged to a small fraction above the previous close. The company reported earnings equal to 40 cents a share for the quarter ended Feb. 28 as against 15 cents the year before.

Doesn't Plan to Quit

New York, March 22 (AP)—William O'Dwyer said today he does no plan to resign as ambassador to Mexico as a result of testimony about political gift-giving that forced City Water Commissioner James Moran to quit. The alleged "good will" gifts were reported to Senate crime investigators yesterday by John P. Crane, president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association. He said he gave Moran $55,000 and O'Dwyer $10,000.

Hiss Gives Self Up to Begin His Prison Sentence

New York, March 22 (AP)—Alger Hiss, one-time bright young star of President Roosevelt's New Deal, surrendered today to begin serving a five-year prison term for perjury.

The 46-year-old former high State Department official—his appeals to the higher courts rejected—gave himself up to Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Hiss was convicted Jan. 21, 1950 on two counts of perjury. The conviction, in effect, branded him a liar and traitor who betrayed his country by turning over government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, admitted courier of a Communist spy ring.

Surrenders to Marshal

The courtroom proceeding lasted less than half a minute. David Sweeney, court clerk, called out Hiss' name and the lanky, convicted perjurer surrendered himself into the custody of Chief U. S. Deputy Marshal Tom Farley.

Hiss arrived at the courthouse at 9:30 a. m. (E.S.T.), 40 minutes before he was scheduled to give himself up to begin serving his jail sentence.

He wore a tan suit, white shirt and a darker tan tie. His lawyers accompanied him.

Asked if he had any statement to make, the ex-diplomat smiled and said:

"I have nothing to add to the statement which I issued when the Supreme Court denied certiorari."

The U. S. Supreme Court last week refused to review the conviction. Hiss said then through his attorney that he would not contest the verdict further. But he stoutly maintained his innocence and expressed the belief that in time his name would be cleared.

James E. Welch Dies; Was Local Policeman 37 Years

JAMES E. WELCH

James E. Welch, of 424 Hasbrouck avenue, who retired from the local police force last November after serving 37 years as a patrolman, died at his home early this afternoon. Police headquarters was notified of his death at about 1 p. m.

The officer, who wore shield No. 1 for many years was appointed to the force on Dec. 30, 1913. His retirement was effective last Nov. 30.

For several years Officer Welch did traffic duty at the intersection near St. Mary's school, at other corners in the city near schools and at the busy intersection at Broadway and Pine Grove avenue.

Former Marine Engineer

Before his appointment to the department in 1913, Officer Welch had been a marine engineer employed by the Cornell Steamboat Company. He was also known as a baseball player for the old Rondout A.C.

The late patrolman served under four police chiefs: J. Allan Wood, Charles Phinney, Ernest A. Boss and Raymond VanBuren. His work on traffic duty for the past several years made him one of the best known officers in the local force and he was especially well known among the hundreds of school children whose trips to and from school were safeguarded by him for many years.

Patrolman George Loughran, who had served for some time as a special officer, was named to fill the department vacancy left by the retirement of Officer Welch.

Patrolmen Welch and Robert F. Healey were honored in December 1938, by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association for their completion of 25 years of service.

Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Radio Facsimile Used at Columbia

New York, March 22 (AP)—Complete newspapers are being transmitted each day this week via a radio facsimile network.

The transmissions are being made over an experimental network operated by 15 students at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism.

Dean Carl W. Ackerman said the operation—covering parts of New York state, New Jersey and Pennsylvania — is "the first facsimile network in the history of broadcasting."

For five hours each day the students transmit the newspapers, complete with weather maps, cartoon strips, fashion notes and sports features.

The "faxpages" are addressed specifically to 10,000 delegates attending a farm and home week conference at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Relayed over four frequency-modulation stations, the pages are broadcast at the rate of one every three minutes.

Between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. (EST), the students send 80 8-by-11½-inch pages, equal to about 20 pages of a standard-sized newspaper.

'Table' Popularity

London, March 22 (AP)—Tablecloths may make Milwaukee more famous — at least in Britain. A Conservative member of Parliament gave notice today that on April 16 he will ask the chairman of the House of Commons Kitchen Committee: "Why certain tablecloths in the House of Commons dining room bear the legend 'Milwaukee University Club.'"

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

Barefoot Boy in Trouble

Hollywood, (AP) — William Spaeth's specialty is walking barefoot across a bed of hot coals. It isn't difficult, he says, if you have tough feet and the coals are set up right. This time somebody crossed him up. Spaeth says you should use small bits of charcoal sprinkled on a bed of sand. As you step, the embers sink into the sand with no damage to the foot. From a hospital bed where he was recovering from second and third degree burns to his soles, Spaeth said that at a rehearsal for his act, somebody used king-size coals. They didn't sink.

Members of Parliament have a special jail, situated in the Clock Tower of the House of Parliament.

"ROOM" WITH A VIEW—"Close that window," says John Muldowney, Tufts College student, as he arises in his cross-ventilated "bedroom" on the front lawn of a fraternity house on Professor Row, Medford, Mass. Muldowney, president of the college's inter-fraternity council, returned home late at night to find that pranksters had moved the entire contents of his room out onto the lawn. So he zipped himself into a sleeping bag and turned in.

Anastasia's Brother Is Denied Citizenship

New York, March 22 (AP)—Citizenship was denied today, at least temporarily, to Gerardo Anastasia, 38, a Brooklyn longshoreman, and a brother of Anthony Anastasia who was questioned by the Senate Crime Committee this week.

Federal Judge Albert Inch postposened signing Gerardo Anastasia's final citizenship application until April 24.

In the interim, it was announced, the U. S. attorney's Brooklyn office will investigate the two sponsors who had signed the application.

Anastasia was one of 175 persons who took the oath of citizenship before Judge Inch in Brooklyn on Tuesday. His brother, Anthony, appeared before the Senate Crime Committee Monday night.

More Vital Than Sugar

Santiago, Chile, March 22 (AP)—In a democracy, newspapers are more important than sugar, says President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla. Chile's cabinet thinks so, too. Yesterday it supported the president's decision to rank newsprint as a more essential import than sugar. A refinery strike has caused a shortage of sugar. It was proposed that part of the dollar exchange set aside for purchase of newsprint be used to import sugar. President Gonzalez objected.

The length of the northern boundary of the United States, excluding Alaska, is 3,987 miles.

Americans are expected to consume 8,000,000 tons of sugar in 1951.

Big Gambling Take

Washington, March 22 (AP) — James J. Carroll told Senate crime investigators today a $20,000,000 a year gambling operation in East St. Louis, Ill., produced around $750,000 gross profit in 1949.

Carroll, for many years a St. Louis odds maker with a national reputation, said the East St. Louis operation was carried on by John Mooney and Michael Grady.

He acknowledged he had been associated with Mooney and Grady and said he got $110,000 in one year for "advice" and "financing." Carroll did not say what year that was. His lawyer had declared earlier that Carroll is now retired from the betting business.

Under questioning, Carroll denied he had ever received police protection or had discussed protection with police officials.

Plan to Salvage Ships in Pacific

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters are negotiating to salvage 410,000 tons of ships sunk around Pacific islands during World War Two.

Most of the hulks lie on the bottom at Palau, Saipan and Truk—one time Japanese island fortresses.

MacArthur's headquarters said private salvage corporations in Japan will be invited to submit bids April 6.

Yonkers Man Is Now Ambassador To Argentina

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Ellsworth Bunker of Yonkers, N. Y., was sworn in today as American ambassador to Argentina.

The former chairman of the board of the National Sugar Refining Co. replaces Stanton Griffis who recently became U. S. ambassador to Spain.

The tall, slim New Yorker goes to Argentina at a time when relations between the two countries are somewhat strained over the closing of the Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa.

The United States has taken the position that relations between the two countries will turn on what happens to La Prensa.

Bunker supplied a touch of humor to the usually dry swearing in ceremony at the State Department. Asked by photographers to say something while his picture was being taken, Bunker said with a smile:

"So help me God."

A lifelong business man, Bunker is delaying his departure to Argentina in order to confer with Argentine Foreign Minister Hipolito Jesus Paz and Argentine Ambassador Jeronimo Remorino.

Paz arrived here with Remorino yesterday to attend the inter-American conference opening on Monday at the Pan American Union.

Bunker told reporters he plans to see Paz and Remorino this afternoon. And he hopes to talk with them again before leaving.

He plans to sail from New York April 5 aboard the Moore-McCormack liner Argentina.

The new ambassador was reluctant to comment about his mission to Argentina. He said merely he had not been brought up to date sufficiently on the Argentine problems as yet to make any statement.

The oath of office was administered by John F. Simmons, State Department protocol officer, in the presence of Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., and other State Department officials.

Railroads Reject Union's Proposal

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The nation's railroads today rejected a union proposal for settlement of their two-year-old dispute with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

D. P. Loomis, representing the carriers, announced the railroads' decision to the Senate Labor Committee at a public hearing.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), the committee chairman, had called on the carriers earlier to accept the settlement proposal put forth by the trainmen.

Murray had said he was hopeful that if the carriers and the trainmen could get together, it would lead also to a settlement of differences between the railroads and three other operating unions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 22 (AP)—Air lines soared out ahead of a rising stock market today in fairly active trading.

Air lines spread across the tape in large blocks at the opening and then continued more active than the rest of the market with gains running to nearly a dollar a share.

This is the third day of their intensified popularity.

Bright earnings prospects is one of the prime reasons ascribed for the higher movement.

Elsewhere in the market the advance carried to nearly $2 a share, but for the most part the gains were measured at under a dollar.

Oils stepped out with substantial mark-ups in the wake of the air lines. Higher prices under relaxed federal controls was suggested as one cause for the enthusiasm.

Chemicals and aircrafts trailed along, and there were a few individual issues worth mentioning.

Sears Roebuck showed the most activity in the merchandising group with a fractional advance. The company showed net profits amounting to $6.08 for the year ended Jan. 31 as against $4.58 a share the previous 12 months.

Avco was heavily traded for a time, once in a block of 7,700 shares, at prices unchanged to a small fraction above the previous close. The company reported earnings equal to 40 cents a share for the quarter ended Feb. 28 as against 15 cents the year before.

James E. Welch Dies; Was Local Policeman 37 Years

JAMES E. WELCH

James E. Welch, of 424 Hasbrouck avenue, who retired from the local police force last November after serving 37 years as a patrolman, died at his home early this afternoon. Police headquarters was notified of his death at about 1 p. m.

The officer, who wore shield No. 1 for many years was appointed to the force on Dec. 30, 1913. His retirement was effective last Nov. 30.

For several years Officer Welch did traffic duty at the intersection near St. Mary's school, at other corners in the city near schools and at the busy intersection at Broadway and Pine Grove avenue.

Former Marine Engineer

Before his appointment to the department in 1913, Officer Welch had been a marine engineer employed by the Cornell Steamboat Company. He was also known as a baseball player for the old Rondout A.C.

The late patrolman served under four police chiefs: J. Allan Wood, Charles Phinney, Ernest A. Boss and Raymond VanBuren. His work on traffic duty for the past several years made him one of the best known officers in the local force and he was especially well known among the hundreds of school children whose trips to and from school were safeguarded by him for many years.

Patrolman George Loughran, who had served for some time as a special officer, was named to fill the department vacancy left by the retirement of Officer Welch.

Patrolmen Welch and Robert F. Healey were honored in December 1938, by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association for their completion of 25 years of service.

Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Radio Facsimile Used at Columbia

New York, March 22 (AP)—Complete newspapers are being transmitted each day this week via a radio facsimile network.

The transmissions are being made over an experimental network operated by 15 students at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism.

Dean Carl W. Ackerman said the operation—covering parts of New York state, New Jersey and Pennsylvania — is "the first facsimile network in the history of broadcasting."

For five hours each day the students transmit the newspapers, complete with weather maps, cartoon strips, fashion notes and sports features.

The "faxpages" are addressed specifically to 10,000 delegates attending a farm and home week conference at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Relayed over four frequency-modulation stations, the pages are broadcast at the rate of one every three minutes.

Between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. (EST), the students send 80 8-by-11½-inch pages, equal to about 20 pages of a standard-sized newspaper.

'Table' Popularity

London, March 22 (AP)—Tablecloths may make Milwaukee more famous—at least in Britain. A Conservative member of Parliament gave notice today that on April 16 he will ask the chairman of the House of Commons Kitchen Committee: "Why certain tablecloths in the House of Commons dining room bear the legend 'Milwaukee University Club.'"

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, J.O.U.A.M., will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A full attendance is anticipated. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the business session.

Barefoot Boy in Trouble

Hollywood, (AP) — William Spaeth's specialty is walking barefoot across a bed of hot coals. It isn't difficult, he says, if you have tough feet and the coals are set up right. This time somebody crossed him up. Spaeth says you should use small bits of charcoal sprinkled on a bed of sand. As you step, the embers sink into the sand with no damage to the foot. From a hospital bed where he was recovering from second and third degree burns to his soles, Spaeth said that at a rehearsal for his act, somebody used king-size coals. They didn't sink.

Members of Parliament have a special jail, situated in the Clock Tower of the House of Parliament.

"ROOM" WITH A VIEW—"Close that window," says John Muldowney, Tufts College student, as he arises in his cross-ventilated "bedroom" on the front lawn of a fraternity house on Professor Row, Medford, Mass. Muldowney, president of the college's inter-fraternity council, returned home late at night to find that pranksters had moved the entire contents of his room out onto the lawn. So he zipped himself into a sleeping bag and turned in.

Anastasia's Brother Is Denied Citizenship

New York, March 22 (AP)—Citizenship was denied today, at least temporarily, to Gerardo Anastasia, 38, a Brooklyn longshoreman, and a brother of Anthony Anastasia who was questioned by the Senate Crime Committee this week.

Federal Judge Albert Inch postposened signing Gerardo Anastasia's final citizenship application until April 24.

In the interim, it was announced, the U. S. attorney's Brooklyn office will investigate the two sponsors who had signed the application.

Anastasia was one of 173 persons who took the oath of citizenship before Judge Inch in Brooklyn on Tuesday. His brother, Anthony, appeared before the Senate Crime Committee Monday night.

More Vital Than Sugar

Santiago, Chile, March 22 (AP)—In a democracy, newspapers are more important than sugar, says President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla. Chile's cabinet thinks so, too. Yesterday it supported the president's decision to rank newsprint as a more essential import than sugar. A refinery strike has caused a shortage of sugar. It was proposed that part of the dollar exchange set aside for purchase of newsprint be used to import sugar. President Gonzalez objected.

The length of the northern boundary of the United States, excluding Alaska, is 3,987 miles.

Americans are expected to consume 8,000,000 tons of sugar in 1951.

Late Bulletin

Big Gambling Take

Washington, March 22 (AP) — James J. Carroll told Senate crime investigators today a $20,000,000-a year gambling operation in East St. Louis, Ill., produced around $750,000 gross profit in 1949.

Carroll, for many years a St. Louis odds maker with a national reputation, said the East St. Louis operation was carried on by John Mooney and Michael Grady.

He acknowledged he had been associated with Mooney and Grady and said he got $110,000 in one year for "advice" and "financing." Carroll did not say what year that was. His lawyer had declared earlier that Carroll is now retired from the betting business.

Under questioning, Carroll denied he had ever received police protection or had discussed protection with police officials.

Plan to Salvage Ships in Pacific

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters are negotiating to salvage 410,000 tons of ships sunk around Pacific islands during World War Two.

Most of the hulks lie on the bottom at Palau, Saipan and Truk—one time Japanese island fortresses.

MacArthur's headquarters said private salvage corporations in Japan will be invited to submit bids April 6.

Yonkers Man Is Now Ambassador To Argentina

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Ellsworth Bunker of Yonkers, N. Y., was sworn in today as American ambassador to Argentina.

The former chairman of the board of the National Sugar Refining Co., replaces Stanton Griffis who recently became U. S. ambassador to Spain.

The tall, slim New Yorker goes to Argentina at a time when relations between the two countries are somewhat strained over the closing of the Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa.

The United States has taken the position that relations between the two countries will turn on what happens to La Prensa.

Bunker supplied a touch of humor to the usually dry swearing in ceremony at the State Department. Asked by photographers to say something while his picture was being taken, Bunker said with a smile:

"So help me God."

A lifelong business man, Bunker is delaying his departure to Argentina in order to confer with Argentine Foreign Minister Hipolito Jesus Paz and Argentine Ambassador Jeronimo Remorino.

Paz arrived here with Remorino yesterday to attend the inter-American conference opening on Monday at the Pan American Union.

Bunker told reporters he plans to see Paz and Remorino this afternoon. And he hopes to talk with them again before leaving.

He plans to sail from New York April 5 aboard the Moore-McCormack liner Argentina.

The new ambassador was reluctant to comment about his mission to Argentina. He said merely he had not been brought up to date sufficiently on the Argentine problems as yet to make any statement.

The oath of office was administered by John F. Simmons, State Department protocol officer, in the presence of Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., and other State Department officials.

Railroads Reject Union's Proposal

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The nation's railroads today rejected a union proposal for settlement of their two-year-old dispute with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

D. P. Loomis, representing the carriers, announced the railroads' decision to the Senate Labor Committee at a public hearing.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), the committee chairman, had called on the carriers earlier to accept the settlement proposal put forth by the trainmen.

Murray had said he was hopeful that if the carriers and the trainmen could get together, it would lead also to a settlement of differences between the railroads and three other operating unions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 22 (AP)—Air lines soared out ahead of a rising stock market today in fairly active trading.

Air lines spread across the tape in large blocks at the opening and then continued more active than the rest of the market with gains running to nearly a dollar a share.

This is the third day of their intensified popularity.

Bright earnings prospects is one of the prime reasons ascribed for the higher movement.

Elsewhere in the market the advance carried to nearly $2 a share, but for the most part the gains were measured at under a dollar.

Oils stepped out with substantial mark-ups in the wake of the air lines. Higher prices under relaxed federal controls was suggested as one cause for the enthusiasm.

Chemicals and aircrafts trailed along, and there were a few individual issues worth mentioning.

Sears Roebuck showed the most activity in the merchandising group with a fractional advance. The company showed net profits amounting to $6.08 for the year ended Jan. 31 as against $4.58 a share the previous 12 months.

Avco was heavily traded for a time, once in a block of 7,700 shares, at prices unchanged to a small fraction above the previous close. The company reported earnings equal to 40 cents a share for the quarter ended Feb. 28 as against 15 cents the year before.

Blaze in Sawdust

at 1:55 p. m., and Stone Ridge, High Falls and Accord were dispatched.

Trucks Stand By

The fire was virtually out by 4 p. m. but the Kerhonkson men and apparatus remained at the scene as a precautionary measure until about midnight.

Schwab said the loss was not covered by insurance. In addition to the building and lumber, some machinery and other equipment was apparently damaged and no estimate of loss has been made.

Up to 30 men have been employed at the plant, which was turning out butcher blocks for the U. S. Army. The building was located in the Mombaccus section on the Samsonville road about three miles north of Kerhonkson.

Doesn't Plan to Quit

New York, March 22 (AP)—William O'Dwyer said today he does no plan to resign as ambassador to Mexico as a result of testimony about political gift-giving that forced City Water Commissioner James Moran to quit. The alleged "good will" gifts were reported to Senate crime investigators yesterday by John P. Crane, president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association. He said he gave Moran $55,000 and O'Dwyer $10,000.

Governor Signs Bill

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey signed a bill today authorizing the State Power Authority to promote the public development of hydro-electric power in the Niagara river.

No Court Slated On Good Friday; One Case Settled

One case was settled before trial in Supreme Court, Wednesday, the jury was selected in another and it was announced that there would be no session on Good Friday.

When it was moved for trial, the negligence case was announced settled. It was brought by Judith Broskie and another, infants, etc., against Michael Gradzki and others.

Attorneys were Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman for plaintiffs and John A. McKenna and Rubin Racine for defendants.

A jury was selected in case No. 480, Paul Kaman, Sr., against Harold F. Ellsworth and another, an action for possession of property. After selection of jury court recessed until this morning.

Flanagan & Ortale appeared for plaintiff and Bernard A. Culloton for defendants.

Misnomer

The "furs" known as broadtail, Persian lamb, astrakhan, and karakul, all come from the same animal, the karakul sheep, which has wool, not fur.

Refuses Bathing Suit Tour, Preps for Opera

Yolande Betbeze, the current Miss America, rehearses in Mobile, Ala., for an operatic role after refusing to make a bathing suit tour. She said American taste was changing and that the public now insists on talent along with its beauty. (AP Wirephoto).

Packing Unionists Meet

Chicago, March 22 (AP)—Officials of two big meat packing unions met to discuss plans for a possible nationwide strike of more than 200,000 workers. They also had for a study a wage hike offered by two major packers in an attempt to avert the walkout. The workers are free to strike after midnight Sunday, at the expiration of present wage agreements. One union said it has "advised" midwest and southwest livestock producers and shippers not to ship cattle to Chicago because a strike is "imminent."

Teaspoons vary in size as much as 40 per cent.

La Prensa Editor Reported Arrested

Buenos Aires, March 22 (AP)—Government-seized La Prensa's editor and publisher, Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, was reported behind bars today as President Juan D. Peron's regime struck back quickly at the newspaper's latest move in its fight for independent life.

The arrest of Gainza Paz, to serve a 15-day sentence for contempt of Congress, was ordered after he sent statements to Congress charging its seizure of his strike-bound newspaper violated Argentina's constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press.

Two other La Prensa officials, Business Manager Manuel Constenla and Attorney Manuel Ordonez, while not arrested, were put under police guard and ordered to speak to no one.

The action against the newspaper officials was ordered by the congressional committee which seized the newspaper earlier this week and began an investigation of its operations.

Police refused to confirm that Gainza Paz was under arrest, but a reliable source said he was jailed in the congressional building early last night.

Subpoenas Issued

The congressional committee, which took over La Prensa's records Tuesday, has issued subpoenas for the paper's key officials to appear at the congressional building today.

La Prensa's big plant has been shuttered nearly two months by boycotts of the pro-government news vendors and printers unions and now by congressional resolution. The properties are estimated to be worth more than $2,000,000.

The paper, which frequently has criticized the Peron regime, was ordered seized by a Congress in which Peron's party holds all the Senate seats and dominates the House of Deputies.

In Cordoba, meanwhile, another independent newspaper La Voz Del Interior has been suspended because the news vendors union has boycotted it in a dispute over distribution rights just as the union did La Prensa. La Voz Del Interior has not been published since March 1.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, March 22 — Union Holy Week services began on Monday evening, March 19, in the New Paltz Methodist Church with the Rev. William Imler in charge. He spoke on "What Will You Give Me?" (Words of Judas). Mrs. Rena Vicoli sang "The Holy City." Tuesday, March 20, in the Clintondale Friends Church, the Rev. John Van Strien talked on "I Don't Know the Man" (Words of Peter). The Rev. Gerret Wullschleger took charge on Wednesday evening at the Modena Methodist Church. His topic: "He Stirreth Up the People." (Words of those whose special privileges were threatened). At the Gardiner Church on Thursday the Rev. James A. Brimelow's theme is "I Find No Fault in the Man." (Words of Pilate). On Good Friday, March 23, a communion service will be held at the New Paltz Reformed Church. All services will be at 8 p. m.

Russ Carpenter of Plattekill spoke on the subject of gun smithing at a meeting of the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club held recently at the Palmer House. He exhibited several rifles which he had converted for sports use. La Prensa Editor Reported Arrested

Buenos Aires, March 22 (AP)—Government-seized La Prensa's editor and publisher, Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, was reported behind bars today as President Juan D. Peron's regime struck back quickly at the newspaper's latest move in its fight for independent life.

The arrest of Gainza Paz, to serve a 15-day sentence for contempt of Congress, was ordered after he sent statements to Congress charging its seizure of his strike-bound newspaper violated Argentina's constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press.

Two other La Prensa officials, Business Manager Manuel Constenla and Attorney Manuel Ordonez, while not arrested, were put under police guard and ordered to speak to no one.

The action against the newspaper officials was ordered by the congressional committee which seized the newspaper earlier this week and began an investigation of its operations.

Police refused to confirm that Gainza Paz was under arrest, but a reliable source said he was jailed in the congressional building early last night.

Subpoenas Issued

The congressional committee, which took over La Prensa's records Tuesday, has issued subpoenas for the paper's key officials to appear at the congressional building today.

La Prensa's big plant has been shuttered nearly two months by boycotts of the pro-government news vendors and printers unions and now by congressional resolution. The properties are estimated to be worth more than $2,000,000.

The paper, which frequently has criticized the Peron regime, was ordered seized by a Congress in which Peron's party holds all the Senate seats and dominates the House of Deputies.

In Cordoba, meanwhile, another independent newspaper La Voz Del Interior has been suspended because the news vendors union has boycotted it in a dispute over distribution rights just as the union did La Prensa. La Voz Del Interior has not been published since March 1.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, March 22 — Union Holy Week services began on Monday evening, March 19, in the New Paltz Methodist Church with the Rev. William Imler in charge. He spoke on "What Will You Give Me?" (Words of Judas). Mrs. Rena Vicoli sang "The Holy City." Tuesday, March 20, in the Clintondale Friends Church, the Rev. John Van Strien talked on "I Don't Know the Man" (Words of Peter). The Rev. Gerret Wullschleger took charge on Wednesday evening at the Modena Methodist Church. His topic: "He Stirreth Up the People." (Words of those whose special privileges were threatened). At the Gardiner Church on Thursday the Rev. James A. Brimelow's theme is "I Find No Fault in the Man." (Words of Pilate). On Good Friday, March 23, a communion service will be held at the New Paltz Reformed Church. All services will be at 8 p. m.

Russ Carpenter of Plattekill spoke on the subject of gun smithing at a meeting of the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club held recently at the Palmer House. He exhibited several rifles which he had converted for sports use. The members also enjoyed a showing of a motion picture, "Trout Streams Forever," and a series of color slides on the activities of beaver and deer in the local mountain area.

Siamese Twin Fish

San Pedro, Calif., (AP)—A pair of Siamese twin fish are on display in an aquarium here. The twins, joined at their stomachs, are marble mollies reared by Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kirby. At the age of 28 weeks, longer than most Siamese twins live according to scientists, they were put on display in a museum tank.

A four-inch pipe will carry about 16 times as much water as a one-inch pipe.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Use Your Aces To Best Advantage

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Everybody knows that an ace will usually win a trick. It is not quite so well known, however, that the player who holds the ace should try to capture a high card with it. This will tend to promote the value of lesser honors in the partnership hands.

Once this principle of promotion is thoroughly understood, it is possible to go one step farther. You not only try to get good value for your own aces, but you also try to make the opponents get poor value for theirs. This principle was the background of the play of today's hand.

West opened the king of diamonds, and dummy won with the ace. South saw that he would sooner or later have to lose two diamonds and a club. The best chance to avoid defeat consisted in making three club tricks, so that South's losing heart could be discarded on a good club.

Declarer began by cashing dummy's ace of spades, and continued by leading the next trump to the ten in his own hand. Then he could lead a low club towards dummy. It was obvious from West's bidding that the ace of clubs was in that hand, and South wanted West to get only low clubs with the ace.

West properly played his low club, and dummy won with the jack. A careless player might have returned a club and put up the king from the South hand, but this declarer was not careless. He led the jack of spades to his own queen, and then led back his remaining low club.

This time West had to play his ace. Dummy could play low, and now nothing could stop South from making three club tricks—and the contract.

If South had sacrificed the king of clubs in order to knock out West's ace, dummy would win tricks with the queen and jack of clubs, but not with the five of clubs. By then East's ten of clubs would be promoted to winning rank.

Choir Clinic

Those making the trip were Sylvia Kern, Belle Campbell, Lois Deyo, Jean Wells, Joan Timpson and Ramona Leonard, sopranos; Connie Perry, Pat Dixon, Dorothy Marabel, Phyllis Weiner, and Cynthia Steketee, altos; William Roosa, William Burger, DeCosta Dawson, Theron Snyder and Kenneth Hotaling, tenors; Jack Brown, Robert Eckert, Michael Dugan, Bob Cahill and Jack Morris. The base section was represented by Chase Gruvy and Carl Constant. Also Danny Raymond, Robert Dolan, Robert Golstein, James Young, Robert Woodman and Robert Mericle.

French Honor Society

French National Honor Society inducted 16 new members into the organization at a special assembly Thursday. The charter with the names of the members was presented to Principal John Martin following an address by Bert Tandy, Y.M.C.A. secretary.

The following students were initiated: Nancy Braddon, Thomas Brower, Ruth Cohn, Alice Sibble, Barbara Galati, Carolyn Koenig, Gertrude Linck, Carolyn Powers, Janice Powers, Elaine Solomon, Joan Sowers, Juduth Strong, Marilyn Van Nostrand, Elaine Van Vliet, James Wrinn and William Zates.

To qualify for membership, candidates must have a 90 average in French and 80 average in other subjects, no subject below 75. Membership was limited to 10 per cent of all the French students.

Junior Movie

Contrary to rumor, the Junior Class will again present its annual eighth period movie Thursday, April 5.

The exact film to be shown is not yet known since three choices must be submitted to the company who then forward the one which is available. Under consideration are: "Anna and the King of Siam," "Keep the Kingdom," and "A Bell for Adano."

Tickets are available in the central corridor during the activity period. They also may be purchased from the following: Jean Milliken, Joe Erena, Linda Van Deusen, Dot Tarr, Evelyn Zelickman, Tom Brower, Beatrice Newkirk, Arlene Semilof, Jack Brown, Barbara Hutton, Harry Craft, Annlouise Palisi, Gerry Billings, Carl Constant, Pete Bruck and Ed Bower.

Class president, Joe Erena explains, "in spite of rumors circulating around school, the junior class movie will be held. It is unfortunate that the first date selected conflicted with a previously scheduled paid assembly and due to other activities it has had to be postponed until April 5.

"The junior class is anticipating enthusiastic support from the entire student body," he said.

Discuss Cage 'Fix'

Mrs. DeWitt's third period Social Studies class held a recent panel discussion in the library.

"What conditions encourage the basketball scandal and what should be done to solve them," was the question put forth by the acting moderator, Robert Goldstein.

In addition to the class members, Charles Tiano, Freeman sports writer; Principal John Martin, Theron Culver, vice-principal; and Coach G. Warren Kias, Kingston High's coach, also attended.

Scholarship Exams

Regents scholarship exams took place March 7 and 8 with 27 seniors participating.

Participants of both the University and Cornell University State scholarships were Joan Barnovitz, Florence Friedman, John Henville, Paul Koster, Frederick Mower, Louis Nosenzo, Ruth Paley, Neil Poley and Sally Ann Sherman.

Others who took the University scholarship were Eileen Brophy, Sally Ann Castiglione, Alice Dibbell, Michael Dugan, Robert Gauthier, John Gill, Gerard Hickey, Helen Hogan, Elinor Howard, Carol Kelley, Frank Tapo, Donald Lyons, Cornelia Perry, Frederick Rudisch, William Schroder, Marilyn Werbalowsky, Irving Wisneski and Margaret Braddon, who also took the state scholarship for children of deceased and disabled veterans.

A.A. Party

The annual A.A. party has been set for April 28. The theme of the event, which is chiefly concerned with sports, has not yet been decided.

The following committees have been organized to work on different phases of the event: Band, Janet Davis, chairman; Irene Miller, and Marni Paley; publicity, Will Hansen, chairman; Charlie Bostic, Mary Myers, Phyllis Ambrose and Gus Emig.

Serving on the decoration committee are George McDonough, chairman; Janet Davis, John Koch, Chill Caruso and Naomi Lurie, while those on the entertainment committee are Esther Howard, chairman; Bill Leonard, Jay Rider, Bob Baumer and Una Schaffer. Jo DiMicco, chairman; Irene Miller, Vincent Van Bramer, and Janet Alte make up the chaperone committee.

U. S. Athletes Accused Of Taking Photos

Buenos Aires, March 22 (AP)—U. S. athletes at the recent Pan American games here were accused last night of taking photographs under FBI orders in an attempt to depict Argentina as a totalitarian nation.

The charge, levelled by the government newspaper Noticias Graficas, was described as "ridiculous" by a Federal Bureau of Investigation spokesman in Washington. He said "the FBI has not even been in contact with the athletes."

The paper said police had seized photographs from two members of the U. S. team—William Roetzheim, Jr., of Florida State College at Tallahassee and Stanley Stanczyk of Miami—which proved there was a plot to damage Argentina's prestige abroad.

The report said the athletes asked soldiers on duty to pose for motion pictures. One picture, it said, made it appear that the soldiers were searching a civilian at gunpoint.

Police confiscated the pictures and returned the camera, the report said.

'Best Dressed' Chosen

New York, March 22 (AP)—The pre-Easter season of "best dressed" lists was amplified today by the 10 best-dressed men in America, as announced by the Custom Tailors Guild of America. It follows: Government, Eric Johnston, economic stabilization chief; law, Rudolph Halley, chief counsel for the Kefauver committee; radio, Phil Baker; sports, baseball's Ralph Kiner; society, W. Averell Harriman; television, Jan Murray; military, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; business, Louis A. Voltter, paper industry executive; music, Sammy Kaye; movies, Clark Gable.

Canada is larger than the United States proper and Alaska combined.

54 War Dead Sail

Moji, Japan, March 22 (AP)—Fifty-four war dead from Korean battlefields sailed today for the United States aboard the transport Wodstock Victory. It was the second group of American war dead from Korea to be shipped home. Flags flew at half mast and a military band played a musical salute as the ship left the pier.

e Your Aces Best Advantage

verybody knows that an ace usually win a trick. It is not e so well known, however, t the player who holds the ace uld try to capture a high card h it. This will tend to promote value of lesser honors in the tnership hands.

nce this principle of promotion thoroughly understood, it is sible to go one step farther. not only try to get good ue for your own aces, but you try to make the opponents poor value for theirs. This nciple was the background of play of today's hand.

West opened the king of diands, and dummy won with the South saw that he would ner or later have to lose two monds and a club. The best nce to avoid defeat consisted making three club tricks, so t South's losing heart could be carded on a good club.

Declarer began by cashing dummy's ace of spades, and continued by leading the next trump to the ten in his own hand. Then he could lead a low club towards dummy. It was obvious from West's bidding that the ace of clubs was in that hand, and South wanted West to get only low clubs with the ace.

Everybody knows that an ace will usually win a trick. It is not quite so well known, however, that the player who holds the ace should try to capture a high card with it. This will tend to promote the value of lesser honors in the partnership hands.

Once this principle of promotion is thoroughly understood, it is possible to go one step farther. You not only try to get good value for your own aces, but you also try to make the opponents get poor value for theirs. This principle was the background of the play of today's hand.

West opened the king of diamonds, and dummy won with the ace. South saw that he would sooner or later have to lose two diamonds and a club. The best chance to avoid defeat consisted in making three club tricks, so that South's losing heart could be discarded on a good club.

Declarer began by cashing dummy's ace of spades, and continued by leading the next trump to the ten in his own hand. Then he could lead a low club towards dummy. It was obvious from West's bidding that the ace of clubs was in that hand, and South wanted West to get only low clubs with the ace.

West properly played his low club, and dummy won with the jack. A careless player might have returned a club and put up the king from the South hand, but this declarer was not careless. He led the jack of spades to his own queen, and then led back his remaining low club.

This time West had to play his ace. Dummy could play low, and now nothing could stop South from making three club tricks—and the contract.

If South had sacrificed the king of clubs in order to knock out West's ace, dummy would win tricks with the queen and jack of clubs, but not with the five of clubs. By then East's ten of clubs would be promoted to winning rank.

K.H.S. News

Choir Clinic

Last week 32 members of the A Capella Choir, accompanied by Leonard Stine, director, attended the two-day choral clinic at the New Paltz State Teachers College conducted by Miss Helen Hosemen, head of Potsdam music department.

Those making the trip were Sylvia Kern, Belle Campbell, Lois Deyo, Jean Wells, Joan Timpson and Ramona Leonard, sopranos; Connie Perry, Pat Dixon, Dorothy Marabel, Phyllis Weiner, and Cynthia Steketee, altos; William Roosa, William Burger, DeCosta Dawson, Theron Snyder and Kenneth Hotaling, tenors; Jack Brown, Robert Eckert, Michael Dugan, Bob Cahill and Jack Morris. The base section was represented by Chase Gruvy and Carl Constant. Also Danny Raymond, Robert Dolan, Robert Golstein, James Young, Robert Woodman and Robert Mericle.

French Honor Society

French National Honor Society inducted 16 new members into the organization at a special assembly Thursday. The charter with the names of the members was presented to Principal John Martin following an address by Bert Tandy, Y.M.C.A. secretary.

The following students were initiated: Nancy Braddon, Thomas Brower, Ruth Cohn, Alice Sibble, Barbara Galati, Carolyn Koenig, Gertrude Linck, Carolyn Powers, Janice Powers, Elaine Solomon, Joan Sowers, Juduth Strong, Marilyn Van Nostrand, Elaine Van Vliet, James Wrinn and William Zates.

To qualify for membership, candidates must have a 90 average in French and 80 average in other subjects, no subject below 75. Membership was limited to 10 per cent of all the French students.

Junior Movie

Contrary to rumor, the Junior Class will again present its annual eighth period movie Thursday, April 5.

The exact film to be shown is not yet known since three choices must be submitted to the company who then forward the one which is available. Under consideration are: "Anna and the King of Siam," "Keep the Kingdom," and "A Bell for Adano."

Tickets are available in the central corridor during the activity period. They also may be purchased from the following: Jean Milliken, Joe Erena, Linda Van Deusen, Dot Tarr, Evelyn Zelickman, Tom Brower, Beatrice Newkirk, Arlene Semilof, Jack Brown, Barbara Hutton, Harry Craft, Annlouise Palisi, Gerry Billings, Carl Constant, Pete Bruck and Ed Bower.

Class president, Joe Erena explains, "in spite of rumors circulating around school, the junior class movie will be held. It is unfortunate that the first date selected conflicted with a previously scheduled paid assembly and due to other activities it has had to be postponed until April 5.

"The junior class is anticipating enthusiastic support from the entire student body," he said.

Discuss Cage 'Fix'

Mrs. DeWitt's third period Social Studies class held a recent panel discussion in the library.

"What conditions encourage the basketball scandal and what should be done to solve them," was the question put forth by the acting moderator, Robert Goldstein.

In addition to the class members, Charles Tiano, Freeman sports writer; Principal John Martin, Theron Culver, vice-principal; and Coach G. Warren Kias, Kingston High's coach, also attended.

Scholarship Exams

Regents scholarship exams took place March 7 and 8 with 27 seniors participating.

Participants of both the University and Cornell University State scholarships were Joan Barnovitz, Florence Friedman, John Henville, Paul Koster, Frederick Mower, Louis Nosenzo, Ruth Paley, Neil Poley and Sally Ann Sherman.

Others who took the University scholarship were Eileen Brophy, Sally Ann Castiglione, Alice Dibbell, Michael Dugan, Robert Gauthier, John Gill, Gerard Hickey, Helen Hogan, Elinor Howard, Carol Kelley, Frank Tapo, Donald Lyons, Cornelia Perry, Frederick Rudisch, William Schroder, Marilyn Werbalowsky, Irving Wisneski and Margaret Braddon, who also took the state scholarship for children of deceased and disabled veterans.

A.A. Party

The annual A.A. party has been set for April 28. The theme of the event, which is chiefly concerned with sports, has not yet been decided.

The following committees have been organized to work on different phases of the event: Band, Janet Davis, chairman; Irene Miller, and Marni Paley; publicity, Will Hansen, chairman; Charlie Bostic, Mary Myers, Phyllis Ambrose and Gus Emig.

Serving on the decoration committee are George McDonough, chairman; Janet Davis, John Koch, Chill Caruso and Naomi Lurie, while those on the entertainment committee are Esther Howard, chairman; Bill Leonard, Jay Rider, Bob Baumer and Una Schaffer. Jo DiMicco, chairman; Irene Miller, Vincent Van Bramer, and Janet Alte make up the chaperone committee.

U. S. Athletes Accused Of Taking Photos

Buenos Aires, March 22 (AP)—U. S. athletes at the recent Pan American games here were accused last night of taking photographs under FBI orders in an attempt to depict Argentina as a totalitarian nation.

The charge, levelled by the government newspaper Noticias Graficas, was described as "ridiculous" by a Federal Bureau of Investigation spokesman in Washington. He said "the FBI has not even been in contact with the athletes."

The paper said police had seized photographs from two members of the U. S. team—William Roetzheim, Jr., of Florida State College at Tallahassee and Stanley Stanczyk of Miami—which proved there was a plot to damage Argentina's prestige abroad.

The report said the athletes asked soldiers on duty to pose for motion pictures. One picture, it said, made it appear that the soldiers were searching a civilian at gunpoint.

Police confiscated the pictures and returned the camera, the report said.

'Best Dressed' Chosen

New York, March 22 (AP)—The pre-Easter season of "best dressed" lists was amplified today by the 10 best-dressed men in America, as announced by the Custom Tailors Guild of America. It follows: Government, Eric Johnston, economic stabilization chief; law, Rudolph Halley, chief counsel for the Kefauver committee; radio, Phil Baker; sports, baseball's Ralph Kiner; society, W. Averell Harriman; television, Jan Murray; military, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; business, Louis A. Voltter, paper industry executive; music, Sammy Kaye; movies, Clark Gable.

Canada is larger than the United States proper and Alaska combined.

54 War Dead Sail

Moji, Japan, March 22 (AP)—Fifty-four war dead from Korean battlefields sailed today for the United States aboard the transport Wodstock Victory. It was the second group of American war dead from Korea to be shipped home. Flags flew at half mast and a military band played a musical salute as the ship left the pier.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Demand for meat continued relatively light this week, even as preparations were being made in millions of American homes for a festive Easter dinner.

Ham was in abundant supply in the supermarkets and independent stores, and some stores predicted week-end specials. By mid-week, prices in some cities had already dropped a cent or two a pound.

Also in heavy demand this week is turkey, described in some trade circles as "perhaps the week's best buy." Here, too, special sales are hinted for the Easter week-end.

Chicken remains a heavy favorite with marketwise housewives, but while demand continues firm, the supply is so overwhelming that price cuts are reported here and there. Prices of broilers and fryers have dropped around two cents a pound in at least two major cities.

In Special Category

Eggs this week are in a very special category—higher generally along the east coast, but lower in price west of the Alleghenies. The top grade "A" variety are selling three cents a dozen lower than last week in some Los Angeles stores; four cents lower in Chicago and two cents lower in Detroit, but two cents higher in New York and Philadelphia. Wholesalers blame recent heavy snows that have slowed shipment of western eggs to eastern markets.

Fears were expressed this week that the hoped-for increase in poultry, egg, dairy and meat production might not materialize—that this year's output might fall short of the requirements of our expanding defense economy. These fears had their basis in a Department of Agriculture forecast that farmers will grow less corn this year than the government's quota of 3,500,000,000 bushels.

Corn is the basic feed for poultry and livestock.

Produce Items

In the produce department, fresh vegetables showed little change in price this week. Some gained slightly, some declined and others stayed the same. Cabbage, a favorite staple on many an American dinner table, was among those which declined a few pennies. Others were broccoli, carrots, celery, yellow onions and green corn. Tending higher in price were cucumbers, lettuce, Spanish onions, green peas, new potatoes, spinach and strawberries.

In short:

Butter prices, long a topic of discussion in the U. S., drew angry comment from Canadian housewives this week. Many started buying margarine as prices of Canadian butter soared as a result of a seasonal shortage. At Vancouver, B. C., the retail price skyrocketed overnight from 63 to 82 cents a pound.

Predicts Milk Shortage

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan predicts a shortage of milk and dairy products may develop in two or three years unless production is boosted . . .

The American Meat Institute sees a downward tendency in meat prices this week—a wholesale and retail levels, the decline is said to average one per cent compared with last week . . .

There will be asparagus for Easter, but only for those who can pay a fancy price. The harvest is almost two weeks late, and prices won't descend from the stratosphere until the weather warms up a little . . .

Two senators from South Dakota, Karl Mundt and Francis Case, look for ceiling prices soon on livestock . . .

Come what may, Americans are expected to eat more this year—and to eat better. The magazine "Food Topics" predicts that food output in 1951 will be up five per cent from last year, for the biggest year-to-year gain percentage-wise since 1944.

MOVES TO SENATE — The new Democratic senator from Kentucky is former Rep. Tom R. Underwood, above. He succeeds the late Sen. Virgil Chapman, recently killed in an auto crash. Underwood's appointment runs until 1952, when a successor will be chosen by special election to fill the remaining two years of the term.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, March 21—One of the finest entertainments ever seen in the New Hurley Reformed Church, was given Tuesday evening, March 13 by Mrs. Alice Smiley, violinist, of Mohonk. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Cleora Kurtz of New Paltz. A large audience was present from the neighboring communities. During the intermission the Rev. Mr. Tysse made a few appreciative remarks. At the close of the program Gerow Schoonmaker presented both Mrs. Smiley and Mrs. Kurtz with bouquets of red roses. An offering was taken which amounted to $135. This will go toward the church hall fund.

Saturday afternoon of last week the Young Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Theodore Williams on the Forest road with Mrs. Ella Gregg assisting. The president, Mrs. Duane Dolan, presided over the business meeting. The devotions were led by Mrs. Edward Humphreys. Seventeen members were present. Mrs. Kenneth Cronk was welcomed as a new member. The treasurer, Mrs. Humphry, reported that the proceeds from the food sale held at the Florence garage in Wallkill recently amounted to $35.15. The club plans to hold a progressive party on April 13. The date set for the annual church fair is July 18 at the church hall in Sherwood Corners. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Jacques Baumann on April 14.

Mrs. Earl DeWitt of Gardiner was a dinner guest at the home of Miss Bertha Sutton last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker have returned from their wedding trip which they spent in Florida. They visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schoonmaker.

Mrs. Morris Toby of New York has been spending a few days at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ira Wickner.

Freeman Hoyt was in Albany on Friday of last week.

Nicholas T. Cocks spent a few days last week at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Grill at Tuckahoe. They attended the 40th anniversary of his membership in the Masonic Lodge in New York.

Several from here attended the wedding of Myra Scofield and Donald Fries at the Presbyterian Church in Goodwill last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Fries is a deacon in the New Hurley Church consistory and also a member of the church choir.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grill and daughter Jacqueline of Tuckahoe spent the week-end with their father, Nicholas T. Cocks.

The net proceeds from the men's dinner amounted to $98.95. Chairman Gerow Schoonmaker thanked all the men who helped prepare and serve the dinner, the entertainment committee and all who helped to make it a success.

The offering at the Lenten service held in the New Hurley Church on Sunday evening, March 11, amounted to $78.00.

Several from here attended the play "Out of the Darkness" given by the Walden Dramatic Club at the Walden Reformed Church last Sunday evening.

Saturday, March 31, the young men of the Sunday school will make another paper collection. All having paper are asked to sign names on the list in the rear of the church or notify David Wager or Richard Powell.

Easter sunrise service will be held Sunday at the Borden Farms at 7 a. m. In case of bad weather the service will be held in the Wallkill Reformed Church.

Holy Communion will be held in the New Hurley Reformed Church on Sunday, April 1. New members will be received at that time.

At the dinner for the church hall fund last April Mrs. Frank Dylewski made baskets as table favors and suggested that they be used during the year for your gifts and returned at the Easter season. Those desiring to do so may return their baskets or gifts to Mrs. Ruth Dylewski by April 15.

Malaya Wants Air Strips

Singapore, (AP)—Rubber planters in Malaya are being asked to build air landing strips on their estates. The Malayan Airways needs more landing places in line with its expanded program and the potential military value is being considered. All airstrips, however, small, in many cases could be adapted for use as emergency landing grounds for fighter aircraft.

Cows Banned From City

Ipoh, Malaya, (AP)—Cattle can no longer graze in the streets of this tin mining center. The town council put up a "non-grazing" sign because cattle roaming about had caused traffic difficulties and their hoof marks created breeding grounds for flies and mosquitoes.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Demand for meat continued relatively light this week, even as preparations were being made in millions of American homes for a festive Easter dinner.

Ham was in abundant supply in the supermarkets and independent stores, and some stores predicted week-end specials. By mid-week, prices in some cities had already dropped a cent or two a pound.

Also in heavy demand this week is turkey, described in some trade circles as "perhaps the week's best buy." Here, too, special sales are hinted for the Easter week-end.

Chicken remains a heavy favorite with marketwise housewives, but while demand continues firm, the supply is so overwhelming that price cuts are reported here and there. Prices of broilers and fryers have dropped around two cents a pound in at least two major cities.

In Special Category

Eggs this week are in a very special category—higher generally along the east coast, but lower in price west of the Alleghenies. The top grade "A" variety are selling three cents a dozen lower than last week in some Los Angeles stores; four cents lower in Chicago and two cents lower in Detroit, but two cents higher in New York and Philadelphia. Wholesalers blame recent heavy snows that have slowed shipment of western eggs to eastern markets.

Fears were expressed this week that the hoped-for increase in poultry, egg, dairy and meat production might not materialize—that this year's output might fall short of the requirements of our expanding defense economy. These fears had their basis in a Department of Agriculture forecast that farmers will grow less corn this year than the government's quota of 3,500,000,000 bushels.

Corn is the basic feed for poultry and livestock.

Produce Items

In the produce department, fresh vegetables showed little change in price this week. Some gained slightly, some declined and others stayed the same. Cabbage, a favorite staple on many an American dinner table, was among those which declined a few pennies. Others were broccoli, carrots, celery, yellow onions and green corn. Tending higher in price were cucumbers, lettuce, Spanish onions, green peas, new potatoes, spinach and strawberries.

In short:

Butter prices, long a topic of discussion in the U. S., drew angry comment from Canadian housewives this week. Many started buying margarine as prices of Canadian butter soared as a result of a seasonal shortage. At Vancouver, B. C., the retail price skyrocketed overnight from 63 to 82 cents a pound.

Predicts Milk Shortage

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan predicts a shortage of milk and dairy products may develop in two or three years unless production is boosted . . .

The American Meat Institute sees a downward tendency in meat prices this week—a wholesale and retail levels, the decline is said to average one per cent compared with last week . . .

There will be asparagus for Easter, but only for those who can pay a fancy price. The harvest is almost two weeks late, and prices won't descend from the stratosphere until the weather warms up a little . . .

Two senators from South Dakota, Karl Mundt and Francis Case, look for ceiling prices soon on livestock . . .

Come what may, Americans are expected to eat more this year—and to eat better. The magazine "Food Topics" predicts that food output in 1951 will be up five per cent from last year, for the biggest year-to-year gain percentagewise since 1944.

MOVES TO SENATE — The new Democratic senator from Kentucky is former Rep. Tom R. Underwood, above. He succeeds the late Sen. Virgil Chapman, recently killed in an auto crash. Underwood's appointment runs until 1952, when a successor will be chosen by special election to fill the remaining two years of the term.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, March 21—One of the finest entertainments ever seen in the New Hurley Reformed Church, was given Tuesday evening, March 13 by Mrs. Alice Smiley, violinist, of Mohonk. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Cleora Kurtz of New Paltz. A large audience was present from the neighboring communities. During the intermission the Rev. Mr. Tysse made a few appreciative remarks. At the close of the program Gerow Schoonmaker presented both Mrs. Smiley and Mrs. Kurtz with bouquets of red roses. An offering was taken which amounted to $135. This will go toward the church hall fund.

Saturday afternoon of last week the Young Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Theodore Williams on the Forest road with Mrs. Ella Gregg assisting. The president, Mrs. Duane Dolan, presided over the business meeting. The devotions were led by Mrs. Edward Humphreys. Seventeen members were present. Mrs. Kenneth Cronk was welcomed as a new member. The treasurer, Mrs. Humphry, reported that the proceeds from the food sale held at the Florence garage in Wallkill recently amounted to $35.15. The club plans to hold a progressive party on April 13. The date set for the annual church fair is July 18 at the church hall in Sherwood Corners. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Jacques Baumann on April 14.

Mrs. Earl DeWitt of Gardiner was a dinner guest at the home of Miss Bertha Sutton last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker have returned from their wedding trip which they spent in Florida. They visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schoonmaker.

Mrs. Morris Toby of New York has been spending a few days at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ira Wickner.

Freeman Hoyt was in Albany on Friday of last week.

Nicholas T. Cocks spent a few days last week at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Grill at Tuckahoe. They attended the 40th anniversary of his membership in the Masonic Lodge in New York.

Several from here attended the wedding of Myra Scofield and Donald Fries at the Presbyterian Church in Goodwill last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Fries is a deacon in the New Hurley Church consistory and also a member of the church choir.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grill and daughter Jacqueline of Tuckahoe spent the week-end with their father, Nicholas T. Cocks.

The net proceeds from the men's dinner amounted to $98.95. Chairman Gerow Schoonmaker thanked all the men who helped prepare and serve the dinner, the entertainment committee and all who helped to make it a success.

The offering at the Lenten service held in the New Hurley Church on Sunday evening, March 11, amounted to $78.00.

Several from here attended the play "Out of the Darkness" given by the Walden Dramatic Club at the Walden Reformed Church last Sunday evening.

Saturday, March 31, the young men of the Sunday school will make another paper collection. All having paper are asked to sign names on the list in the rear of the church or notify David Wager or Richard Powell.

Easter sunrise service will be held Sunday at the Borden Farms at 7 a. m. In case of bad weather the service will be held in the Wallkill Reformed Church.

Holy Communion will be held in the New Hurley Reformed Church on Sunday, April 1. New members will be received at that time.

At the dinner for the church hall fund last April Mrs. Frank Dylewski made baskets as table favors and suggested that they be used during the year for your gifts and returned at the Easter season. Those desiring to do so may return their baskets or gifts to Mrs. Ruth Dylewski by April 15.

Malaya Wants Air Strips

Singapore, (AP)—Rubber planters in Malaya are being asked to build air landing strips on their estates. The Malayan Airways needs more landing places in line with its expanded program and the potential military value is being considered. All airstrips, however, small, in many cases could be adapted for use as emergency landing grounds for fighter aircraft.

Cows Banned From City

Ipoh, Malaya, (AP)—Cattle can no longer graze in the streets of this tin mining center. The town council put up a "non-grazing" sign because cattle roaming about had caused traffic difficulties and their hoof marks created breeding grounds for flies and mosquitoes.

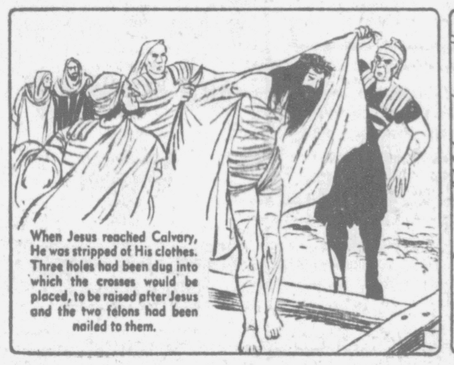
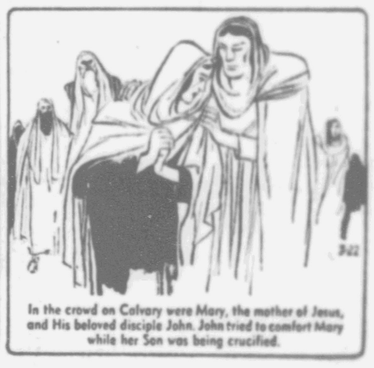
THE WAY TO CALVARY



When Jesus reached Calvary, He was stripped of His clothes. Three holes had been dug into which the crosses would be placed, to be raised after Jesus and the two felons had been nailed to them.

A Bitter Drink

He was offered a mixture of wine and gall. Parched with thirst, He refused the bitter drink. Soldiers pushed him toward the cross—He would lie on the rough wood while being nailed to it, hands and feet.



In the crowd on Calvary were Mary, the mother of Jesus, and His beloved disciple John. John tried to comfort Mary while her Son was being crucified.

BROWN'S BEANS

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

I have received a number of interesting items from readers who I take it don't want the items returned for they did not put their names on them. I appreciate everyone of them, and wish that I could acknowledge them through thank-you cards as I do most of material received. So, I guess only through this column will they know I have received them and will use them. For instance, there is the package of old newspapers, wrapped in an Albany newspaper. One is a "Public Ledger" of Friday, March 25, 1836, printed in Philadelphia. Will quote from this 115-year-old paper in the near future. Also enclosed was the "Brooklyn Daily Times" of 1869 and the "Stamford Advocate" of Nov. 5, 1896, of Stamford, Conn. Also received several books from a resident of upper Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. One was "Knickerbocker's History of New York" by Washington Irving, another Henry Altemus' Publications of 1899. Also "Muzzey's American History."

Not only do I receive old papers and books, but my Broadway reader, no name given, sent me two presidential, coin medals, one of William McKinley and the other James Garfield. Received a letter from Lillian Smith, of William street, Napanoch, N. Y., which will interest other "Ulster County Gazette" holders. She writes: "I just can't resist writing you, re-Ulster Co. Gazette, 1800. Among my mother's papers, I found one, so wrote Library of Congress. They graciously sent me a printed form telling about the paper. In all probablity it is made of rags, as it is soft and pliable. No doubt, it may have been picked up by my grandfather, who was a manufacturer of printing presses and paper cutters, and had a hobby of collecting fine books and rare paper. Of course, it might have been picked up at some centennial in Kingston or Philadelphia. If you should like to see it some time I should be glad to bring it to your office. Although not a native of Ulster county, enjoy your column, am a resident about six years, etc.,"

I wouldn't want my word to be the last word on the authenticity of an Ulster County Gazette, as I never had an original in my hands. Although I have an idea what a paper of the year 1800 should look like. Have magazine called "Antiques" dated January 1931 on hand, which gives a photo copy of the original at the Congressional Library. Whenever anyone brings me a Gazette, I place them under a good light, with the magazine and a magnifying glass and let them compare their copy with the magazine copy, line for line and word for word and that usually answers all their questions. There is nothing which would thrill me so much, as to have someone of the readers from Kingston and Ulster county find an original, and I am sure one of these days it will happen.

Who remembers when the Hudson River night boat, Rensselaer, limped back into port under her own power after a freighter rammed her in a fog off Highland. My father kept a newspaper photo of it, dated September 27, 1933. Three were injured, no lives lost according to that item.

APRIL FOOL'S SURPRISE PUDDING

DELIGHT FAMILY with a surprise chocolate morsels bread pudding.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Leftover bread, little chocolate morsels, eggs (economical now), milk and meringue — combine these into a really wonderful April Fool's surprise dessert.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
(6 servings)

One and one-quarter cups soft bread crumbs, 1 package semi-sweet chocolate, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, separated, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Combine bread crumbs, 2/3 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels, ¼ cup sugar and 1½ cups milk in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture is smooth.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add remaining ½ cup milk, butter and salt. Add to chocolate mixture and continue cooking about 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Turn into shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) 10 minutes.

While pudding is baking; beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar and vanilla; continue beating until very stiff. Fold in half the remaining chocolate. Drop by tablespoonfuls on top of the pudding. Sprinkle meringue with remaining chocolate. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer.

Mock Apple Sauce Layer Cake
(6 to 8 servings)

No. 2 can sweetened apple sauce, ½ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 8 slices white bread.

Mix first three ingredients. Trim crust from bread; place two slices, end to end, on plate and cover with apple sauce mixture. Repeat until all bread and apple sauce have been used, having apple sauce as top layer. Chill. When ready to serve, cut in 1-inch slices. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges, crisp cereal flakes with milk, poached egg on whole wheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted cheese sandwich, diced mixed vegetable salad, French dressing, canned peaches, tea, milk.

teresting Talks At Rotary Meeting director of the Dale Carnegie itute, which is conducting a rse in effective speaking and an relations, was the guest aker at the Rotary Club cheon Wednesday.

he speaker cited a number of es, some locally, of persons who ough the development of self idence and the preparation for dership have greatly increased r income and in turn have ed others.

enator Arthur H. Wicks, Re- lican majority leader, was wel- ed back after the Legislature ion. The Senator spoke very fly on the importance of citi- s taking an active part in our ernment. He pointed out that costs money to conduct the major parties and if these ties were supported by the ple there would not be the ndals that we are reading ut today.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

I have received a number of interesting items from readers who I take it don't want the items returned for they did not put their names on them. I appreciate everyone of them, and wish that I could acknowledge them through thank-you cards as I do most of material received. So, I guess only through this column will they know I have received them and will use them. For instance, there is the package of old newspapers, wrapped in an Albany newspaper. One is a "Public Ledger" of Friday, March 25, 1836, printed in Philadelphia. Will quote from this 115-year-old paper in the near future. Also enclosed was the "Brooklyn Daily Times" of 1869 and the "Stamford Advocate" of Nov. 5, 1896, of Stamford, Conn. Also received several books from a resident of upper Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. One was "Knickerbocker's History of New York" by Washington Irving, another Henry Altemus' Publications of 1899. Also "Muzzey's American History."

Not only do I receive old papers and books, but my Broadway reader, no name given, sent me two presidential, coin medals, one of William McKinley and the other James Garfield. Received a letter from Lillian Smith, of William street, Napanoch, N. Y., which will interest other "Ulster County Gazette" holders. She writes: "I just can't resist writing you, re-Ulster Co. Gazette, 1800. Among my mother's papers, I found one, so wrote Library of Congress. They graciously sent me a printed form telling about the paper. In all probablity it is made of rags, as it is soft and pliable. No doubt, it may have been picked up by my grandfather, who was a manufacturer of printing presses and paper cutters, and had a hobby of collecting fine books and rare paper. Of course, it might have been picked up at some centennial in Kingston or Philadelphia. If you should like to see it some time I should be glad to bring it to your office. Although not a native of Ulster county, enjoy your column, am a resident about six years, etc.,"

I wouldn't want my word to be the last word on the authenticity of an Ulster County Gazette, as I never had an original in my hands. Although I have an idea what a paper of the year 1800 should look like. Have magazine called "Antiques" dated January 1931 on hand, which gives a photo copy of the original at the Congressional Library. Whenever anyone brings me a Gazette, I place them under a good light, with the magazine and a magnifying glass and let them compare their copy with the magazine copy, line for line and word for word and that usually answers all their questions. There is nothing which would thrill me so much, as to have someone of the readers from Kingston and Ulster county find an original, and I am sure one of these days it will happen.

Who remembers when the Hudson River night boat, Rensselaer, limped back into port under her own power after a freighter rammed her in a fog off Highland. My father kept a newspaper photo of it, dated September 27, 1933. Three were injured, no lives lost according to that item.

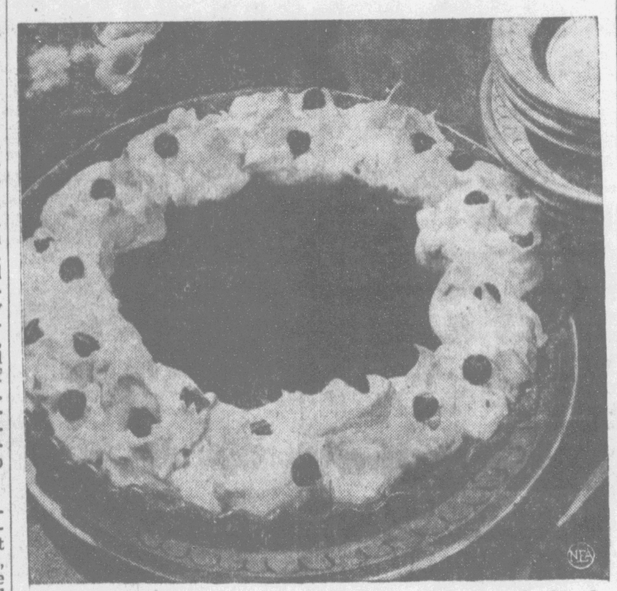
APRIL FOOL'S SURPRISE PUDDING



DELIGHT FAMILY with a surprise chocolate morsels bread pudding.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Leftover bread, little chocolate morsels, eggs (economical now), milk and meringue — combine these into a really wonderful April Fool's surprise dessert.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
(6 servings)

One and one-quarter cups soft bread crumbs, 1 package semi-sweet chocolate, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, separated, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Combine bread crumbs, 2/3 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels, ¼ cup sugar and 1½ cups milk in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture is smooth.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add remaining ½ cup milk, butter and salt. Add to chocolate mixture and continue cooking about 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Turn into shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) 10 minutes.

While pudding is baking; beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar and vanilla; continue beating until very stiff. Fold in half the remaining chocolate. Drop by tablespoonfuls on top of the pudding. Sprinkle meringue with remaining chocolate. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer.

Mock Apple Sauce Layer Cake
(6 to 8 servings)

No. 2 can sweetened apple sauce, ½ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 8 slices white bread.

Mix first three ingredients. Trim crust from bread; place two slices, end to end, on plate and cover with apple sauce mixture. Repeat until all bread and apple sauce have been used, having apple sauce as top layer. Chill. When ready to serve, cut in 1-inch slices. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges, crisp cereal flakes with milk, poached egg on whole wheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted cheese sandwich, diced mixed vegetable salad, French dressing, canned peaches, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, breaded oven-baked flounder, Tartar sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered green beans, celery, bread, butter or fortified margarine, chocolate bread pudding, coffee, milk.

Grandmother Hoffman is a 30-year customer, and her daughter, Mrs. O'Brien, has been a customer for 15 years at Standard, where she bought baby furniture for her daughter. Pat claims she will also be a Standard customer in the near future. Three generations of buying furniture at the same store—that's a long time. "Fair dealings and honest values have kept us buying there," says Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. O'Brien.

Northeast to Get Something Warmer

(By The Associated Press)

It was more cold weather for areas in the northeastern half of the nation today. But there was some warming on the way.

The unseasonable cold extended from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Appalachians. Snow flurries fell in the eastern Great Lakes region and Appalachians eastward into western and northern New England.

Temperatures moderated greatly over the plains, bringing relief to the snow-covered Dakotas and Nebraska. But it was on the wintry side early today in the north central region. Lows included 12 below zero at Pellston, Mich. It was far below freezing over the midwest.

Readings were normal along the Atlantic coast and about seasonal in the far west.

Needed More Than Nickel

Greenville, Pa., March 22—Psychic Cy McCoy, arriving at the court house to answer gambling charges against him, remarked to a companion: "Maybe I'd better put another nickel in the parking meter. I may be gone more than an hour." He will be. The judge sentenced him to three months in jail.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Are you weary of stories of atom bombs, germ warfare, strikes, crimes and the high cost of living?

You are? That's fine. Because the only story I have to tell today is the story of a happy time—two weeks in Bermuda.

Frances, the girl who cashes my pay check, had been wanting to go there for several years. She said she felt sure it would be like Quebec, where we once spent a summer vacation.

I thought this was one of the most illogical remarks I had heard in nearly fourteen years of marriage.

"Look," I said, opening the Atlas to a map of North America. "Quebec is way up north. It is part of Canada and most of the people still speak French. Bermuda is a collection of semi-tropical coral islands in the Atlantic Ocean, and the people speak English. How can they be alike?"

"Well," said Frances. "I think Bermuda will be like Quebec because we had a nice time in Quebec and if we go to Bermuda we'll have a nice time there, too."

Far Above Geography

Humbly, I shut the Atlas. The feminine mind has a logic above the bare statistics of geography.

And so we went to Bermuda. We flew down in a Pan American Clipper. In the seat across the aisle sat a tall man with a distinguished moustache. He turned out to be Secretary of State Dean Acheson, and an agent of the airline introduced us.

He is a poised and friendly man. We chatted about Korea for a few moments before landing, and the secretary said:

"This is the first vacation I've had in more than two years. The President said he wouldn't call me back unless it is absolutely necessary."

Later we found the Achesons were our neighbors. They had a cottage adjoining ours at the Coral Beach Club, and a bodyguard assigned by the Bermudian government stood watch day and night. It seemed a sad thing to me—to be on a vacation with a bodyguard.

We used to see the secretary striding up and down the beach in an old weathered jacket patched at the elbows with leather. Once I overheard a couple of elderly ladies — Republicans probably — discussing him.

Patches, Nice Things

"I don't believe in a thing Washington is doing these days, but he does seem like a nice man," said one.

"Yes," agreed the other: "And isn't it comforting to see someone in the government wearing patches?"

Our own cottage bore this uneasy title on the door: "Enchanted Trifle."

"I'd rather have it a trifle enchanted than a trifle haunted," said Frances.

And it was a trifle enchanted. It overlooked a beach and the wide blue sea. There was a bush outside the window. Every morning a redbird came and perched there and woke us up with his cheery: "Here! Here ! Here!" And bluebirds flitted past so bright they almost hurt your eyes.

For two wonderful weeks we spent the days swimming in azure waters and soaking up sunshine on the warm white sands. War and woe seemed far away. It seemed a crime—and it is a crime—that all the world couldn't be like this: Peace, calm and undistressed.

Never Mind Onions

It had to end. And it did end. On the way to the airport for the flight home I remarked to Frances:

"You know, we came all the way to Bermuda—and we haven't seen a single Berumda onion."

The taxi driver laughed.

"We used to grow a lot here," he said. "We shipped them to the States. Now the States grow their own and put up a tariff against ours. But they still call them Bermuda onions."

"That's too bad," I murmured.

"Oh, no," he said cheerfully. "Just keep on sending us your tourists and you can have our onions. We'll make out all right."

Rockets, Carriers To Be Constructed

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—General Motors' Pontiac division is preparing to build $57,500,000 worth of rockets and amphibious cargo carriers for the government.

The main work will be done in GM Pontiac plants, with Continental Motors Corp., of Muskegon supplying engines for the amphibious carriers and some 500 outside firms furnishing other parts.

The government ordered $12,500,000 in rockets and $45,000,000 worth of a new type cargo carrier operating on tank-type trucks with a stern-type propellor.

Completes Training

PVT. THOMAS RADATZ

Private J. Thomas Radatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Radatz of Glen street, has completed six weeks of basic training with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C.

He is a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1948, and prior to entering service on January 10, 1951, was associated with his father in business.

Doonan Promoted

Warrant Office Stephen P. Doonan, who has been in Korea since last summer with the 8th Field Artillery Battalion, has been advanced to the rank of second lieutenant.

Lt. Doonan is the first cousin of the Rev. Justin B. Kennery, also of West Shokan, who has been a prisoner of the Communists in China since December 28, 1950.

Frank McCord, seaman, USN, of Gardiner, is serving aboard the submarine USS Becuna which was recently designated flagship of Rear Admiral Stuart S. Murray, Atlantic Fleet submarine force commander. McCord, a graduate of Wallkill Central High School, entered the naval service in October, 1948.

Sheehan Fund

treasurer. The balance of a War Memorial Fund which had not been used for that purpose was the initial contribution to the fund, and other subscriptions were taken on and after October 5, 1949.

Mortgage Negotiated

During the early part of September, 1949, the committee met and decided that in their opinion, Harold J. Sheehan would probably be determined eligible for benefits under the new law amending Public Law 702 and known as Public Law 286. Sheehan and his wife were advised to purchase the Washington avenue property.

A mortgage of $9,000 was negotiated with the Savings and Loan Association. The purchase price was $9,500, with the balance of $500 being paid from the fund.

After the purchase, the drive was instigated and total cash contributions of $5,491.11 were received. Out of the sum, the treasurer expended $2,962.92 for costs and improvements, including $718.55 as costs incidental to conducting the fund drive.

Donations Made

In addition to cash contributions, there were donations of labor and material amounting to approximately $1,100, consisting of erection of wooden ramp with side rails to accommodate a wheel chair, a black-top driveway and other work.

Under the amended law applicable to the case, the Veterans Administration will pay 50 per cent of the cost of the house. Remaining in the fund is approximately $2,500 which will be turned over to apply on the mortgage along with the V.A. funds.

Sheehan's widow is the former Mary Turner of this city. Three children also survive the veteran, Ann, Daryl and Lois.

Voting is compulsory in Argentina.

Edge Closer to North Korean Borders

On the east coast (A) of South Korea U. N. troops were reported within 8½ miles of the 38th parallel, March 21. Chunchon (B), main Chinese supply base, apparently has been abandoned as Allied troops reportedly reached city's suburbs. Fresh Chinese troops were reported dug in north of Seoul (C).

Tank-Infantry

troops in western Korea and hit their supply lines from the north.

Twenty B-29s dropped 200 tons of bombs Thursday on the Red supply center of Kumchon, 11 miles north of Parallel 38 in western Korea, and Yongchung, 30 miles southwest of Hungnam, northeast coast port.

Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge announced allied planes in the nine months of the Korean war have:

Killed or wounded more than 93,000 Red troops, destroyed nearly 1,700 railroad cars, 184 bridges, more than 1,000 gun positions and more than 40,000 Red-occupied buildings:

Damaged about 900 Red tanks, more than 7,000 vehicles, nearly 400 locomotives, 5,000 rail cars, nearly 600 bridges, more than 700 gun positions and about 29,000 Red-occupied buildings.

The allied planes also destroyed 131 Red aircraft on the ground and in the air, probably destroyed 103 and damaged 18.

Newkirk to Make

ciation and the Chamber of Commerce.

Vote Is Taken

It was decided at a meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel three weeks ago by the bowling association, commerce group, and business men that the city should do everything possible to get the tournament here next year.

It was decided at that time also that the Kingston Bowling Association should advertise in the 1951 convention program book in order to stimulate interest among bowlers at the convention to come to Kingston. The tournament would bring about 7,500 visitors to the city.

The New York State Women's Bowling Association met here last year with outstanding success.

Rosenberg Refuses

political party," the witness replied.

The defendant's counsel, Martin H. Bloch, then asked whether he referred to the Communist Party.

"Yes," Rosenberg replied.

Rosenberg, the first defense witness, entered a series of denials of prosecution testimony given by his brother-in-law, David Greenglass, former army sergeant at the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic project. Greenglass had told the jury about an espionage ring in which he confessed he played a part.

A flight through a heavy rain by a plane equipped with a wooden propeller will eat away several inches of the propeller.

Beef ranks first and pork second in the preference of Americans.

Marlborough Church Plans Dawn Service

There will be an Easter sunrise service held at "Christian Hill," Marlborough, Easter Sunday at 7 a. m., sponsored by the Marlborough Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Marshall Smith, pastor.

Members of all churches are invited to attend the service.

Those who attend are asked to meet at 6:30 o'clock at the Marlborough Presbyterian Church and they will then proceed to "Christian Hill" which is located a short distance away between Route 9W and the river. The services will be held at 7 a. m. This Easter sunrise service in past years has attracted a large number of residents from southern Ulster.

Skiing Prospects Excellent

Prospects for excellent skiing on Belleayre over the Easter weekend are in prospect, it was reported today by Arthur Draper, superintendent of the ski area. A new fall of six inches of snow last night provided excellent snow conditions and there is presently 22 inches of snow in the area. The ski tows will operate over the week-end and a large crowd is expected to take advantage of the late season snow conditions.

City-Union Dance Is Enjoyed by 250

Collaboration on their first social event of the season last night was a success for the Kingston Recreation Dapartment and Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians.

Don Pierson and his orchestra played for 250 people who attended the free dance at the downtown recreation center, 97 Broadway, it was reported this morning.

Music was furnished from 8 p. m. to 11 o'clock through the courtesy of the union which is compensated from the Music Trust Fund of the Recording Industry.

Pierson's ensemble included Johnny Valentine, Buster Ferraro, Ray Carroll, George Cosenza and Roy Gardiner. Arrangements played by the band were very popular, according to recreation department officials.

Plans are being made by the union and recreation department for the regular series of summer dances held in the city parks, it was announced today, and they are expected to be as popular as in past years.

Arrangements for the city are handled by Andrew J. Murphy III, superintendent of recreation and Harry L. Edson, assistant. Michael Marchuk and Pete Ferraro represent Local 215 in lining up the union's program.

Vote Is Taken

It was decided at a meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel three weeks ago by the bowling association, commerce group, and business men that the city should do everything possible to get the tournament here next year.

It was decided at that time also that the Kingston Bowling Association should advertise in the 1951 convention program book in order to stimulate interest among bowlers at the convention to come to Kingston. The tournament would bring about 7,500 visitors to the city.

The New York State Women's Bowling Association met here last year with outstanding success.

political party," the witness replied.

"Yes," Rosenberg replied.

Rosenberg, the first defense witness, entered a series of denials of prosecution testimony given by his brother-in-law, David Greenglass, former army sergeant at the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic project. Greenglass had told the jury about an espionage ring in which he confessed he played a part.

Marlborough Church Plans Dawn Service

There will be an Easter sunrise service held at "Christian Hill," Marlborough, Easter Sunday at 7 a. m., sponsored by the Marlborough Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Marshall Smith, pastor.

Members of all churches are invited to attend the service.

Those who attend are asked to meet at 6:30 o'clock at the Marlborough Presbyterian Church and they will then proceed to "Christian Hill" which is located a short distance away between Route 9W and the river. The services will be held at 7 a. m. This Easter sunrise service in past years has attracted a large number of residents from southern Ulster.

Skiing Prospects Excellent

Prospects for excellent skiing on Belleayre over the Easter weekend are in prospect, it was reported today by Arthur Draper, superintendent of the ski area. A new fall of six inches of snow last night provided excellent snow conditions and there is presently 22 inches of snow in the area. The ski tows will operate over the week-end and a large crowd is expected to take advantage of the late season snow conditions.

City-Union Dance Is Enjoyed by 250

Collaboration on their first social event of the season last night was a success for the Kingston Recreation Department and Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians.

Don Pierson and his orchestra played for 250 people who attended the free dance at the downtown recreation center, 97 Broadway, it was reported this morning.

Music was furnished from 8 p. m. to 11 o'clock through the courtesy of the union which is compensated from the Music Trust Fund of the Recording Industry.

Pierson's ensemble included Johnny Valentine, Buster Ferraro, Ray Carroll, George Cosenza and Roy Gardiner. Arrangements played by the band were very popular, according to recreation department officials.

Plans are being made by the union and recreation department for the regular series of summer dances held in the city parks, it was announced today, and they are expected to be as popular as in past years.

Arrangements for the city are handled by Andrew J. Murphy III, superintendent of recreation and Harry L. Edson, assistant. Michael Marchuk and Pete Ferraro represent Local 215 in lining up the union's program.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

Financial institutions in the Adirondack and Pocono mountains are suggesting that valuable papers and property be ensconced in their vaults far away from atomic bomb targets. And many credulous people are falling for this suggestion.

In fact, a war psychology has seized hundreds of innocent folk. It has a score of applications. A few with an economic foundation I wish to discuss this week.

The first has to do with war prosperity. It is a dangerous thing for the average investor to follow. Steel production resulting in high earnings is one example. Corporations turning out tanks and other military munitions are another. Even railroads whose traffic grows by leaps and bounds and oil companies that prosper because of unprecedented demand for products are industries to watch closely during these times.

Our enemy is unpredictable. Maybe he looks stronger and more commanding than he really is. A friend, now a citizen, who was born in the Balkans, tells me that tens of thousands of Ukraine farmers, skilled in handling scythes, would stage a carnage against their collectivist oppressors if they were given half a chance.

So, I would not get too involved with values associated with war. As was stated in this column a few weeks ago, in a choice between butter and gun values, most investors should stick to butter.

In the second place, the threat of an atomic bomb attack on New York city or any other concentrated area does point up a common weakness of many investors —lack of diversification, both of quality and of quantity.

Sometimes a person dies who thought he was worth a million dollars. His wealth may have been in one or two places and during the last decade of his life, he may have slipped and the resulting inefficiency of his efforts was not recognized. Periodically, such wealth is sold on the block to the highest bidder at 10 or 20 cents on the dollar.

Pride, kept within bounds, is alright. But when it is not contained, all kinds of disaster can result. Frequently a man will settle down in a city at age 25. As his success grows, he takes great and greater pride in his town. And far, far too often at age 70 or beyond, he will have accumulated a conglomeration of assets that nobody can market at their taxable rate.

A merchant in New York passed on a few years ago thinking he had left 10 million dollars. His will assumed he was worth that amount. But nobody wanted to buy the first and second preferreds on his business. And his $400,000 security portfolio when fully liquidated only paid half his estate tax bill. All the friends and relatives who were left bequests of $5,000 and more will probably never get a dime.

In investment, vision is a great thing. Right here in New York city I would like to organize a party of myopic capitalists. I would take them to the East Texas oil fields, to the Panhandle cattle ranches, to the Iowa farms, to the wheat fields of Kansas and the Dakotas, to the mines of Utah and Montana.

There they would see some of the basic economic values that make America the greatest nation on earth. Then some of this city's investors whose wealth is entirely on Manhattan Island and who, reading the ads of banks in the Adirondacks and Pocono mountains, wonder if something ought to be done to protect themselves, would develop a vision of investment that is good for everybody.

Today, in the words of the poet, the world is too much for the average investor. Atom bombs, taxes, prices, inflation and a dozen other things get him down. His money lacks courage. He becomes a victim of the very things he should command. Safe sanctuary in the mountains becomes his economic philosophy.

HEAD IN A WHIRL—Tuneful is the Easter bonnet worn by Dorothy Anderson of San Francisco. Made from a "plumber's friend" and a dozen 45-rpm records, the creation won first prize as the most original bonnet in a department store's spring millinery contest.

General Electric Says Demand Unrealistic

New York, March 22 (AP)—The General Electric Company says a union demand for a wage increase of 32 cents an hour is "extremely unrealistic and 'way beyond any practical range of consideration."

The statement was made during negotiations yesterday with the United Electrical Workers. The UE announced the wage demand the night before.

A 32-cent increase would be equivalent to about 18 per cent of the estimated present average wage of $1.75 an hour. Government policy is to allow increases up to only 10 per cent under the general wage freeze.

Negotiations between UE and the company started yesterday under a wage reopening clause in a contract which runs until the summer of 1952. The negotiations were recessed after the first session, and a date for resumption will be set next week.

The UE, which is unaffiliated, represents about 50,000 workers in 45 G-E plants in a number of states.

A rival union, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), is not involved in the current negotiations. The IUE represents about 68,000 workers in 50 G-E plants.

The IUE was established by the CIO after it ousted the UE on the ground of Communist domination.

Investor Forum

by Harry C. France

Financial institutions in the Adirondack and Pocono mountains are suggesting that valuable papers and property be ensconced in their vaults far away from atomic bomb targets. And many credulous people are falling for this suggestion.

In fact, a war psychology has seized hundreds of innocent folk. It has a score of applications. A few with an economic foundation I wish to discuss this week.

The first has to do with war prosperity. It is a dangerous thing for the average investor to follow. Steel production resulting in high earnings is one example. Corporations turning out tanks and other military munitions are another. Even railroads whose traffic grows by leaps and bounds and oil companies that prosper because of unprecedented demand for products are industries to watch closely during these times.

Our enemy is unpredictable. Maybe he looks stronger and more commanding than he really is. A friend, now a citizen, who was born in the Balkans, tells me that tens of thousands of Ukraine farmers, skilled in handling scythes, would stage a carnage against their collectivist oppressors if they were given half a chance.

So, I would not get too involved with values associated with war. As was stated in this column a few weeks ago, in a choice between butter and gun values, most investors should stick to butter.

In the second place, the threat of an atomic bomb attack on New York city or any other concentrated area does point up a common weakness of many investors —lack of diversification, both of quality and of quantity.

Sometimes a person dies who thought he was worth a million dollars. His wealth may have been in one or two places and during the last decade of his life, he may have slipped and the resulting inefficiency of his efforts was not recognized. Periodically, such wealth is sold on the block to the highest bidder at 10 or 20 cents on the dollar.

Pride, kept within bounds, is alright. But when it is not contained, all kinds of disaster can result. Frequently a man will settle down in a city at age 25. As his success grows, he takes great and greater pride in his town. And far, far too often at age 70 or beyond, he will have accumulated a conglomeration of assets that nobody can market at their taxable rate.

A merchant in New York passed on a few years ago thinking he had left 10 million dollars. His will assumed he was worth that amount. But nobody wanted to buy the first and second preferreds on his business. And his $400,000 security portfolio when fully liquidated only paid half his estate tax bill. All the friends and relatives who were left bequests of $5,000 and more will probably never get a dime.

In investment, vision is a great thing. Right here in New York city I would like to organize a party of myopic capitalists. I would take them to the East Texas oil fields, to the Panhandle cattle ranches, to the Iowa farms, to the wheat fields of Kansas and the Dakotas, to the mines of Utah and Montana.

There they would see some of the basic economic values that make America the greatest nation on earth. Then some of this city's investors whose wealth is entirely on Manhattan Island and who, reading the ads of banks in the Adirondacks and Pocono mountains, wonder if something ought to be done to protect themselves, would develop a vision of investment that is good for everybody.

Today, in the words of the poet, the world is too much for the average investor. Atom bombs, taxes, prices, inflation and a dozen other things get him down. His money lacks courage. He becomes a victim of the very things he should command. Safe sanctuary in the mountains becomes his economic philosophy.

GARDINER

Gardiner, March 22 — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy and family attended the funeral of Mr. Murphy's father Daniel Murphy of Brookfield, Conn., on Thursday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moran were Sunday evening supper guests of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. James Moran of Wallkill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rupprecht of West Nyack were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Wiese.

Sherman Elting of Hot Springs, Colo., is a guest at the Borcherding home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Munson of Lake Katrine were Sunday guests of her aunt Mrs. Stella Woolsey. They enjoyed a ride in the Munsons' new car.

Charles Hull who spent the past few months with relatives in California returned home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curry were Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Edna Dugan.

Mrs. Alfred McKinstry, Mrs. Edytha Dusinberre and Miss Mary Weider spent Monday in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McElhenny, Mrs. Warren McDowell, Mrs. Philip Donahue and son Paul attended the funeral of Daniel Murphy at Brookfield, Conn., last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Tether and son Ivan of Barryville were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pizzuto spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Sabriese of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhinehart were dinner guests of his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Rouwendaal of Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

The congregational meeting at the Reformed Church last week was attended by more than 100 members and friends. After a covered dish supper a hymn sing was enjoyed. The business session was in charge of the pastor, the Rev. John Van Strien. Reports from all societies of the church were given for the past year. Two elders were elected, Joseph Deyo and Charles Rhinehart, and two deacons, David Wiese and Samuel Stokes.

Myron Wells, chairman of the March of Dimes for Gardiner township, has expressed appreciation for contributions totaling $234.76.

The Holy Name Societies of St. Charles Church of Gardiner and St. Joseph's Church of New Paltz sponsored a ham supper and dance at the Gardiner Hotel last Saturday evening.

Frog Assistant

The discovery of current, or "galvanic," electricity was accidentally caused by a frog. The Italian anatomist, Luigi Galvani, was used a dead frog in his studies and accidentally touched a nerve of its leg with a knife that had become charged with electricity; the frog went into violent convulsions.

General Electric Says Demand Unrealistic

New York, March 22 (AP)—The General Electric Company says a union demand for a wage increase of 32 cents an hour is "extremely unrealistic and 'way beyond any practical range of consideration."

The statement was made during negotiations yesterday with the United Electrical Workers. The UE announced the wage demand the night before.

A 32-cent increase would be equivalent to about 18 per cent of the estimated present average wage of $1.75 an hour. Government policy is to allow increases up to only 10 per cent under the general wage freeze.

Negotiations between UE and the company started yesterday under a wage reopening clause in a contract which runs until the summer of 1952. The negotiations were recessed after the first session, and a date for resumption will be set next week.

The UE, which is unaffiliated, represents about 50,000 workers in 45 G-E plants in a number of states.

A rival union, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), is not involved in the current negotiations. The IUE represents about 68,000 workers in 50 G-E plants.

The IUE was established by the CIO after it ousted the UE on the ground of Communist domination.

Delegates Start Home

Santiago, Chile, March 22 (AP)—Delegates to Ecosoc—the United Nations Economic and Social Council—headed home today from their first meeting in Latin America. Their four-week session here had produced no more agreement between Russia and the West than had any other U.N. get-together. The hottest clash came over rival resolutions to investigate forced labor conditions in the world.

Contralto Gretchen Bence Returns to Home Here After 10 Week Tour With Shaw Chorale

A talented young Kingston contralto, already well on her way to professional success, returned this week to her home here, after a 10-week tour with The Robert Shaw Chorale, which sang for 71 consecutive nights throughout Florida and the southeast. The contralto is Miss Gretchen Bence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bence, 121 Harding avenue, a Kingston High School graduate, and a former pupil of Leonard Stine.

Miss Bence was headline news not quite a year ago, when she was hailed as a superb dramatic actress and singer for her performance in the leading role of Gian-Carlo Menotti's The Medium, which was given at St. Lawrence University. At that time it was pointed out that her voice "was produced with an opulence of sound, and a wealth of expressive power so rare as to be unheard of in a non-professional."

GRETCHEN BENCE

Professional Now

But that was a year ago, and today, eight months after her graduation from St. Lawrence University where her ambition was to become a research technician, Gretchen Bence is a professional. As Robert Shaw himself has said of the Chorale, "the yonng artists associated in this venture are first of all professional. Their business is music."

Robert Shaw first heard Miss Bence as a soloist during her freshman year at St. Lawrence, when he conducted the All-State Collegiate Chorus. It was a thrilling experience for the talented 16-year-old to be chosen from all the singers from the state college choirs meeting in Rochester to sing a solo part. Four years later their paths crossed again. After Miss Bence's outstanding performance in The Medium, Miss Helen Hosmer, head of the Crane Department of Music at Potsdam State Teachers College, asked the young singer to come to Potsdam to sing for Robert Shaw, who was there to conduct the school's spring music festival. Miss Hosmer was not only a good friend of Robert Shaw, but also of Miss Bence's former teacher, Leonard Stine. After the audition, she found herself a member of the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Future Plans

Even after her long, and exhausting tour, Miss Bence grows enthusiastic when questioned about future plans.

"Well," she explains, "until next fall when the Chorale goes on tour again, I'll be making frequent trips to New York for recording sessions. One of the first we plan to do is Carmen, with Rise Stevens, and a lot of other artists from the 'Met.' Then, in the fall, we'll start rehearsals for an 11 week tour of the west coast. After that, we'll give a series of six Carnegie Hall concerts, plus a spring tour of at least five or six weeks in the east. Meanwhile, while I'm at home here, I plan to keep on studying with my old teacher, Leonard Stine."

Youth Center Closed

In observance of Holy Week, there will be no dances held at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center Friday and Saturday, Clarence W. Corell, director, announced today. A special spring vacation program is being planned for the boy's department, and further notice will be given. During the vacation the department will be open daily from 10 a. m. until 12 noon, and from 1 to 6 p. m.

Married Yesterday

Miss Evelyne Blass Becomes the Bride Of Cpl. E. B. Gardner

Miss Evelyne Jeanette Blass, daughter of Mrs. Richard L. Blass of Lake Katrine, and the late Mr. Blass, became the bride of Cpl. Edwin Burke Gardner of New Paltz and Governor's Island yesterday afternoon at 4 p. m. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

The bride wore a dark brown suit, with white accessories, and a white corsage. Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Blass, and John W. Blass, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, Boice Lane, for the immediate family. The couple then left for a short wedding trip. Corporal and Mrs. Gardner will make their home after April 1 at 139 West 81 street, New York.

The bride was graduated from New Paltz Central School with the class of '48, and was employed for two years as a dietician's assistant at the Kingston Hospital.

Corporal Gardner is a graduate of New Paltz Central School, class of '42, and served in the Pacific theatre during World War 2. He is now stationed at Governor's Island with the medical detachment of the First Army.

Dorothy E. Shortt Honored at Shower

Miss Dorothy E. Shortt was honored at a bridal shower Tuesday, March 13 at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Miss Lillian Gunderud, 26 Pearl street.

Guests present were the Mmes. Victor Longendyke, Stanley Longendyke, Richard Shortt, Harold Shortt, LeRoy Donaldson, Irving Gardner, Theodore Carlsen, Jr., Harry Relyea, Robert Stenson, William Stenson, and the Misses Suzanne Horstman, Mary Lou Karl, Theresa Sidorowicz and Doris Roenn.

Gifts were placed beneath a traditional pink and white shower umbrella and refreshments were served.

Miss Shortt will become the bride of Frank X. Stenson of 208 West Chestnut street Easter Sunday.

Glee Club to Sing

The Cornell Men's Glee Club, with a special group, the Cayuga's Waiters, will present a musical program, Minor to Major, at the Playhouse, Albany, Saturday at 8 p. m. Tickets are available by calling Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Salsbury, 16 Cambridge road, Albany, at Albany 2-2889.

Centennial Chorus Slated to Sing Here

The 40 voice Centennial Chorus of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, will present a service of "worship in song" Thursday night, March 29, at the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue, it was announced today. Directed by Prof. G. A. Lehman, this will be the all-male group's first appearance on their tour of New York and New Jersey.

The group, composed of ministry students at Colgate-Rochester, practices twice weekly, gaining practical experience in the music and worship leadership of daily chapel services at the seminary.

By appearing throughout the year in the Rochester area at churches and hospitals, and before civic groups, the chorus supplements its annual tours, and provides a full concert schedule for student musicians.

The chorus' programs feature accompanied and unaccompanied choral numbers of varying character and appeal, in addition to vocal and instrumental solos, all carefully integrated into a worship service.

Miss Evelyne Jeanette Blass, daughter of Mrs. Richard L. Blass of Lake Katrine, and the late Mr. Blass, became the bride of Cpl. Edwin Burke Gardner of New Paltz and Governor's Island yesterday afternoon at 4 p. m. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

The bride wore a dark brown suit, with white accessories, and a white corsage. Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Blass, and John W. Blass, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, Boice Lane, for the immediate family. The couple then left for a short wedding trip. Corporal and Mrs. Gardner will make their home after April 1 at 139 West 81 street, New York.

The bride was graduated from New Paltz Central School with the class of '48, and was employed for two years as a dietician's assistant at the Kingston Hospital.

Corporal Gardner is a graduate of New Paltz Central School, class of '42, and served in the Pacific theatre during World War 2. He is now stationed at Governor's Island with the medical detachment of the First Army.

A communion breakfast, under the auspices of St. Peter's Mothers' Society will be held April 15 at the Kirkland Hotel, following the 8 a. m. Mass. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Charles T. Diamond, chairman.

Centennial Chorus Slated to Sing Here

The 40 voice Centennial Chorus of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, will present a service of "worship in song" Thursday night, March 29, at the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue, it was announced today. Directed by Prof. G. A. Lehman, this will be the all-male group's first appearance on their tour of New York and New Jersey.

The group, composed of ministry students at Colgate-Rochester, practices twice weekly, gaining practical experience in the music and worship leadership of daily chapel services at the seminary.

By appearing throughout the year in the Rochester area at churches and hospitals, and before civic groups, the chorus supplements its annual tours, and provides a full concert schedule for student musicians.

The chorus' programs feature accompanied and unaccompanied choral numbers of varying character and appeal, in addition to vocal and instrumental solos, all carefully integrated into a worship service.

Contralto Gretchen Bence Returns to Home Here After 10 Week Tour With Shaw Chorale

A talented young Kingston contralto, already well on her way to professional success, returned this week to her home here, after a 10-week tour with The Robert Shaw Chorale, which sang for 71 consecutive nights throughout Florida and the southeast. The contralto is Miss Gretchen Bence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bence, 121 Harding avenue, a Kingston High School graduate, and a former pupil of Leonard Stine.

Miss Bence was headline news not quite a year ago, when she was hailed as a superb dramatic actress and singer for her performance in the leading role of Gian-Carlo Menotti's The Medium, which was given at St. Lawrence University. At that time it was pointed out that her voice "was produced with an opulence of sound, and a wealth of expressive power so rare as to be unheard of in a non-professional."

GRETCHEN BENCE

Professional Now

But that was a year ago, and today, eight months after her graduation from St. Lawrence University where her ambition was to become a research technician, Gretchen Bence is a professional. As Robert Shaw himself has said of the Chorale, "the yonng artists associated in this venture are first of all professional. Their business is music."

Robert Shaw first heard Miss Bence as a soloist during her freshman year at St. Lawrence, when he conducted the All-State Collegiate Chorus. It was a thrilling experience for the talented 16-year-old to be chosen from all the singers from the state college choirs meeting in Rochester to sing a solo part. Four years later their paths crossed again. After Miss Bence's outstanding performance in The Medium, Miss Helen Hosmer, head of the Crane Department of Music at Potsdam State Teachers College, asked the young singer to come to Potsdam to sing for Robert Shaw, who was there to conduct the school's spring music festival. Miss Hosmer was not only a good friend of Robert Shaw, but also of Miss Bence's former teacher, Leonard Stine. After the audition, she found herself a member of the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Future Plans

Even after her long, and exhausting tour, Miss Bence grows enthusiastic when questioned about future plans.

"Well," she explains, "until next fall when the Chorale goes on tour again, I'll be making frequent trips to New York for recording sessions. One of the first we plan to do is Carmen, with Rise Stevens, and a lot of other artists from the 'Met.' Then, in the fall, we'll start rehearsals for an 11 week tour of the west coast. After that, we'll give a series of six Carnegie Hall concerts, plus a spring tour of at least five or six weeks in the east. Meanwhile, while I'm at home here, I plan to keep on studying with my old teacher, Leonard Stine."

Youth Center Closed

In observance of Holy Week, there will be no dances held at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center Friday and Saturday, Clarence W. Corell, director, announced today. A special spring vacation program is being planned for the boy's department, and further notice will be given. During the vacation the department will be open daily from 10 a. m. until 12 noon, and from 1 to 6 p. m.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

FRIEND'S BAD TABLE MANNERS

A reader asks: "Is there any polite way I could bring the bad table manners of a friend to her attention? She chews with her mouth wide open (primarily because she stuffs it too full), eats ice cream off the spoon instead of taking one mouthful at a time out of the dish, dunks toast and cookies into her coffee and in general makes herself unpleasant to look at during meals. She's a grand person otherwise and I don't want to risk hurting her feelings."

I can think of nothing unless you lunch out together and encounter someone committing one of her faults. In this case you could remark about the unpleasantness of such bad table manners to her.

Mother-in-Law Just Thoughtless

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law has always said "Thank you, Bob" whenever we have given her a gift of any kind. Even when we go to the movies she gets out of the car and looks only at my husband when she thanks us for taking her. I realize it's my husband's money but I'm the one that thinks of her usually. I feel she's very rude to slight me in this way. Please discuss the problem.

Answer: So long as your relations are otherwise pleasant, I wouldn't let this thoughtlessness on her part build itself into anything serious. I can't imagine that the slight to you is intentional, or that you really believe it is! If you did you would hardly keep on thinking of her as you evidently do.

Informal Card

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissable to enclose an informal card (the folded card with my name printed on the front) instead of a visiting card with a wedding gift?

Answer: If you are writing a message inside it would be excellent. Otherwise, the conventional visiting card is better.

Mrs. Post is sorry that she cannot answer personal mail. If such problems as, should a leafy salad be cut with a knife, etc., arise, the answers are included in her leaflet E-19. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Lake Katrine Grange Has Hobby Program

Lake Katrine Grange entertained 22 members from Highland Grange, five from Asbury Grange, two from New Paltz Grange, and one from Ulster Park Grange during their regular meeting Monday evening. The meeting was held for the group's scholarship fund.

During the evening Mrs. Charles Bell, lecturer, gave a program on hobbies, and a miscellaneous assortment of articles were displayed. Mrs. Bell's contribution was a collection of the Grange Monthly, saved during the past 21 years. Other members brought collector's dolls, hand made rugs, crocheted pieces, trays, foreign money, German steins, match covers, stamps, post cards and lead pencils.

Lake Katrine Grange members will be the guests of Mt. Tremper Grange March 26 when lecturer Richard Blass will present the program. Sandwiches will be furnished by Lake Katrine Grange, and a chartered bus will leave the Grange Hall at 7 p. m.

The following members have been announced for the April committee: Mrs. Edward Sagendorf, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. William Epping, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shiels, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wangor, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boice, Mrs. Katherine Brink and Mrs. Paul Lachmann.

Saroyan to Re-Wed

Santa Monica, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Playwright William Saroyan and his divorced wife are going to re-marry. The 42-year-old author and Mrs. Carol Stuart Marcus Saroyan, 26, who were married in 1943 and divorced two years ago, obtained their marriage license late yesterday. They have two children, Aram, 7, and Lucy, 5. Mrs. Saroyan, who obtained her Las Vegas, Nev., decree on charges of cruelty, is the daughter of Charles Marcus, vice-president of Bendix Aviation Corp.

Mind on Other Things

Philadelphia, March 22 (AP)—James Dunn was enthralled by the televised proceedings of the Senate crime investigators in New York. So much so he didn't even notice that his house was on fire. The blaze had spread from a shed to the second floor and all across the roof before Dunn realized what was happening. It took firemen an tour to put out the flames. The house and its furnishings were heavily damaged.

FRIEND'S BAD TABLE MANNERS

A reader asks: "Is there any polite way I could bring the bad table manners of a friend to her attention? She chews with her mouth wide open (primarily because she stuffs it too full), eats ice cream off the spoon instead of taking one mouthful at a time out of the dish, dunks toast and cookies into her coffee and in general makes herself unpleasant to look at during meals. She's a grand person otherwise and I don't want to risk hurting her feelings."

I can think of nothing unless you lunch out together and encounter someone committing one of her faults. In this case you could remark about the unpleasantness of such bad table manners to her.

Mother-in-Law Just Thoughtless

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law has always said "Thank you, Bob" whenever we have given her a gift of any kind. Even when we go to the movies she gets out of the car and looks only at my husband when she thanks us for taking her. I realize it's my husband's money but I'm the one that thinks of her usually. I feel she's very rude to slight me in this way. Please discuss the problem.

Answer: So long as your relations are otherwise pleasant, I wouldn't let this thoughtlessness on her part build itself into anything serious. I can't imagine that the slight to you is intentional, or that you really believe it is! If you did you would hardly keep on thinking of her as you evidently do.

Informal Card

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissable to enclose an informal card (the folded card with my name printed on the front) instead of a visiting card with a wedding gift?

Answer: If you are writing a message inside it would be excellent. Otherwise, the conventional visiting card is better.

Mrs. Post is sorry that she cannot answer personal mail. If such problems as, should a leafy salad be cut with a knife, etc., arise, the answers are included in her leaflet E-19. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Lake Katrine Grange Has Hobby Program

Lake Katrine Grange entertained 22 members from Highland Grange, five from Asbury Grange, two from New Paltz Grange, and one from Ulster Park Grange during their regular meeting Monday evening. The meeting was held for the group's scholarship fund.

During the evening Mrs. Charles Bell, lecturer, gave a program on hobbies, and a miscellaneous assortment of articles were displayed. Mrs. Bell's contribution was a collection of the Grange Monthly, saved during the past 21 years. Other members brought collector's dolls, hand made rugs, crocheted pieces, trays, foreign money, German steins, match covers, stamps, post cards and lead pencils.

Lake Katrine Grange members will be the guests of Mt. Tremper Grange March 26 when lecturer Richard Blass will present the program. Sandwiches will be furnished by Lake Katrine Grange, and a chartered bus will leave the Grange Hall at 7 p. m.

The following members have been announced for the April committee: Mrs. Edward Sagendorf, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. William Epping, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shiels, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wangor, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boice, Mrs. Katherine Brink and Mrs. Paul Lachmann.

Saroyan to Re-Wed

Santa Monica, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Playwright William Saroyan and his divorced wife are going to re-marry. The 42-year-old author and Mrs. Carol Stuart Marcus Saroyan, 26, who were married in 1943 and divorced two years ago, obtained their marriage license late yesterday. They have two children, Aram, 7, and Lucy, 5. Mrs. Saroyan, who obtained her Las Vegas, Nev., decree on charges of cruelty, is the daughter of Charles Marcus, vice-president of Bendix Aviation Corp.

Mind on Other Things

Philadelphia, March 22 (AP)—James Dunn was enthralled by the televised proceedings of the Senate crime investigators in New York. So much so he didn't even notice that his house was on fire. The blaze had spread from a shed to the second floor and all across the roof before Dunn realized what was happening. It took firemen an tour to put out the flames. The house and its furnishings were heavily damaged.

Advertising Manager

The appointment of Franklyn S. Ferry as advertising manager of the Grand Union Company was announced today by Hugh J. Davern, vice president in charge of merchandising. Effective April 15, Ferry will assume the duties of Mary K. Brown who has resigned but will continue in her present capacity until that date. In the position he now holds as assistant to the general sales manager of the Route Division of the Grand Union Company, Ferry has complete charge of advertising and sales promotion for the company's home delivery service which operates in 36 states and the District of Columbia.

Old First Reformed School to Present Easter Morn Service

The Church School of the Old First Reformed Church will hold a special service Easter morning at 9:45 a. m. in the main church auditorium, it was announced today. All departments of the school will be represented in the program, and parents and friends are invited to attend.

There will be a song by the beginners' department under the direction of Mrs. William Limbacher; the call to worship will be given by primary youngsters Betty Boice, Ruth Cawston, Harry Mertine, Linda Schneider, and Edward Senft; the scripture lesson will be read by Penny Johnson; and the offertory solo will be sung by Glenn Albright.

Junior boys from Mrs. G. D. Logan's class will receive the offering, while boys from Edwin Ford's class will act as ushers. The remainder of the program will be presented by the following students: Charles Bell, Charlotte Brugman, Bernard Carpinelli, Jacqueline DuBois, Carol Haulenbeck, Janet Kaercher, Betsy Rigby, Alan Schoonmaker, Jean Scott, and Carol Talleur.

Lenten Services

Old First Reformed

Holy Thursday will be observed tonight at the Old First Reformed Church, corner of Wall and Main streets, with a special communion service at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, will preach on "In Remembrance of Him." The choir will render appropriate music and there will be a welcome to new members. The communion is open to all who name the name of Christ.

Moran Resigns . . .

back up the firemen's pledge to support O'Dwyer in his successful 1949 campaign for reelection.

Says He Was Thanked

Crane told the committee, in the jam-packed courtroom, that after he gave a red manila envelope stuffed with money to O'Dwyer the latter "thanked me."

"He didn't look in the envelope or anything else," Crane added.

Crane then threw a verbal harpoon into the testimony of Moran.

Crane said he passed the $55,000 in cash to Moran, in installments of $35,000 in 1947 and $20,000 in 1949. It intended to promote legislation relating to the welfare of New York city firemen.

Impellitteri later sent a telegram to Moran demanding he resign by noon today or face immediate suspension pending ouster proceedings.

The 38-year-old Crane testified he also laid out the following UFA contributions:

$4,000 to the New York state Democratic committee.

$60,000 in expenses to help push state laws which would benefit firemen.

$1,500 in payments to former Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle.

But Quayle, Crane emphasized, was always concerned about firemen and was not interested in the union's money.

No Acknowledgment

Asked if he ever received any acknowledgement of the O'Dwyer or Dewey campaign contributions, Crane replied "No."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), committee chairman, asked the witness if there were bank records of the donations.

"Bank records would not necessarily reflect the time of the contributions," Crane said.

Crane said he later had a falling out with O'Dwyer but that Moran, lifelong friend of the mayor, "took me over" to O'Dwyer and "we straightened out our differences."

Concerning Crane's alleged UFA campaign contribution to Gov. Dewey, James C. Hagerty, the governor's secretary said in Albany:

"Neither the governor nor his campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, ever heard of any contribution from the uniformed firemen until this year. If the committee wants the truth, it can get it very simply by putting Mr. Crews on the witness stand."

Has Spurned Invitations

Gov. Dewey twice has turned down invitations to testify before the Senate committee. Kefauver and his colleagues have been interested in hearing the governor talk about alleged gambling at upstate Saratoga Springs and about the prison parole of vice king Charles (Lucky) Luciano, later deported to Italy.

At the committee's first invitation, Dewey replied with a counter-invitation asking the committee to visit Albany to hear him. The governor has been ill.

Yesterday, in a tart telegram, Dewey turned down a second invitation and accused Kefauver of making "discourteous personal remarks."

Kefauver's second invitation to Dewey noted that the committee resumes its hearings in Washington today and that it would be glad to hear the governor there.

After the hearing here ended, Kefauver said in a news conference that "the Saratoga difficulty is still left hanging in the air * * *."

Has Created Clamor

The New York hearing, viewed by millions on television, has created a clamor for continuing the life of the crime probe group, which is due to expire after March 31.

Among those urging a petition campaign to extend the committee's life was Robert D. Blaikie, west side Manhattan Democratic leader.

Committee members Kefauver and Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R.-N.H.) both indicated they would be willing to see the five-man committee continue.

Kefauver said "many cases of perjury" had been committed here and that prosecution will be pushed. The record also will be surveyed for possible contempt citations, he added.

Said Tobey: "The curtain should not be pulled down at this time."

Engineers estimate that preventable night accidents on main highways represent an annual loss of about $6000 a mile.

Finger Points

John P. Crane, president of the New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association, points a finger as he testifies before the Senate crime committee in federal courthouse, N. Y. (March 21). Crane told the Kefauver committee he gave former Mayor William O'Dwyer $10,000 in August, 1949, as "evidence of support" by city firemen in the mayor's campaign for reelection.

Probe Sidelights

New York, March 22 (AP)—Delegates representing 132 affiliated Irish organizations in New York city want the world to know they have "full confidence" in former Mayor William O'Dwyer, who was born in Ireland.

The delegates, numbering 231, are members of the United Irish Counties Association. The association represents the 32 Irish groups. A resolution adopted last night said:

"Be it resolved that we never had questioned and we do not now question either the integrity or the honesty of his excellency, William O'Dwyer, past officer of this organization, and that we continue to hold him in our full confidence."

Copies of the resolution were sent to O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico, and to the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee in Washington.

'Has Not Resigned'

Key West, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A White House spokesman, queried last night on whether William O'Dwyer would resign as ambassador to Mexico, said:

"He has not resigned and there is no undated resignation."

Decides on Citizenship

New York, March 22 (AP)—While a Senate crime committee ponders whether to seek deportation of the five Anastasia brothers, a Brooklyn federal judge decides today whether to make one of them a citizen.

Gerardo Anastasia, brother of Anthony and Albert Anastasia, was sworn in Tuesday as a citizen in Brooklyn Federal Court.

One hour later, it was learned, an immigration official arrived to ask Federal Judge Robert A. Inch to remove Gerardo's name from the list of new citizens.

The immigration man pointed out to the judge that Gerardo's brother, Anthony, testifying before the Senate committee the night before, had said that all five Anastasias got into the country by jumping ship.

The judge said he couldn't strike off Gerardo's name on the basis of newspaper reports, without a formal order.

But, he said, the citizenship of Gerardo and 175 other persons sworn in with him would not become final until today when the judge is to sign the official order.

Judge Inch indicated he would hear objections, if any, before conferring final citizenship on Gerardo Anastasia, and would allow Anastasia to contest any action taken to stop his naturalization.

Can Relax Somewhat

Americans who worried about the effects abroad of the sensational Senate Crime Investigating Committee hearings in New York can relax a bit now. For the most part, the people abroad ignored it.

If anything, foreigners were puzzled at the strange ways of Americans. Failing to understand what all the noise was about, the average foreigner shrugged his shoulders and charged the whole thing off to American eccentricity.

In Europe there was scarcely a ripple of interest. The most astonishing thing to Europeans appeared to be the vast coverage of the investigation, particularly television.

Americans had expressed worry about the effect of the revelations in Latin America. The Latin Americans apparently had troubles of their own to worry about. They all but ignored it.

Only in Mexico did the investigation get a moderate display in the press, and there, apparently for just one reason: It involved former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico. The Mexicans apparently liked O'Dwyer, and the press coverage reflected this.

Troop B Gives Gaffney Support

Malone, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A state police officer of Troop B says members of the troop are overwhelmingly in support of Superintendent John A. Gaffney, whose ouster has been demanded by a Police Benevolent Association official.

The officer declined use of his name.

Gaffney's removal was asked by John McCaddin, executive-secretary of the P.B.A. The demand came after Gaffney testified Friday before the U. S. Senate Crime Committee that he had pigeon-holed a report on gambling in Saratoga Springs.

Theodore De Luca, Troop B delegate to the PBA, said Tuesday that he agreed with McCaddin.

Earlier this week, spokesmen said police of Troop K at Hawthorne and Troop D at Oneida supported Gaffney.

Only six monarchies still exist in Europe. They are Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Norway, Sweden, and The Netherlands.

Least notable period in the history of fashion, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, was from 1914 to 1920.

Scholarships Are Planned for 1,200 Vets of Two Wars

There are 1,200 scholarships of the 1951 series being planned for distribution to veterans of World Wars 1 and 2 who meet the qualifications and succeed in competitive examinations it was announced today by the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency. These war service scholarships allow for benefits up to $350 a year for tuition fees for a period of four years for full or part time study, graduate or undergraduate, in any college, university, business, professional, vocational, tecnical or trade schools located in the state of New York and licensed or approved by the Board of Regents. In an institution operating under an approved accelerated program the scholarships will cover charges up to $525 a fiscal year but not to exceed total funds available under the scholarship.

In order to qualify veterans must have been legal residents of New York state when inducted into the armed forces, must now be legal residents of New York state and must hold a discharge from the armed forces that is not other than honorable.

The examination will be of the objective type, based upon a variety of school work suitable for candidates with widely different educational training. Examinations will be held Saturday, May 5, from 9:15 a. m. to 12:45 p. m. The application form for the examination must be sent by registered mail to the Bureau of Examinations and Testing, State Education Department, Albany 1, New York, postmarked on or before April 17, 1951. Applicants will be advised by mail as to the place of the examination. The examination will be held in 13 different cities throughout the state to make it more convenient for applicants in the various sections of the state. Applications and instruction sheets are available at the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, 32 Main street, or the branch offices at Saugerties, Ellenville, Kerhonkson and Highland.

$1,500 in payments to former Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle.

But Quayle, Crane emphasized, was always concerned about firemen and was not interested in the union's money.

Old First Reformed School to Present Easter Morn Service

The Church School of the Old First Reformed Church will hold a special service Easter morning at 9:45 a. m. in the main church auditorium, it was announced today. All departments of the school will be represented in the program, and parents and friends are invited to attend.

There will be a song by the beginners' department under the direction of Mrs. William Limbacher; the call to worship will be given by primary youngsters Betty Boice, Ruth Cawston, Harry Mertine, Linda Schneider, and Edward Senft; the scripture lesson will be read by Penny Johnson; and the offertory solo will be sung by Glenn Albright.

Junior boys from Mrs. G. D. Logan's class will receive the offering, while boys from Edwin Ford's class will act as ushers. The remainder of the program will be presented by the following students: Charles Bell, Charlotte Brugman, Bernard Carpinelli, Jacqueline DuBois, Carol Haulenbeck, Janet Kaercher, Betsy Rigby, Alan Schoonmaker, Jean Scott, and Carol Talleur.

Lenten Services

Old First Reformed

Holy Thursday will be observed tonight at the Old First Reformed Church, corner of Wall and Main streets, with a special communion service at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, will preach on "In Remembrance of Him." The choir will render appropriate music and there will be a welcome to new members. The communion is open to all who name the name of Christ.

Glasco Honors Disabled Vet

Philip DeGregoria, center, paraplegic veteran of World War 2, receives a check of $1,013.83 from Michael Greco, right, chairman of the Mulford Engine Company of Glasco which raised funds to help build the veteran his new home. DeGregoria is shown seated in his specially designed elevator which has been installed in his new home in Glasco. Also shown in the photo is Rudolph Mauro, left, president of the Glasco engine company. A testimonial dinner climaxing the drive to raise funds for DeGregoria was held Saturday night at Sparky's Tavern in Glasco. (George's Shop Photo)

Moran Resigns . . .

back up the firemen's pledge to support O'Dwyer in his successful 1949 campaign for reelection.

Says He Was Thanked

Crane told the committee, in the jam-packed courtroom, that after he gave a red manila envelope stuffed with money to O'Dwyer the latter "thanked me."

"He didn't look in the envelope or anything else," Crane added.

Crane then threw a verbal harpoon into the testimony of Moran.

Crane said he passed the $55,000 in cash to Moran, in installments of $35,000 in 1947 and $20,000 in 1949. It intended to promote legislation relating to the welfare of New York city firemen.

Impellitteri later sent a telegram to Moran demanding he resign by noon today or face immediate suspension pending ouster proceedings.

The 38-year-old Crane testified he also laid out the following UFA contributions:

$4,000 to the New York state Democratic committee.

$60,000 in expenses to help push state laws which would benefit firemen.

$1,500 in payments to former Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle.

But Quayle, Crane emphasized, was always concerned about firemen and was not interested in the union's money.

No Acknowledgment

Asked if he ever received any acknowledgement of the O'Dwyer or Dewey campaign contributions, Crane replied "No."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), committee chairman, asked the witness if there were bank records of the donations.

"Bank records would not necessarily reflect the time of the contributions," Crane said.

Crane said he later had a falling out with O'Dwyer but that Moran, lifelong friend of the mayor, "took me over" to O'Dwyer and "we straightened out our differences."

Concerning Crane's alleged UFA campaign contribution to Gov. Dewey, James C. Hagerty, the governor's secretary said in Albany:

"Neither the governor nor his campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, ever heard of any contribution from the uniformed firemen until this year. If the committee wants the truth, it can get it very simply by putting Mr. Crews on the witness stand."

Has Spurned Invitations

Gov. Dewey twice has turned down invitations to testify before the Senate committee. Kefauver and his colleagues have been interested in hearing the governor talk about alleged gambling at upstate Saratoga Springs and about the prison parole of vice king Charles (Lucky) Luciano, later deported to Italy.

At the committee's first invitation, Dewey replied with a counter-invitation asking the committee to visit Albany to hear him. The governor has been ill.

Yesterday, in a tart telegram, Dewey turned down a second invitation and accused Kefauver of making "discourteous personal remarks."

Kefauver's second invitation to Dewey noted that the committee resumes its hearings in Washington today and that it would be glad to hear the governor there.

After the hearing here ended, Kefauver said in a news conference that "the Saratoga difficulty is still left hanging in the air * * *."

Has Created Clamor

The New York hearing, viewed by millions on television, has created a clamor for continuing the life of the crime probe group, which is due to expire after March 31.

Among those urging a petition campaign to extend the committee's life was Robert D. Blaikie, west side Manhattan Democratic leader.

Committee members Kefauver and Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R.-N.H.) both indicated they would be willing to see the five-man committee continue.

Kefauver said "many cases of perjury" had been committed here and that prosecution will be pushed. The record also will be surveyed for possible contempt citations, he added.

Said Tobey: "The curtain should not be pulled down at this time."

Engineers estimate that preventable night accidents on main highways represent an annual loss of about $6000 a mile.

Finger Points

John P. Crane, president of the New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association, points a finger as he testifies before the Senate crime committee in federal courthouse, N. Y. (March 21). Crane told the Kefauver committee he gave former Mayor William O'Dwyer $10,000 in August, 1949, as "evidence of support" by city firemen in the mayor's campaign for reelection.

Probe Sidelights

New York, March 22 (AP)—Delegates representing 132 affiliated Irish organizations in New York city want the world to know they have "full confidence" in former Mayor William O'Dwyer, who was born in Ireland.

The delegates, numbering 231, are members of the United Irish Counties Association. The association represents the 32 Irish groups. A resolution adopted last night said:

"Be it resolved that we never had questioned and we do not now question either the integrity or the honesty of his excellency, William O'Dwyer, past officer of this organization, and that we continue to hold him in our full confidence."

Copies of the resolution were sent to O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico, and to the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee in Washington.

O'Dwyer was a star witness on Monday and Tuesday before the committee here.

'Has Not Resigned'

Key West, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A White House spokesman, queried last night on whether William O'Dwyer would resign as ambassador to Mexico, said:

"He has not resigned and there is no undated resignation."

Decides on Citizenship

New York, March 22 (AP)—While a Senate crime committee ponders whether to seek deportation of the five Anastasia brothers, a Brooklyn federal judge decides today whether to make one of them a citizen.

Gerardo Anastasia, brother of Anthony and Albert Anastasia, was sworn in Tuesday as a citizen in Brooklyn Federal Court.

One hour later, it was learned, an immigration official arrived to ask Federal Judge Robert A. Inch to remove Gerardo's name from the list of new citizens.

The immigration man pointed out to the judge that Gerardo's brother, Anthony, testifying before the Senate committee the night before, had said that all five Anastasias got into the country by jumping ship.

The judge said he couldn't strike off Gerardo's name on the basis of newspaper reports, without a formal order.

But, he said, the citizenship of Gerardo and 175 other persons sworn in with him would not become final until today when the judge is to sign the official order.

Judge Inch indicated he would hear objections, if any, before conferring final citizenship on Gerardo Anastasia, and would allow Anastasia to contest any action taken to stop his naturalization.

(By The Associated Press)
Can Relax Somewhat

Americans who worried about the effects abroad of the sensational Senate Crime Investigating Committee hearings in New York can relax a bit now. For the most part, the people abroad ignored it.

If anything, foreigners were puzzled at the strange ways of Americans. Failing to understand what all the noise was about, the average foreigner shrugged his shoulders and charged the whole thing off to American eccentricity.

In Europe there was scarcely a ripple of interest. The most astonishing thing to Europeans appeared to be the vast coverage of the investigation, particularly television.

Americans had expressed worry about the effect of the revelations in Latin America. The Latin Americans apparently had troubles of their own to worry about. They all but ignored it.

Only in Mexico did the investigation get a moderate display in the press, and there, apparently for just one reason: It involved former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico. The Mexicans apparently liked O'Dwyer, and the press coverage reflected this.

Troop B Gives Gaffney Support

Malone, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A state police officer of Troop B says members of the troop are overwhelmingly in support of Superintendent John A. Gaffney, whose ouster has been demanded by a Police Benevolent Association official.

The officer declined use of his name.

Gaffney's removal was asked by John McCaddin, executive-secretary of the P.B.A. The demand came after Gaffney testified Friday before the U. S. Senate Crime Committee that he had pigeon-holed a report on gambling in Saratoga Springs.

Theodore De Luca, Troop B delegate to the PBA, said Tuesday that he agreed with McCaddin.

Earlier this week, spokesmen said police of Troop K at Hawthorne and Troop D at Oneida supported Gaffney.

Only six monarchies still exist in Europe. They are Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Norway, Sweden, and The Netherlands.

Least notable period in the history of fashion, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, was from 1914 to 1920.

Scholarships Are Planned for 1,200 Vets of Two Wars

There are 1,200 scholarships of the 1951 series being planned for distribution to veterans of World Wars 1 and 2 who meet the qualifications and succeed in competitive examinations it was announced today by the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency. These war service scholarships allow for benefits up to $350 a year for tuition fees for a period of four years for full or part time study, graduate or undergraduate, in any college, university, business, professional, vocational, tecnical or trade schools located in the state of New York and licensed or approved by the Board of Regents. In an institution operating under an approved accelerated program the scholarships will cover charges up to $525 a fiscal year but not to exceed total funds available under the scholarship.

In order to qualify veterans must have been legal residents of New York state when inducted into the armed forces, must now be legal residents of New York state and must hold a discharge from the armed forces that is not other than honorable.

The examination will be of the objective type, based upon a variety of school work suitable for candidates with widely different educational training. Examinations will be held Saturday, May 5, from 9:15 a. m. to 12:45 p. m. The application form for the examination must be sent by registered mail to the Bureau of Examinations and Testing, State Education Department, Albany 1, New York, postmarked on or before April 17, 1951. Applicants will be advised by mail as to the place of the examination. The examination will be held in 13 different cities throughout the state to make it more convenient for applicants in the various sections of the state. Applications and instruction sheets are available at the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, 32 Main street, or the branch offices at Saugerties, Ellenville, Kerhonkson and Highland.

Carroll Denies

318 Missouri avenue, in east St. Louis. He said the volume of betting there "ran into millions of dollars."

He asked if Carroll hadn't told a Senate commerce subcommittee investigating big time bookmaking last spring that the law of averages would insure a 15 per cent profit on such operations. He said Carroll now seemed to be contradicting this testimony with his observations about the comeback activities.

"I don't think it is contrary," Carroll replied.

Aces Cop 'B' Title With 68-51 Victory Over Esopus Firemen

Farley, Smith High With 18, 17 Points

The Newkirk Aces, coming back strong after trailing at halftime, clinched the championship of the Y.M.C.A. "B" Basketball League Wednesday night when they turned back the stubborn Esopus Firemen by 68 to 51 in the third game of their post-season Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Aces drew first blood in the playoffs with a 74 to 62 victory over the Firemen but Esopus evened the series in the second game with a 72 to 42 triumph.

Charlie Farley and Paul Smith emerged as the top point scorers for Newkirks last night in a game which was described by Lou Schafer as one of the best played "B" League contests of the entire season.

Farley sparked his club with 18 points while Smith followed with 17. Harold Hutton also hit the double figure for the Aces with 13 markers.

Dick Mains, with his 17 points, was the big gun for the Firemen in a losing cause. R. Berger followed with 14 and Jim Ferraro flipped in 11.

Both clubs opened the game with a zone defense and played cautious basketball. The Aces held a 19-14 edge at the first quarter mark.

Holding the Aces to eight points, the Firemen enjoyed their only quarter lead of the game as they led 33 to 27 at halftime. R. Berger paced the Firemen with seven points in this period while Mains followed with six.

Aces Take Over

With Hutton and Farley showing the way with five and four points respectively, the Aces regained their lead in the third canto and led at the bell by 45 to 39. The Firemen, after threatening to move away from their foes in the midway period, failed to register a point in the first six and a half minutes of play in the third period.

Newkirks opened up in the final period and enjoyed their best point spread of the battle as they swished the cords for 23 points to the Firemen's 12 and won the game going away by the final count of 68 to 51.

Both the Aces and Firemen will receive trophies for their first and second place finish.

West Camp Triumphs

An experienced West Camp quintet scored a 77 to 53 victory over the Yellow Jackets in last night's prelim on the Y boards.

Joe Erceg led the winners with 26 points. DeCicco and Morrisey were high for the losers with 17 and 16 respectively.

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Frankly worried about the disastrous effects the proposed 20 per cent federal tax on bowling and billiards might have on the tenpin industry, the American Bowling Congress is rallying its half million membership in a crucial behind-the-scenes struggle to have the legislation forestalled.

Bowling costs which have risen from 10 cents a game in the last 40 years faces another increase in Kingston and across the country, if the new tax measure is enacted.

Price of bowling at the two major establishments in the city—Bowlatorium and Bowlodrome—now 35 cents a line would be upped to at least 42 cents. The tax would apply to games rolled on public alleys and those operated in semi-private clubs, private, organizational and club alleys.

The A.B.C. headed by its national secretary, Elmer H. Baumgarten of Milwaukee, appointed a committee which pleaded the case of the bowlers before the House Ways and Means Committee. Heading the group was John Canelli, the A.B.C.'s legal expert and first vice-president; Alberta Crowe of the Women's International Bowling Congress; A. L. Ebersole, secretary of the National Duckpin Congress; John Quan and Joseph Gubman representing the National Bowling Proprietors Association; and William C. Lawson, of the manufacturers.

• Operators Take Dim View:

Local operators like Sisto Ruzzo and John Ferraro and John Sangi believe such an increase would drasticaly reduce bowling and hamper any possibility for its future growth in Kingston.

In taking a strong stand against the proposed legislation, Secretary Baumgarten pointed out that the national bowling volume, particularly open bowling, suffered a substantial drop in 1950 because of rising costs and adds:

Many bowlers cannot and will not continue to bowl in the face of this terrific increase."

"The proposed tax would be unprecedented on the participant of any particular recreation or sport in direct conflict with the settled policy of the federal government to foster and encourage the general public to keep physically fit," Baumgarten continued.

He then went on to say:

"Many establishments will have to close if the bowling volume is reduced much further. With these failures and the general reduction of business in other establishments as a result of this increase, the proposed tax also would fall short of expectations as a revenue producer.

"Bowling proprietors already pay a yearly tax on each alley bed ($20) and this tax as well as various manufacturers' taxes on the materials and equipment needed to operate the alleys are, of course, passed along to and absorbed by the bowlers.

"If the government collapses the bowling industry by this tax, it will destroy a physical fitness program which was essential to our industrial workers and home front civilians during World War 2."

• An Unprecedented Tax:

Canelli told the House committee:

"The American Bowling Congress objects to and opposes the proposed 20 per cent tax on the use of bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables, the imposition of which would be an outright tax on 16 million bowlers on what has long been recognized as their necessary physical recreation activities. The proposed tax is the difference between taxing the participant in a recreation or sport instead of taxing the spectator who is being entertained or amused.

"Bowling is not a luxury, nor can this proposed tax be in any manner construed as a tax on a luxury article. Bowling is not an amusement. It is a participant recreation, providing valuable and necessary physical recreation for these millions of Americans.

"Bowlers come from all walks of life. Fifteen per cent of the A.B.C. membership bowl in church, Sunday school and Y.M.C.A. leagues.

• This Is a Poor Man's Game:

"And above all," Canelli continued, "bowling is the poor man's sport," and the income chart submitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Snyder, shows that 83 per cent of the taxpayers of the country earned less than $5,000.00 a year. A few years ago the U. S. Department of Commerce issued a report showing that 77 per cent of the wage earners of the country were in the less than $3,000 bracket.

"The proposed tax is discriminatory and grossly unfair, in that it is an unprecedented tax on the participants in a particular recreation and sport. Bowling is the greatest participant sports and the participants, most of them, come from the lower income groups with strictly limited amounts of money to spend for recreation. In fact it is the only sport available to millions who, because of some physical disability, advanced age or other causes are unable to take part in any other participating recreational sport.

"It is obvious what will happen if the cost of bowling is increased 20 per cent by the addition of the proposed tax."

Ulmer, Aycock Favorites

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Al Ulmer and Tommy Aycock were reestablished today as favorites in the national seniors best ball golf tournament. Ulmer, senior individual champion, and Aycock, onetime intercollegiate champion, both of Jacksonville, Fla., easily beat Dr. E. G. Brittain and Augustus Duryea of Somerville, N. Y., 6 and 5, in yesterday's first round of match play.

Seeks Middleweight Bout

New York, March 22 (AP)—Veteran Chuck Hunter, who passed up a more lucrative London fight in order to look good on television, was searching for a shot today "with any middleweight." The experienced, 25-year-old Cleveland Negro came out fine in his T.V. showing via C.B.S., with a decisive ten-round victory over Jimmy Beau, the 21-year-old contender from New Canaan, Conn., in St. Nicholas arena last night. Beau weighed 165 to Hunter's 165¾.

Pres Ward's Army Induction Marks 44th Major Leaguer Entering Armed Forces

Some In, Others To Follow Soon

New York, March 22 (AP)—It may have escaped general attention in recent weeks, but major league baseball players regularly are being called into the armed services.

Yesterday's induction at Kansas City of Preston Ward, Chicago Cubs first baseman, pointed up that since last September, some 44 players either have or soon will don Uncle Sam's uniform.

The Kansas City induction center said there was a slight deformity of Ward's elbow, but not enough to disqualify him for army service.

Paul Petitt, the 19-year-old, $100,000 bonus pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, received notice yesterday to report to Los Angeles March 30 for his physical examination.

Ward's induction makes a total of 23 National Leaguers in the service. The American League has 21.

A's, Nats Escape Draft

Of the 16 major league clubs only the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators have not lost any players. Most of their players are over the draft age.

A list of players already inducted or slated to be includes:

National League

Boston—Del Crandall, Johnny Antonelli, Charles Bicknell, Robert Buhl, Tom Whisenant, Edwin Mathews.

Brooklyn—Bill Loes, Erv Palica.

Chicago—Preston Ward, Carl Sawatski, Paul Schramka, Elvin Stablefeld.

Cincinnati—Clifford Ross, Ed Bailey.

New York—Sam Calderone.

Philadelphia — Curt Simmons, Joseph Lonnett, Ben Tompkins.

Pittsburgh — Danny O'Connell, William MacDonald, Paul Petitt.

St. Louis—Harvey Haddix, Jack Cohan.

American League

Boston—Chuck Stobbs.

Chicago—Joseph Kirrene, Bill Wilson.

Cleveland—Al Aber, Dick Weik, Herb Adams, James Lemon, Hal Saltzman.

Detroit—Art Houtteman, Thaddeus Kopuscinski.

New York—Ed Ford, James Madison, Art Schult, Alfred Martin, Bobby Brown.

Philadelphia—None.

St. Louis—Donald Larsen, Clarence Marshall, Owen Friend, Dick Kokos, Bill Pilgrim, Rocco Ippolito.

Washington—None.

Perth, Wales—Frank Bell, 200, Britain, knocked out Tommy Farr, 203, Wales, 2.

New York — Chuck Hunter, 165¾, Cleveland, outpointed Jimmy Beau, 165, Canaan, Conn., 10.

Bucs Enter Movies

San Bernardino, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Branch Rickey and his Pittsburgh Pirates are going into the movies. Not for a mere spot of documentary filming, nor for a few flickers in a newsreel, but as real actors in a full length feature. Shrewd observers figure the transition from baseball to histrionics shouldn't be too difficult for the Pirates. They cite some of the club's performances last year which had high drama, thrills, pathos—yes comedy too. The Pirates may not win the National League pennant this year, but who's to say they'll not cop an Oscar? Actually, it is reasoned, this should be a golden chance for the Pirates to escape the blight which often afflicts last place ball teams—an inferiority complex.

Frankly worried about the disastrous effects the proposed 20 per cent federal tax on bowling and billiards might have on the tenpin industry, the American Bowling Congress is rallying its half million membership in a crucial behind-the-scenes struggle to have the legislation forestalled.

Bowling costs which have risen from 10 cents a game in the last 40 years faces another increase in Kingston and across the country, if the new tax measure is enacted.

Price of bowling at the two major establishments in the city—Bowlatorium and Bowlodrome—now 35 cents a line would be upped to at least 42 cents. The tax would apply to games rolled on public alleys and those operated in semi-private clubs, private, organizational and club alleys.

The A.B.C. headed by its national secretary, Elmer H. Baumgarten of Milwaukee, appointed a committee which pleaded the case of the bowlers before the House Ways and Means Committee. Heading the group was John Canelli, the A.B.C.'s legal expert and first vice-president; Alberta Crowe of the Women's International Bowling Congress; A. L. Ebersole, secretary of the National Duckpin Congress; John Quan and Joseph Gubman representing the National Bowling Proprietors Association; and William C. Lawson, of the manufacturers.

• Operators Take Dim View:

Local operators like Sisto Ruzzo and John Ferraro and John Sangi believe such an increase would drasticaly reduce bowling and hamper any possibility for its future growth in Kingston.

In taking a strong stand against the proposed legislation, Secretary Baumgarten pointed out that the national bowling volume, particularly open bowling, suffered a substantial drop in 1950 because of rising costs and adds:

Many bowlers cannot and will not continue to bowl in the face of this terrific increase."

"The proposed tax would be unprecedented on the participant of any particular recreation or sport in direct conflict with the settled policy of the federal government to foster and encourage the general public to keep physically fit," Baumgarten continued.

He then went on to say:

"Many establishments will have to close if the bowling volume is reduced much further. With these failures and the general reduction of business in other establishments as a result of this increase, the proposed tax also would fall short of expectations as a revenue producer.

"Bowling proprietors already pay a yearly tax on each alley bed ($20) and this tax as well as various manufacturers' taxes on the materials and equipment needed to operate the alleys are, of course, passed along to and absorbed by the bowlers.

"If the government collapses the bowling industry by this tax, it will destroy a physical fitness program which was essential to our industrial workers and home front civilians during World War 2."

• An Unprecedented Tax:

Canelli told the House committee:

"The American Bowling Congress objects to and opposes the proposed 20 per cent tax on the use of bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables, the imposition of which would be an outright tax on 16 million bowlers on what has long been recognized as their necessary physical recreation activities. The proposed tax is the difference between taxing the participant in a recreation or sport instead of taxing the spectator who is being entertained or amused.

"Bowling is not a luxury, nor can this proposed tax be in any manner construed as a tax on a luxury article. Bowling is not an amusement. It is a participant recreation, providing valuable and necessary physical recreation for these millions of Americans.

"Bowlers come from all walks of life. Fifteen per cent of the A.B.C. membership bowl in church, Sunday school and Y.M.C.A. leagues.

• This Is a Poor Man's Game:

"And above all," Canelli continued, "bowling is the poor man's sport," and the income chart submitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Snyder, shows that 83 per cent of the taxpayers of the country earned less than $5,000.00 a year. A few years ago the U. S. Department of Commerce issued a report showing that 77 per cent of the wage earners of the country were in the less than $3,000 bracket.

"The proposed tax is discriminatory and grossly unfair, in that it is an unprecedented tax on the participants in a particular recreation and sport. Bowling is the greatest participant sports and the participants, most of them, come from the lower income groups with strictly limited amounts of money to spend for recreation. In fact it is the only sport available to millions who, because of some physical disability, advanced age or other causes are unable to take part in any other participating recreational sport.

"It is obvious what will happen if the cost of bowling is increased 20 per cent by the addition of the proposed tax."

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Al Ulmer and Tommy Aycock were reestablished today as favorites in the national seniors best ball golf tournament. Ulmer, senior individual champion, and Aycock, onetime intercollegiate champion, both of Jacksonville, Fla., easily beat Dr. E. G. Brittain and Augustus Duryea of Somerville, N. Y., 6 and 5, in yesterday's first round of match play.

Seeks Middleweight Bout

New York, March 22 (AP)—Veteran Chuck Hunter, who passed up a more lucrative London fight in order to look good on television, was searching for a shot today "with any middleweight." The experienced, 25-year-old Cleveland Negro came out fine in his T.V. showing via C.B.S., with a decisive ten-round victory over Jimmy Beau, the 21-year-old contender from New Canaan, Conn., in St. Nicholas arena last night. Beau weighed 165 to Hunter's 165¾.

New York, March 22 (AP)—It may have escaped general attention in recent weeks, but major league baseball players regularly are being called into the armed services.

Yesterday's induction at Kansas City of Preston Ward, Chicago Cubs first baseman, pointed up that since last September, some 44 players either have or soon will don Uncle Sam's uniform.

The Kansas City induction center said there was a slight deformity of Ward's elbow, but not enough to disqualify him for army service.

Paul Petitt, the 19-year-old, $100,000 bonus pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, received notice yesterday to report to Los Angeles March 30 for his physical examination.

Ward's induction makes a total of 23 National Leaguers in the service. The American League has 21.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Branch Rickey and his Pittsburgh Pirates are going into the movies. Not for a mere spot of documentary filming, nor for a few flickers in a newsreel, but as real actors in a full length feature. Shrewd observers figure the transition from baseball to histrionics shouldn't be too difficult for the Pirates. They cite some of the club's performances last year which had high drama, thrills, pathos—yes comedy too. The Pirates may not win the National League pennant this year, but who's to say they'll not cop an Oscar? Actually it is reasoned, this should be a golden chance for the Pirates to escape the blight which often afflicts last place ball teams—an inferiority complex.

Aces Cop 'B' Title With 68-51 Victory Over Esopus Firemen

Farley, Smith High With 18, 17 Points

The Newkirk Aces, coming back strong after trailing at halftime, clinched the championship of the Y.M.C.A. "B" Basketball League Wednesday night when they turned back the stubborn Esopus Firemen by 68 to 51 in the third game of their post-season Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Aces drew first blood in the playoffs with a 74 to 62 victory over the Firemen but Esopus evened the series in the second game with a 72 to 42 triumph.

Charlie Farley and Paul Smith emerged as the top point scorers for Newkirks last night in a game which was described by Lou Schafer as one of the best played "B" League contests of the entire season.

Farley sparked his club with 18 points while Smith followed with 17. Harold Hutton also hit the double figure for the Aces with 13 markers.

Dick Mains, with his 17 points, was the big gun for the Firemen in a losing cause. R. Berger followed with 14 and Jim Ferraro flipped in 11.

Both clubs opened the game with a zone defense and played cautious basketball. The Aces held a 19-14 edge at the first quarter mark.

Holding the Aces to eight points, the Firemen enjoyed their only quarter lead of the game as they led 33 to 27 at halftime. R. Berger paced the Firemen with seven points in this period while Mains followed with six.

Aces Take Over

With Hutton and Farley showing the way with five and four points respectively, the Aces regained their lead in the third canto and led at the bell by 45 to 39. The Firemen, after threatening to move away from their foes in the midway period, failed to register a point in the first six and a half minutes of play in the third period.

Newkirks opened up in the final period and enjoyed their best point spread of the battle as they swished the cords for 23 points to the Firemen's 12 and won the game going away by the final count of 68 to 51.

Both the Aces and Firemen will receive trophies for their first and second place finish.

West Camp Triumphs

An experienced West Camp quintet scored a 77 to 53 victory over the Yellow Jackets in last night's prelim on the Y boards.

Joe Erceg led the winners with 26 points. DeCicco and Morrisey were high for the losers with 17 and 16 respectively.

Mid-West Five Meets N.C. State Tonight

New York, March 22 (AP)—You can't blame Illinois' basketball team if it happens to look over the head of North Carolina State in the eastern NCAA semi-finals tonight and throws a few anxious glances in the direction of Kentucky.

Two times in the past the Illini have gone into the NCAA tournament with lofty hopes only to have them shattered by the Wildcats from Lexington. In 1942 Kentucky stopped the big ten team, 46-44. In 1949 it happened again, only worse—76-47.

If tonight's games at Madison Square Garden follow form, Illinois will find Kentucky barring its path again in Saturday's eastern finals. However, this time Coach Harry Combes' dashing sophomores may get even.

Illinois' game with N.C. State opens its program at 7:45 p. m. (EST), to be followed by the game between Kentucky, ranked No. 1 nationally, and St. John's of Brooklyn.

An almost perfect blend of senior and sophomore talent has made the Illini a real threat for the NCAA championship.

"Our sophomores are fortunate in having two seniors like Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage to play with," Combes said. "At the same time, Beach and Sunderlage are fortunate to be able to play with such fine sophomores."

Three first-year varsity men—Clive Follmer, Irv Bemoras and Bob Peterson— are in the starting lineup of this big ten championship team.

The western NCAA at Kansas City will complete its semi-final bracket tonight, with Oklahoma A. and M. Playing Montana State at 9 p. m. (EST) and Washington meeting Texas A. and M. in the second game.

Last night, Kansas State and Brigham Young reached the western semi-finals. Kansas State nosed out Arizona, 61-59, and Brigham Young beat San Jose State, 68-61.

Mid-West Five Meets N.C. State Tonight

New York, March 22 (AP)—You can't blame Illinois' basketball team if it happens to look over the head of North Carolina State in the eastern NCAA semi-finals tonight and throws a few anxious glances in the direction of Kentucky.

Two times in the past the Illini have gone into the NCAA tournament with lofty hopes only to have them shattered by the Wildcats from Lexington. In 1942 Kentucky stopped the big ten team, 46-44. In 1949 it happened again, only worse—76-47.

If tonight's games at Madison Square Garden follow form, Illinois will find Kentucky barring its path again in Saturday's eastern finals. However, this time Coach Harry Combes' dashing sophomores may get even.

Illinois' game with N.C. State opens its program at 7:45 p. m. (EST), to be followed by the game between Kentucky, ranked No. 1 nationally, and St. John's of Brooklyn.

An almost perfect blend of senior and sophomore talent has made the Illini a real threat for the NCAA championship.

"Our sophomores are fortunate in having two seniors like Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage to play with," Combes said. "At the same time, Beach and Sunderlage are fortunate to be able to play with such fine sophomores."

Three first-year varsity men—Clive Follmer, Irv Bemoras and Bob Peterson— are in the starting lineup of this big ten championship team.

The western NCAA at Kansas City will complete its semi-final bracket tonight, with Oklahoma A. and M. Playing Montana State at 9 p. m. (EST) and Washington meeting Texas A. and M. in the second game.

Last night, Kansas State and Brigham Young reached the western semi-finals. Kansas State nosed out Arizona, 61-59, and Brigham Young beat San Jose State, 68-61.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Giants Add Jorgy

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Johnny Jorgensen, one-time Brooklyn third baseman, will fill in as utility outfielder and pinch-hitter for the New York Giants this season.

The Giants purchased the 30-year-old veteran yesterday from their Minneapolis farm club in the American Association. A line drive hitter, Jorgensen helped spark Brooklyn to the 1947 pennant and New York followers are hoping he'll do the same for the Giants this summer.

Brooks Shift Players

Miami, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who play a good portion of their spring training games under the lights, will ship a team of question marks to Vero Beach for some sunlight workouts.

"We just cannot look at all our players when we play at night," said Acting-Manager Clyde Sukeforth. "So we're going to send some of the boys to Vero Beach to give them a chance to show what they've got."

The daylight team, which includes Rex Barney, Tommy Brown, Bobby Morgan and George Shuba, will be managed by John Corriden, former White Sox skipper.

Yanks Name Lopat

Sacramento, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The New York Yankees, in the midst of a threee-game losing streak, play Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League today. Ed Lopat, the crafty lefthander, will try to end the Yanks' losing streak.

Hollywood, also of the PCL, whipped the Yanks, 4-3, yesterday on Ed Sauer's 10th inning home run.

Bosox Plan Cuts

Sarasota, Fla., March 22 (AP)—It's getting near cutdown time for the Boston Red Sox and soon the boys who can't make it will begin traveling back to the minors.

General Manager Joe Cronin, Manager Steve O'Neill and Chief Scout Ted McGrew have been huddling here of late and participated in a lengthy meeting yesterday.

The Sox will play the Washington Senators here today with righthander Ellis Kinder listed as the starting pitcher. Kinder was rained out of a chance to start yesterday. Flu has kept him from the firing line on other occasions.

Minner Pleases Frisch

Los Angeles, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs face the Cleveland Indians—their first major league opponent in a week—in Wrigley Field today with Paul Minner and Bob Rush slated to meet the Tribe's ace, Bob Lemon.

Manager Frankie Frisch has considerable praise for Minner, who, with Rush, has made three mound appearances thus far.

"Minner looks like an entirely different pitcher as compared with the erratic Minner of 1950," said Frisch.

Rush has not been as effective thus far but has been working hard and is expected to start the season in fine shape.

Shortstop Roy Smalley was among those left on Catalina Island. He is being treated for a virus infection.

Phils After Second

Sarasota, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies were out to make it two straight over the Brooklyn Dodgers in Miami's new stadium tonight.

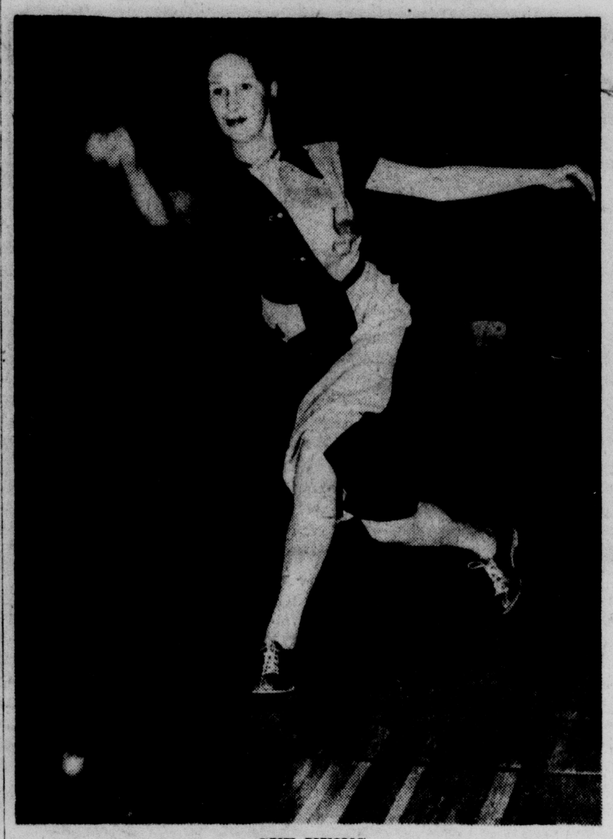
The National League champions, here for three night games, defeated the Dodgers 5-3 last night behind Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty.

After tonight's game the Dodgers will be replaced by the St. Louis Cardinals as the Phils opponents in a night game tomorrow.

Los Angeles, March 22 (AP)—Cleveland's new manager, Al Lopez, doesn't act at all like a man stuck with an overrated ball club.

Regarding the team's poor showing in competition so far, he says: "We've been trying all kinds of combinations. When we get our regular team in there, you'll see an entirely different brand of ball."

Set New Women's Record



SUE HEINS

Sue Heins, bowling in the Women's Major League at the Bowlodrome Monday night, established a new all-time Kingston high single record of 289 for women bowlers. The mark eclipsed the former high of 279 rolled by Dot Flemings in a summer mixed league three years ago. Miss Heins, who is rated one of the city's top keglerettes of the future, finished with a 683 triple on other scores of 212 and 182, the third highest series ever rolled in Kingston. The all-time triple record is held by Mrs. Rose Schatzel with 697. Miss Heins carved herself 13 straight strikes during her spree Monday night. (Freeman Photo)

Bowling

Veteran Randy Kelder, the Clinton avenue merchant, stacked hefty blasts of 214-199-242 for a brisk 655 triple to spark the Central Rec Major League trundlers at the Central Rec alleys on Wednesday night.

Kelder's top effort was one of three 600s compiled by the loop keglers. Harold Broskie and Lew Hymes tied for runnerup honors with even triples of 608.

Broskie fired 210-230-168 for his 608 while Hymes turned in the hat trick with 201-204-203.

Sandwiching in a 222 around games of 170 and 199, George "Curly" Flemings shot 591 while Larry Weishaupt posted 201-593.

Also of note were Ernie Bartroff with 222-583; Steve Fassbender 236-582 and H. Myers 222-580.

Ken Williams' 244 blast was the top single turned in during the night's activity.

Jim Noble just managed to climb over the 600 mark with a 601 to lead the C.Y.O. League Wednesday night at the Bowlodrome.

Noble tossed games of 211-176-214 for the league's top effort.

D. Clausi followed with 203-218 for 575; Johnny Zeeh 567; Gerry Kearney 201-560; Joe Bruck 556; Ed Norton 242-532; Ed Auclair 223-508; Joe Watzka 523; C. Maurer 532 and Joe Mahar 213-505.

A familiar name to local bowling followers a few years who has been making a rapid comeback in the Colonial Women's League this season co-starred for top honors after Wednesday night's kegling.

She's Grace Wojciechowski, the former Miss Grace Sabo, the gal with the fire ball.

Mrs. Wojciechowski and Rose Rhymer tied for top honors with 534 triples in a low scoring lession of the loop. The former posted a string of 190-182-162 while Rose Rhymer fired 167-187-180.

Holding down the third post was Carrie Mohr who hit 522. Charlotte Lapine rolled 507, Tess Moss 503 and Eleanor Singer 503 for the only other 500s in the league.

Evelyn Gross hit 497; Sue Heins, although tapering off somewhat from her great 683 series Monday night, still shot well with 492; Marie Kelekian 482; Betty Helmbold 484; G. Whitmore 479; Dot Flemings 479; Mary Bonacci 475; Reta Frederick 473 and Rose Schatzel 473.

A couple of neat 500s topped the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's session last night at the Bowlatorium.

Sue Healy rolled 478; Ada Pugliese 472; Angeline Brocco 468; Sally Kuehn 462.

T. Hasbrouck topped the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with a 471 triple on games of 140-174-157.

Kay Roosa was in the runnerup position with 439; D. LaRocca 437; V. Janeczek 422; F. Davis 408; T. Van Aken 404; R. Amarella 401 and E. Houghtaling 400 finished the top scores.

Gulf Coast Play Opens

Gulfport, Miss., March 22 (AP)—Defending Champions Jack Jones and Dale Morey lead a 160-man field teeing off today in the opening round of the fifth annual Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament. Jones was top pro in last year's 54-hole event with a 209, while Morey took the amateur section with a 211. Jones was scheduled to tee off in a trio including 1948 champion Scudday Horner of Montgomery, Ala., and Jake Fondren of Memphis, Tenn., both pros.

Giraffes have eyes which allow them to see behind and to the sides without turning their heads.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Giants Add Jorgy

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Johnny Jorgensen, one-time Brooklyn third baseman, will fill in as utility outfielder and pinch-hitter for the New York Giants this season.

The Giants purchased the 30-year-old veteran yesterday from their Minneapolis farm club in the American Association. A line drive hitter, Jorgensen helped spark Brooklyn to the 1947 pennant and New York followers are hoping he'll do the same for the Giants this summer.

Brooks Shift Players

Miami, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who play a good portion of their spring training games under the lights, will ship a team of question marks to Vero Beach for some sunlight workouts.

"We just cannot look at all our players when we play at night," said Acting-Manager Clyde Sukeforth. "So we're going to send some of the boys to Vero Beach to give them a chance to show what they've got."

The daylight team, which includes Rex Barney, Tommy Brown, Bobby Morgan and George Shuba, will be managed by John Corriden, former White Sox skipper.

Yanks Name Lopat

Sacramento, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The New York Yankees, in the midst of a threee-game losing streak, play Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League today. Ed Lopat, the crafty lefthander, will try to end the Yanks' losing streak.

Hollywood, also of the PCL, whipped the Yanks, 4-3, yesterday on Ed Sauer's 10th inning home run.

Bosox Plan Cuts

Sarasota, Fla., March 22 (AP)—It's getting near cutdown time for the Boston Red Sox and soon the boys who can't make it will begin traveling back to the minors.

General Manager Joe Cronin, Manager Steve O'Neill and Chief Scout Ted McGrew have been huddling here of late and participated in a lengthy meeting yesterday.

The Sox will play the Washington Senators here today with righthander Ellis Kinder listed as the starting pitcher. Kinder was rained out of a chance to start yesterday. Flu has kept him from the firing line on other occasions.

Minner Pleases Frisch

Los Angeles, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs face the Cleveland Indians—their first major league opponent in a week—in Wrigley Field today with Paul Minner and Bob Rush slated to meet the Tribe's ace, Bob Lemon.

Manager Frankie Frisch has considerable praise for Minner, who, with Rush, has made three mound appearances thus far.

"Minner looks like an entirely different pitcher as compared with the erratic Minner of 1950," said Frisch.

Rush has not been as effective thus far but has been working hard and is expected to start the season in fine shape.

Shortstop Roy Smalley was among those left on Catalina Island. He is being treated for a virus infection.

Phils After Second

Sarasota, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies were out to make it two straight over the Brooklyn Dodgers in Miami's new stadium tonight.

The National League champions, here for three night games, defeated the Dodgers 5-3 last night behind Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty.

After tonight's game the Dodgers will be replaced by the St. Louis Cardinals as the Phils opponents in a night game tomorrow.

Los Angeles, March 22 (AP)—Cleveland's new manager, Al Lopez, doesn't act at all like a man stuck with an overrated ball club.

Regarding the team's poor showing in competition so far, he says: "We've been trying all kinds of combinations. When we get our regular team in there, you'll see an entirely different brand of ball."

Set New Women's Record

SUE HEINS

Sue Heins, bowling in the Women's Major League at the Bowlodrome Monday night, established a new all-time Kingston high single record of 289 for women bowlers. The mark eclipsed the former high of 279 rolled by Dot Flemings in a summer mixed league three years ago. Miss Heins, who is rated one of the city's top keglerettes of the future, finished with a 683 triple on other scores of 212 and 182, the third highest series ever rolled in Kingston. The all-time triple record is held by Mrs. Rose Schatzel with 697. Miss Heins carved herself 13 straight strikes during her spree Monday night. (Freeman Photo)

Bowling

Veteran Randy Kelder, the Clinton avenue merchant, stacked hefty blasts of 214-199-242 for a brisk 655 triple to spark the Central Rec Major League trundlers at the Central Rec alleys on Wednesday night.

Kelder's top effort was one of three 600s compiled by the loop keglers. Harold Broskie and Lew Hymes tied for runnerup honors with even triples of 608.

Broskie fired 210-230-168 for his 608 while Hymes turned in the hat trick with 201-204-203.

Sandwiching in a 222 around games of 170 and 199, George "Curly" Flemings shot 591 while Larry Weishaupt posted 201-593.

Also of note were Ernie Bartroff with 222-583; Steve Fassbender 236-582 and H. Myers 222-580.

Ken Williams' 244 blast was the top single turned in during the night's activity.

Jim Noble just managed to climb over the 600 mark with a 601 to lead the C.Y.O. League Wednesday night at the Bowlodrome.

Noble tossed games of 211-176-214 for the league's top effort.

D. Clausi followed with 203-218 for 575; Johnny Zeeh 567; Gerry Kearney 201-560; Joe Bruck 556; Ed Norton 242-532; Ed Auclair 223-508; Joe Watzka 523; C. Maurer 532 and Joe Mahar 213-505.

A familiar name to local bowling followers a few years who has been making a rapid comeback in the Colonial Women's League this season co-starred for top honors after Wednesday night's kegling.

She's Grace Wojciechowski, the former Miss Grace Sabo, the gal with the fire ball.

Mrs. Wojciechowski and Rose Rhymer tied for top honors with 534 triples in a low scoring lession of the loop. The former posted a string of 190-182-162 while Rose Rhymer fired 167-187-180.

Holding down the third post was Carrie Mohr who hit 522. Charlotte Lapine rolled 507, Tess Moss 503 and Eleanor Singer 503 for the only other 500s in the league.

Evelyn Gross hit 497; Sue Heins, although tapering off somewhat from her great 683 series Monday night, still shot well with 492; Marie Kelekian 482; Betty Helmbold 484; G. Whitmore 479; Dot Flemings 479; Mary Bonacci 475; Reta Frederick 473 and Rose Schatzel 473.

A couple of neat 500s topped the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's session last night at the Bowlatorium.

Sue Healy rolled 478; Ada Pugliese 472; Angeline Brocco 468; Sally Kuehn 462.

T. Hasbrouck topped the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with a 471 triple on games of 140-174-157.

Kay Roosa was in the runnerup position with 439; D. LaRocca 437; V. Janeczek 422; F. Davis 408; T. Van Aken 404; R. Amarella 401 and E. Houghtaling 400 finished the top scores.

"Minner looks like an entirely different pitcher as compared with the erratic Minner of 1950," said Frisch.

Rush has not been as effective thus far but has been working hard and is expected to start the season in fine shape.

Shortstop Roy Smalley was among those left on Catalina Island. He is being treated for a virus infection.

Phils After Second

Sarasota, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies were out to make it two straight over the Brooklyn Dodgers in Miami's new stadium tonight.

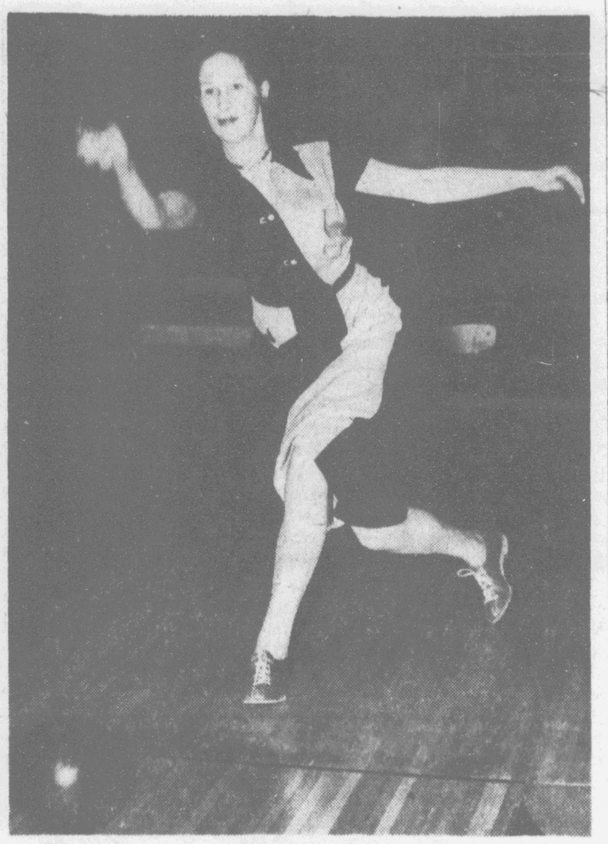
The National League champions, here for three night games, defeated the Dodgers 5-3 last night behind Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty.

After tonight's game the Dodgers will be replaced by the St. Louis Cardinals as the Phils opponents in a night game tomorrow.

Los Angeles, March 22 (AP)—Cleveland's new manager, Al Lopez, doesn't act at all like a man stuck with an overrated ball club.

Regarding the team's poor showing in competition so far, he says: "We've been trying all kinds of combinations. When we get our regular team in there, you'll see an entirely different brand of ball."

Set New Women's Record



SUE HEINS

Sue Heins, bowling in the Women's Major League at the Bowlodrome Monday night, established a new all-time Kingston high single record of 289 for women bowlers. The mark eclipsed the former high of 279 rolled by Dot Flemings in a summer mixed league three years ago. Miss Heins, who is rated one of the city's top keglerettes of the future, finished with a 683 triple on other scores of 212 and 182, the third highest series ever rolled in Kingston. The all-time triple record is held by Mrs. Rose Schatzel with 697. Miss Heins carved herself 13 straight strikes during her spree Monday night. (Freeman Photo)

Bowling

Veteran Randy Kelder, the Clinton avenue merchant, stacked hefty blasts of 214-199-242 for a brisk 655 triple to spark the Central Rec Major League trundlers at the Central Rec alleys on Wednesday night.

Kelder's top effort was one of three 600s compiled by the loop keglers. Harold Broskie and Lew Hymes tied for runnerup honors with even triples of 608.

Broskie fired 210-230-168 for his 608 while Hymes turned in the hat trick with 201-204-203.

Sandwiching in a 222 around games of 170 and 199, George "Curly" Flemings shot 591 while Larry Weishaupt posted 201-593.

Also of note were Ernie Bartroff with 222-583; Steve Fassbender 236-582 and H. Myers 222-580.

Ken Williams' 244 blast was the top single turned in during the night's activity.

Jim Noble just managed to climb over the 600 mark with a 601 to lead the C.Y.O. League Wednesday night at the Bowlodrome.

Noble tossed games of 211-176-214 for the league's top effort.

D. Clausi followed with 203-218 for 575; Johnny Zeeh 567; Gerry Kearney 201-560; Joe Bruck 556; Ed Norton 242-532; Ed Auclair 223-508; Joe Watzka 523; C. Maurer 532 and Joe Mahar 213-505.

A familiar name to local bowling followers a few years who has been making a rapid comeback in the Colonial Women's League this season co-starred for top honors after Wednesday night's kegling.

She's Grace Wojciechowski, the former Miss Grace Sabo, the gal with the fire ball.

Mrs. Wojciechowski and Rose Rhymer tied for top honors with 534 triples in a low scoring lession of the loop. The former posted a string of 190-182-162 while Rose Rhymer fired 167-187-180.

Holding down the third post was Carrie Mohr who hit 522. Charlotte Lapine rolled 507, Tess Moss 503 and Eleanor Singer 503 for the only other 500s in the league.

Evelyn Gross hit 497; Sue Heins, although tapering off somewhat from her great 683 series Monday night, still shot well with 492; Marie Kelekian 482; Betty Helmbold 484; G. Whitmore 479; D. Flemings 479; Mary Bonacci 475; Reta Frederick 473 and Rose Schatzel 473.

A couple of neat 500s topped the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's session last night at the Bowlatorium.

Sue Healy rolled 478; Ada Pugliese 472; Angeline Brocco 468; Sally Kuehn 462.

T. Hasbrouck topped the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with a 471 triple on games of 140-174-157.

Kay Roosa was in the runnerup position with 439; D. LaRocca 437; V. Janeczek 422; F. Davis 408; T. Van Aken 404; R. Amarella 401 and E. Houghtaling 400 finished the top scores.

Gulf Coast Play Opens

Gulfport, Miss., March 22 (AP)—Defending Champions Jack Jones and Dale Morey lead a 160-man field teeing off today in the opening round of the fifth annual Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament. Jones was top pro in last year's 54-hole event with a 209, while Morey took the amateur section with a 211. Jones was scheduled to tee off in a trio including 1948 champion Scudday Horner of Montgomery, Ala., and Jake Fondren of Memphis, Tenn., both pros.

Ex Admits Marriage

Cincinnati, March 22 (AP)—Heavyweight Boxing Champion Ezzard Charles finally admitted last night that he is married. But that was only half of it—he also is a father. Charles, who had denied several times recently that he was married, said he and the former Miss Gladys Gartrell were married Dec. 30, 1949. He said their baby girl was born Feb. 13 at New Kensington, Pa. The attractive Mrs. Charles and the baby are at her home in suburban Madisonville. Last night she declined to see newsmen.

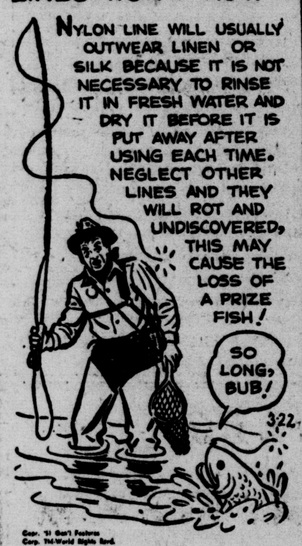
NYLON FISHING LINES WON'T ROT!



MODENA

Modena, March 21—Easter Sunrise services will be held in the Modena Methodist Church, Sunday at 6 a. m., followed by breakfast in Hasbrouck Memorial hall, sponsored by the Youth Fellowship unit and their parents. Morning worship in both Clintondale and Modena Methodist Churches will be held at the regular hours.

The regular meeting of the Plattekill Town Board was held Tuesday evening in the Town Building. It was postponed from Wednesday evening, March 14, due to the death of Superintendent of Highways Louis Rhodes. Burton Ward will be in charge of highway work, Supervisor Eber Coy says, until an appointment is made at the next regular meeting of the board, on Wednesday evening, April 11. Ransel J. Wager, gave his resignation as constable of the town, after serving in that capacity over a period of 21 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick, Jr., of Accord were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Schedinger.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen will spend the Easter holidays with relatives in New Jersey and Long Island.

Visitors of Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter during the past week were Mrs. Solie Bernard of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Bessie Gerow of New Paltz, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Davis of Centerville, Mrs. Myron Shultis and Mrs. Harold West of Modena.

Mrs. Dietz and daughter Miss Nettie Deitz of New York, called on friends here while en route to their summer home in Woodstock, for the holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schedinger were recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heitreiter at New Paltz, Julius Ludwig at Kerhonkson and Mrs. Myron Shultis here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker have returned from their wedding trip to Florida and points south, and visited Mrs. Schoonmaker's parents Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt, Sr. and family Sunday.

ESOPUS

Esopus, March 22—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fowler visited their daughter and family in Kingston Tuesday.

U. S. Authorities Protest to Soviets

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—U. S. authorities formally protested to the Russians today against "attacks by German nationals" on American military trains crossing Soviet-occupied East Germany to Berlin.

The six incidents complained of, as outlined in a letter from Deputy U. S. High Commissioner Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, ranged from a bullet shot into a train coach to demonstrations by groups of east zone Germans singing anti-American songs and throwing propaganda leaflets aboard trains.

The incidents, Hays said to his Russian counterpart, I. Semitschastnov, occurred between March 1 and 14.

Welcomes New Manager

Robert W. Case, a theatre man with 32 years experience, is welcomed by Harry Lamont, president of the organization that operates Sunset Drive-in on Route 28, as new manager. (Freeman Photo)

Sunset Drive Will Open on Saturday

Sunset Drive-In Theatre on Route 28 will open its season Saturday, according to Robert W. Case, manager, who today announced the pictures for screening up to next Wednesday.

Case, who has been identified with the theatre business for 32 years, the last eight in Kingston, said the gates of the Sunset would open at 6:15 p. m., and starting time of the show is 6:45.

He has taken over the Sunset in preference to a transfer offered by the Reade interests that would remove him to a chain of their theatres in New Jersey.

The usual refreshment concessions will be in operation for early arrivals and during the intermission periods.

Saturday's features are Devil's Doorway starring Robert Taylor and Please Believe Me with Robert Walker, also two cartoons.

Manager Case said the spring snow early this morning offered no hindrance to opening plans, and announced that final tests on equipment revealed everything in order.

Over the period of eight years he acted as manager for Walter Reade interests in Kingston and this area Case established a wide acquaintanceship and became one of the civic leaders of the community.

One of the propects in which he became vitally interested was the Broadway crossing, and as president of the Central Business Men's Association he led a drive for the beginning of work on the job.

Case has been county chairman of the payroll savings part of the defense effort since its inception and has led the theatre drive in the county for the past eight years for the March of Dimes.

Relative to remaining in Kingston, instead of accepting the Reade transfer, Case said, "My heart is in this area, I have many friends here and I never want to leave." He told a reporter he intends to retain the presidency of the Central Business Men's Association, to which he has been re-elected several times, and to continue his interest in other civic projects.

Concerning winter employment, after the drive-in closes in the fall, Case said he had offers to manage theatres in Florida and probably would accept one of them.

Mrs. Pepper Dies

Kaman Deed Case Goes to Trial in Supreme Court

An action to set aside a deed which was executed last August transferring the property of Paul Kaman, Sr., at 95 First avenue, Kingston, to his grandson, Harold F. Ellsworth and his wife, was taken up for trial in Supreme Court this morning before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and a jury.

Plaintiff, who is 76 years old, claims he executed the deed and took a mortgage for $5,000 from Ellsworth with the understanding that he would be paid the $5,000 when Ellsworth secured a G.I. loan in a matter of three or four months and that the mortgage at 3½ per cent interest was a temporary mortgage to secure the plaintiff's interest in the property pending completion of the loan.

Plaintiff alleges he was to be paid $50 a month during this three or four months period and that there were to be payments on the mortgage of $35 a month made during its existence. He now seeks to have the deed set aside on the grounds the temporary period of the mortgage has expired and on the further grounds that certain other personal matters which he alleged the Ellsworths agreed to have not been carried out. Among them is possession of two rooms in the house for Kaman's use, the supplying of heat and other facilities.

He claims the deed was given in order that Ellsworth might have an equity in the premises for the purpose of securing the G.I. loan and that he expected, when the deed was given, to be fully paid the $5,000 when the loan was granted. He charges that since then he has been ordered from the place, has been forced to move to the home of his daughter and has never been paid the $5,000.

Defendants, Ellsworth and his wife, allege that the deed was given and the mortgage taken with a complete understanding between the parties and that at the time the deed was given they were on friendly terms. The defendants claim no advantage was taken of Kaman and further charge that the premises are not worth $5,000 but that testimony will be offered to show the value is only $4,000 and that Ellsworth has never dealt in property before and did not know the actual value of the premises when he took it.

The transaction of transferring the property was in the office of Judge Bernard A. Culloton, who appears for the defendants, Ellsworth. Chris J. Flanagan and Robert Ortale appear for the plaintiff, Kaman.

Rabbit Extermination

Sydney (AP)—A disease, encouraged by man and spread by mosquitoes, is killing off thousands of unwanted rabbits in Australia. The rabbit-killing disease is myxomatosis. Rabbits infected with the virus become blind and die of starvation.

The pelican airs its pouch by turning it inside out over its head.

Ez Admits Marriage

Cincinnati, March 22 (AP)—Heavyweight Boxing Champion Ezzard Charles finally admitted last night that he is married. But that was only half of it—he also is a father. Charles, who had denied several times recently that he was married, said he and the former Miss Gladys Gartrell were married Dec. 30, 1949. He said their baby girl was born Feb. 13 at New Kensington, Pa. The attractive Mrs. Charles and the baby are at her home in suburban Madisonville. Last night she declined to see newsmen.

Incubators were first used in Europe in 1777 A. D., but the Chinese and Egyptians practiced artificial incubation more than 2000 years ago.

U. S. Authorities Protest to Soviets

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—U. S. authorities formally protested to the Russians today against "attacks by German nationals" on American military trains crossing Soviet-occupied East Germany to Berlin.

The six incidents complained of, as outlined in a letter from Deputy U. S. High Commissioner Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, ranged from a bullet shot into a train coach to demonstrations by groups of east zone Germans singing anti-American songs and throwing propaganda leaflets aboard trains.

The incidents, Hays said to his Russian counterpart, I. Semitschastnov, occurred between March 1 and 14.

Welcomes New Manager

Robert W. Case, a theatre man with 32 years experience, is welcomed by Harry Lamont, president of the organization that operates Sunset Drive-in on Route 28, as new manager. (Freeman Photo)

Sunset Drive Will Open on Saturday

Sunset Drive-In Theatre on Route 28 will open its season Saturday, according to Robert W. Case, manager, who today announced the pictures for screening up to next Wednesday.

Case, who has been identified with the theatre business for 32 years, the last eight in Kingston, said the gates of the Sunset would open at 6:15 p. m., and starting time of the show is 6:45.

He has taken over the Sunset in preference to a transfer offered by the Reade interests that would remove him to a chain of their theatres in New Jersey.

The usual refreshment concessions will be in operation for early arrivals and during the intermission periods.

Saturday's features are Devil's Doorway starring Robert Taylor and Please Believe Me with Robert Walker, also two cartoons.

Manager Case said the spring snow early this morning offered no hindrance to opening plans, and announced that final tests on equipment revealed everything in order.

Over the period of eight years he acted as manager for Walter Reade interests in Kingston and this area Case established a wide acquaintanceship and became one of the civic leaders of the community.

One of the propects in which he became vitally interested was the Broadway crossing, and as president of the Central Business Men's Association he led a drive for the beginning of work on the job.

Case has been county chairman of the payroll savings part of the defense effort since its inception and has led the theatre drive in the county for the past eight years for the March of Dimes.

Relative to remaining in Kingston, instead of accepting the Reade transfer, Case said, "My heart is in this area, I have many friends here and I never want to leave." He told a reporter he intends to retain the presidency of the Central Business Men's Association, to which he has been re-elected several times, and to continue his interest in other civic projects.

Concerning winter employment, after the drive-in closes in the fall, Case said he had offers to manage theatres in Florida and probably would accept one of them.

Mrs. Pepper Dies

Kaman Deed Case Goes to Trial in Supreme Court

An action to set aside a deed which was executed last August transferring the property of Paul Kaman, Sr., at 95 First avenue, Kingston, to his grandson, Harold F. Ellsworth and his wife, was taken up for trial in Supreme Court this morning before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and a jury.

Plaintiff, who is 76 years old, claims he executed the deed and took a mortgage for $5,000 from Ellsworth with the understanding that he would be paid the $5,000 when Ellsworth secured a G.I. loan in a matter of three or four months and that the mortgage at 3½ per cent interest was a temporary mortgage to secure the plaintiff's interest in the property pending completion of the loan.

Plaintiff alleges he was to be paid $50 a month during this three or four months period and that there were to be payments on the mortgage of $35 a month made during its existence. He now seeks to have the deed set aside on the grounds the temporary period of the mortgage has expired and on the further grounds that certain other personal matters which he alleged the Ellsworths agreed to have not been carried out. Among them is possession of two rooms in the house for Kaman's use, the supplying of heat and other facilities.

He claims the deed was given in order that Ellsworth might have an equity in the premises for the purpose of securing the G.I. loan and that he expected, when the deed was given, to be fully paid the $5,000 when the loan was granted. He charges that since then he has been ordered from the place, has been forced to move to the home of his daughter and has never been paid the $5,000.

Defendants, Ellsworth and his wife, allege that the deed was given and the mortgage taken with a complete understanding between the parties and that at the time the deed was given they were on friendly terms. The defendants claim no advantage was taken of Kaman and further charge that the premises are not worth $5,000 but that testimony will be offered to show the value is only $4,000 and that Ellsworth has never dealt in property before and did not know the actual value of the premises when he took it.

The transaction of transferring the property was in the office of Judge Bernard A. Culloton, who appears for the defendants, Ellsworth. Chris J. Flanagan and Robert Ortale appear for the plaintiff, Kaman.

Rabbit Extermination

Sydney (AP)—A disease, encouraged by man and spread by mosquitoes, is killing off thousands of unwanted rabbits in Australia. The rabbit-killing disease is myxomatosis. Rabbits infected with the virus become blind and die of starvation.

The pelican airs its pouch by turning it inside out over its head.

Ex Admits Marriage

Cincinnati, March 22 (AP)—Heavyweight Boxing Champion Ezzard Charles finally admitted last night that he is married. But that was only half of it—he also is a father. Charles, who had denied several times recently that he was married, said he and the former Miss Gladys Gartrell were married Dec. 30, 1949. He said their baby girl was born Feb. 13 at New Kensington, Pa. The attractive Mrs. Charles and the baby are at her home in suburban Madisonville. Last night she declined to see newsmen.

U. S. Authorities Protest to Soviets

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—U. S. authorities formally protested to the Russians today against "attacks by German nationals" on American military trains crossing Soviet-occupied East Germany to Berlin.

The six incidents complained of, as outlined in a letter from Deputy U. S. High Commissioner Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, ranged from a bullet shot into a train coach to demonstrations by groups of east zone Germans singing anti-American songs and throwing propaganda leaflets aboard trains.

The incidents, Hays said to his Russian counterpart, I. Semitschastnov, occurred between March 1 and 14.

WHITFIELD

Whitfield, March 22 — John Sartarious, Miss Inex Sartarious, and Mrs. William Whitten spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whitten at Cragsmoor.

Mrs. Ethel Gillespie is spending a week in Brooklyn with relatives.

Billy Springer of Greenville, S. C., was a guest at the Whitten home Monday evening. He is conducting services at the W.C.T.U. Memorial hall, Ellenville.

Mrs. Preston Hubbard of Connecticut, with her two sons, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. H. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Donaldson and daughter Gertrude, and Miss Shirley Schermerhorn of Kingston were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitten.

Miss Belle Marshall and Burton Marshall were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Marshall, Ellenville, on Saturday, in celebration of Mr. Marshall's 86th birthday.

Jacob DeWitt and Leonard Whitten spent the week-end at Cornell University, Ithaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood entertained house guests this week.

Welcomes New Manager

Robert W. Case, a theatre man with 32 years experience, is welcomed by Harry Lamont, president of the organization that operates Sunset Drive-in on Route 28, as new manager. (Freeman Photo)

Sunset Drive Will Open on Saturday

Sunset Drive-In Theatre on Route 28 will open its season Saturday, according to Robert W. Case, manager, who today announced the pictures for screening up to next Wednesday.

Case, who has been identified with the theatre business for 32 years, the last eight in Kingston, said the gates of the Sunset would open at 6:15 p. m., and starting time of the show is 6:45.

He has taken over the Sunset in preference to a transfer offered by the Reade interests that would remove him to a chain of their theatres in New Jersey.

The usual refreshment concessions will be in operation for early arrivals and during the intermission periods.

Saturday's features are Devil's Doorway starring Robert Taylor and Please Believe Me with Robert Walker, also two cartoons.

Manager Case said the spring snow early this morning offered no hindrance to opening plans, and announced that final tests on equipment revealed everything in order.

Over the period of eight years he acted as manager for Walter Reade interests in Kingston and this area Case established a wide acquaintanceship and became one of the civic leaders of the community.

One of the propects in which he became vitally interested was the Broadway crossing, and as president of the Central Business Men's Association he led a drive for the beginning of work on the job.

Case has been county chairman of the payroll savings part of the defense effort since its inception and has led the theatre drive in the county for the past eight years for the March of Dimes.

Relative to remaining in Kingston, instead of accepting the Reade transfer, Case said, "My heart is in this area, I have many friends here and I never want to leave." He told a reporter he intends to retain the presidency of the Central Business Men's Association, to which he has been re-elected several times, and to continue his interest in other civic projects.

Concerning winter employment, after the drive-in closes in the fall, Case said he had offers to manage theatres in Florida and probably would accept one of them.

Mrs. Pepper Dies

Kaman Deed Case Goes to Trial in Supreme Court

An action to set aside a deed which was executed last August transferring the property of Paul Kaman, Sr., at 95 First avenue, Kingston, to his grandson, Harold F. Ellsworth and his wife, was taken up for trial in Supreme Court this morning before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and a jury.

Plaintiff, who is 76 years old, claims he executed the deed and took a mortgage for $5,000 from Ellsworth with the understanding that he would be paid the $5,000 when Ellsworth secured a G.I. loan fn a matter of three or four months and that the mortgage at 3½ per cent interest was a temporary mortgage to secure the plaintiff's interest in the property pending completion of the loan.

Plaintiff alleges he was to be paid $50 a month during this three or four months period and that there were to be payments on the mortgage of $35 a month made during its existence. He now seeks to have the deed set aside on the grounds the temporary period of the mortgage has expired and on the further grounds that certain other personal matters which he alleged the Ellsworths agreed to have not been carried out. Among them is possession of two rooms in the house for Kaman's use, the supplying of heat and other facilities.

He claims the deed was given in order that Ellsworth might have an equity in the premises for the purpose of securing the G.I. loan and that he expected, when the deed was given, to be fully paid the $5,000 when the loan was granted. He charges that since then he has been ordered from the place, has been forced to move to the home of his daughter and has never been paid the $5,000.

Defendants, Ellsworth and his wife, allege that the deed was given and the mortgage taken with a complete understanding between the parties and that at the time the deed was given they were on friendly terms. The defendants claim no advantage was taken of Kaman and further charge that the premises are not worth $5,000 but that testimony will be offered to show the value is only $4,000 and that Ellsworth has never dealt in property before and did not know the actual value of the premises when he took it.

The transaction of transferring the property was in the office of Judge Bernard A. Culloton, who appears for the defendants, Ellsworth. Chris J. Flanagan and Robert Ortale appear for the plaintiff, Kaman.

Rabbit Extermination

Sydney (AP)—A disease, encouraged by man and spread by mosquitoes, is killing off thousands of unwanted rabbits in Australia. The rabbit-killing disease is myxomatosis. Rabbits infected with the virus become blind and die of starvation.

The pelican airs its pouch by turning it inside out over its head.

After Fox Bounty

Robert Metzger of the Spillway road was at the court house this morning to apply for the bounty which the county offers to all persons who kill a fox. Metzger said the fox ran in front of his automobile on the Onteora Trail near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre at 6:45 p. m. Wednesday. It was a red fox, believed to be a female. Bounties are offered by the county in an attempt to keep to a minimum its population of foxes, which are a menace to domestic animals, game and even humans especially during a rabies season.

Report Prowlers Get Confidential Files of the RFC

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Midnight prowlers were reported today to have gained access recently to confidential files of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

The files contain many confidential documents, some of them related closely to a Senate investigation of RFC affairs. Highly placed sources, declining to be named, told the story. Top officials of the big government lending agency were not immediately available for comment.

Qualified informants said it has not been determined whether any documents were stolen, but that the prowlers' visit explain the recent installation of special locks and a burglar alarm on the files.

A severed chain on a door leading to the file rooms gave evidence of the prowler's visit, they said. They did not date the incident.

Talk on New Name

Senators debated, meanwhile, whether the RFC needs a new name as well as a change in top management to restore it to public confidence. They are considering President Truman's proposal to replace the five RFC directors with a single administrator.

One of the present directors, Walter E. Cosgriff, conceded before the expenditures committee yesterday that a change in name may be advisable.

The agency, Cosgriff said, may recover "a degree" of the public confidence he says it has lost in a Senate Banking subcommittee's investigation of its affairs. But he added:

"The public may never hear of RFC again but what they think of a mink coat."

He referred to the stir which greeted recent disclosure that Mrs. E. Merl Young, White House stenographer, wears a $9,450 mink coat paid for by a Washington lawyer accused of wielding improper influence on RFC loans.

A Senate Banking subcommittee investigating RFC charged that the lawyer, Joseph H. Rosenbaum, and Young are members of an influence ring with White House contacts. Young said he has signed a note to repay Rosenbaum.

Sources who told of the files incident said the only item definitely known to be missing is a bank or building and loan association passbook owned by Mrs. Donald Dawson, who has charge of the files. Mrs. Dawson, asked about the reported disappearance, brushed aside questions with "no comment."

Mrs. Dawson is the wife of a White House aide also named by the subcommittee as having exerted pressure on RFC loans and lending policies.

Survivor Begins Life in New Home

Merritt Is Injured In Dashville Fall

James Merritt of 37 Clinton avenue suffered dislocations and fractures in a fall Wednesday afternoon at the Dashville Dam, where he is employed by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company, the company reported.

He was treated by Dr. Arthur W. Hazenbush, who reported that Merritt has been taken to Albany Hospital for further examination.

According to a company report, Merritt fell from the roof of the plant a distance of about 15 feet and landed on a concrete slab. The Dashville Dam is located near Rifton.

After Fox Bounty

Robert Metzger of the Spillway road was at the court house this morning to apply for the bounty which the county offers to all persons who kill a fox. Metzger said the fox ran in front of his automobile on the Onteora Trail near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre at 6:45 p. m. Wednesday. It was a red fox, believed to be a female. Bounties are offered by the county in an attempt to keep to a minimum its population of foxes, which are a menace to domestic animals, game and even humans especially during a rabies season.

Long Island is the largest island in continental United States with 1,723 square miles.

Report Prowlers Get Confidential Files of the RFC

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Midnight prowlers were reported today to have gained access recently to confidential files of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

The files contain many confidential documents, some of them related closely to a Senate investigation of RFC affairs. Highly placed sources, declining to be named, told the story. Top officials of the big government lending agency were not immediately available for comment.

Qualified informants said it has not been determined whether any documents were stolen, but that the prowlers' visit explain the recent installation of special locks and a burglar alarm on the files.

A severed chain on a door leading to the file rooms gave evidence of the prowler's visit, they said. They did not date the incident.

Talk on New Name

Senators debated, meanwhile, whether the RFC needs a new name as well as a change in top management to restore it to public confidence. They are considering President Truman's proposal to replace the five RFC directors with a single administrator.

One of the present directors, Walter E. Cosgriff, conceded before the expenditures committee yesterday that a change in name may be advisable.

The agency, Cosgriff said, may recover "a degree" of the public confidence he says it has lost in a Senate Banking subcommittee's investigation of its affairs. But he added:

"The public may never hear of RFC again but what they think of a mink coat."

He referred to the stir which greeted recent disclosure that Mrs. E. Merl Young, White House stenographer, wears a $9,450 mink coat paid for by a Washington lawyer accused of wielding improper influence on RFC loans.

A Senate Banking subcommittee investigating RFC charged that the lawyer, Joseph H. Rosenbaum, and Young are members of an influence ring with White House contacts. Young said he has signed a note to repay Rosenbaum.

Sources who told of the files incident said the only item definitely known to be missing is a bank or building and loan association passbook owned by Mrs. Donald Dawson, who has charge of the files. Mrs. Dawson, asked about the reported disappearance, brushed aside questions with "no comment."

Mrs. Dawson is the wife of a White House aide also named by the subcommittee as having exerted pressure on RFC loans and lending policies.

After Fox Bounty

Robert Metzger of the Spillway road was at the court house this morning to apply for the bounty which the county offers to all persons who kill a fox. Metzger said the fox ran in front of his automobile on the Onteora Trail near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre at 6:45 p. m. Wednesday. It was a red fox, believed to be a female. Bounties are offered by the county in an attempt to keep to a minimum its population of foxes, which are a menace to domestic animals, game and even humans especially during a rabies season.

Long Island is the largest island in continental United States with 1,723 square miles.

Report Prowlers Get Confidential Files of the RFC

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Midnight prowlers were reported today to have gained access recently to confidential files of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

The files contain many confidential documents, some of them related closely to a Senate investigation of RFC affairs. Highly placed sources, declining to be named, told the story. Top officials of the big government lending agency were not immediately available for comment.

Qualified informants said it has not been determined whether any documents were stolen, but that the prowlers' visit explain the recent installation of special locks and a burglar alarm on the files.

A severed chain on a door leading to the file rooms gave evidence of the prowler's visit, they said. They did not date the incident.

Talk on New Name

Senators debated, meanwhile, whether the RFC needs a new name as well as a change in top management to restore it to public confidence. They are considering President Truman's proposal to replace the five RFC directors with a single administrator.

One of the present directors, Walter E. Cosgriff, conceded before the expenditures committee yesterday that a change in name may be advisable.

The agency, Cosgriff said, may recover "a degree" of the public confidence he says it has lost in a Senate Banking subcommittee's investigation of its affairs. But he added:

"The public may never hear of RFC again but what they think of a mink coat."

He referred to the stir which greeted recent disclosure that Mrs. E. Merl Young, White House stenographer, wears a $9,450 mink coat paid for by a Washington lawyer accused of wielding improper influence on RFC loans.

A Senate Banking subcommittee investigating RFC charged that the lawyer, Joseph H. Rosenbaum, and Young are members of an influence ring with White House contacts. Young said he has signed a note to repay Rosenbaum.

Sources who told of the files incident said the only item definitely known to be missing is a bank or building and loan association passbook owned by Mrs. Donald Dawson, who has charge of the files. Mrs. Dawson, asked about the reported disappearance, brushed aside questions with "no comment."

Mrs. Dawson is the wife of a White House aide also named by the subcommittee as having exerted pressure on RFC loans and lending policies.

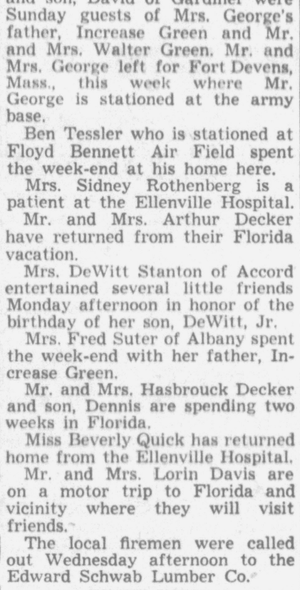
The Parks Story



Screen star Larry Parks opened the Washington hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee investigation on Communism in Hollywood by admitting that he was a member of the Communist party 10 years ago. He said he quit and was loyal to America. (NEA Telephoto).

Survivor Begins Life in New Home

Merritt Is Injured In Dashville Fall

James Merritt of 37 Clinton avenue suffered dislocations and fractures in a fall Wednesday afternoon at the Dashville Dam, where he is employed by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company, the company reported.

He was treated by Dr. Arthur W. Hazenbush, who reported that Merritt has been taken to Albany Hospital for further examination.

According to a company report, Merritt fell from the roof of the plant a distance of about 15 feet and landed on a concrete slab. The Dashville Dam is located near Rifton.

Tobey Suggests A-Bomb Be Used

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R.-N.H.) proposed facetiously today that some of the underworld characters who have appeared before the Senate Crime Committee be exposed to atomic bomb explosions at the Nevada testing grounds.

Tobey, a member of the committee, made the suggestion—which he himself termed facetious—in a television interview before the delayed opening of today's hearing.

He didn't say which of the underworld types he had in mind as bomb targets, but commented:

"I think the world wouln't miss them at all."

Just before that, Tobey had spoken in favor of deporting some of the foreign-born witnesses who have told the committee something about their gambling and other activities.

Today's committee session was delayed a half hour by some confusion over radio-TV facilities.

Every plant and animal on earth from microbe to man, would die of suffocation without oxygen.

The Weather

THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1951

Sun rises at 5:45 a. m.; sun sets at 5:59 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, clear.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 28 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 36 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Mostly fair, rather windy today, colder than yesterday; high in lower 40's. Fair and rather cold tonight, low about 28 in city, 20 to 25 in suburbs. Friday fair, becoming milder in afternoon; high in upper 40's. Strong northwest winds this morning, becoming moderate to fresh this afternoon. Moderate westerly tonight, becoming southwest Friday. Increasing to fresh to strong late in day.

WARMING UP

Eastern New York — Partly cloudy, windy; highest 30 to 35 today, clearing and colder tonight; low 15 to 20; Friday fair, warmer in afternoon.

Referees Bill Vetoed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey vetoed today a bill that would have permitted official referees of the State Supreme Court to remain in office beyond the age limit of 76. The bill would have limited such permission, by appellate divisions, until Jan. 1, 1955. Dewey said he vetoed the bill for the same reasons he rejected a similar measure last year. He said then that the bill was a "step backward toward the old law under which every judge who survived 70 became an official referee for life."

Snow Slows Traffic

A light fall of snow slowed traffic in some areas of the county on this second day of spring, but was not a general or extended hazard to travel. The snow melted fast in the city and the only traffic incident reported to the police came from Officers Carl Janasiewicz and Francis Fagan who said a large truck was stuck on the Broadway hill near Stuyvesant street at 4:40 a. m. They reported it "on its way" at 4:55 a. m., after using its own sand-spreading units.

Van Aken Lambs Stray

Five lambs are reported missing from the farm of Arthur Van Aken at Stone Ridge and may have strayed away. The loss was reported on Tuesday. All of the lambs were small, the oldest being about four weeks old. In the event the lambs are located it is requested Mr. Van Aken be notified.

Dies in Electric Chair

Jackson, Miss., March 22 (AP)—A former dairy herdsman, convicted of poisoning his granddaughter for her insurance, died in the state's portable electric chair early today. Dark-haired Houston Roberts protested his innocence. He was convicted of mixing poison with medicine being given five-year-old Mary Louise Hill. The state contended Roberts wanted to collect the child's insurance to finance a love affair. The 44-year-old slayer remained in a strait-jacket until a few minutes before the execution.

Forest Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Legislation giving the governor power to close state-owned forests whenever a fire hazard arose from any cause was signed by Governor Dewey today. Previous law gave the governor such power only when the fire hazard was caused by drouth.

One valet took care of 500 changes of dress in the wardrobe of King George V, of England.

Cigarettes Tax . . .

not acquiesced. It passed over the Thompson-cigarette case in a list put out today, insuring the question will stay unanswered for at least a couple more weeks.

If it "acquiesces," Thompson will be in the clear—at least for his 1947 income tax return—and the bureau may possibly follow up with a general ruling to guide other taxpayers over the country on which state cigarette taxes can be deducted.

If the bureau does not acquiesce—and it's a good bet it won't—the question will remain unsettled even in Thompson's case until a Circuit Court ruling is obtained, and maybe a U. S. Supreme Court ruling after that; cases often spend years going up the court ladder.

For individual taxpayers, permission to deduct state cigarette taxes wouldn't mean a lot in terms of a cash savings.

Take a single man who earns $10,000 a year, smokes two packs a day and pays a state tax of three cents a pack. His cigarette tax cost would be $21.90 a year, so he would claim a deduction in that amount. But his actual tax saving would be only $6.57, figuring his tax at a 30 per cent rate.

And that is assuming he itemizes his tax deduction instead of taking the standard deduction of ten per cent of income. Few taxpayers—fewer than one out of five—choose to itemize.

Referees Bill Vetoed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey vetoed today a bill that would have permitted official referees of the State Supreme Court to remain in office beyond the age limit of 76. The bill would have limited such permission, by appellate divisions, until Jan. 1, 1955. Dewey said he vetoed the bill for the same reasons he rejected a similar measure last year. He said then that the bill was a "step backward toward the old law under which every judge who survived 70 became an official referee for life."

Snow Slows Traffic

A light fall of snow slowed traffic in some areas of the county on this second day of spring, but was not a general or extended hazard to travel. The snow melted fast in the city and the only traffic incident reported to the police came from Officers Carl Janasiewicz and Francis Fagan who said a large truck was stuck on the Broadway hill near Stuyvesant street at 4:40 a. m. They reported it "on its way" at 4:55 a. m., after using its own sand-spreading units.

Van Aken Lambs Stray

Five lambs are reported missing from the farm of Arthur Van Aken at Stone Ridge and may have strayed away. The loss was reported on Tuesday. All of the lambs were small, the oldest being about four weeks old. In the event the lambs are located it is requested Mr. Van Aken be notified.

Dies in Electric Chair

Jackson, Miss., March 22 (AP)—A former dairy herdsman, convicted of poisoning his granddaughter for her insurance, died in the state's portable electric chair early today. Dark-haired Houston Roberts protested his innocence. He was convicted of mixing poison with medicine being given five-year-old Mary Louise Hill. The state contended Roberts wanted to collect the child's insurance to finance a love affair. The 44-year-old slayer remained in a strait-jacket until a few minutes before the execution.

Forest Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Legislation giving the governor power to close state-owned forests whenever a fire hazard arose from any cause was signed by Governor Dewey today. Previous law gave the governor such power only when the fire hazard was caused by drouth.

Cigarettes Tax . . .

not acquiesced. It passed over the Thompson-cigarette case in a list put out today, insuring the question will stay unanswered for at least a couple more weeks.

If it "acquiesces," Thompson will be in the clear—at least for his 1947 income tax return—and the bureau may possibly follow up with a general ruling to guide other taxpayers over the country on which state cigarette taxes can be deducted.

If the bureau does not acquiesce—and it's a good bet it won't—the question will remain unsettled even in Thompson's case until a Circuit Court ruling is obtained, and maybe a U. S. Supreme Court ruling after that; cases often spend years going up the court ladder.

For individual taxpayers, permission to deduct state cigarette taxes wouldn't mean a lot in terms of a cash savings.

Take a single man who earns $10,000 a year, smokes two packs a day and pays a state tax of three cents a pack. His cigarette tax cost would be $21.90 a year, so he would claim a deduction in that amount. But his actual tax saving would be only $6.57, figuring his tax at a 30 per cent rate.

And that is assuming he itemizes his tax deduction instead of taking the standard deduction of ten per cent of income. Few taxpayers—fewer than one out of five—choose to itemize.

THE TRADITIONAL MEAT FOR THE EASTER FEAST ! ! !

Hockless Lower Half Pound 63c
10 to 14-lb. Whole Hams Pound 65c
Desirable Butt Half Pound 69c
...These hams are cut from young pigs . . . the meat is delicately flavored and fragrant, and so tender! And in addition, part of the shank has been removed. . . . You pay for less bone when you buy a short shank ham at your Mohican. By no means compare this kind of ham with large stringy hams from old pigs.
